Proceedings of 15th International Conference on Electromechanics and Robotics "Zavalishin's Readings" Andrey Ronzhin, Vladislav Shishlakov, 2020-09-01 This book features selected papers presented at the 15th International Conference on Electromechanics and Robotics Zavalishin's Readings ER ZR 2020 held in Ufa, Russia, on 15-18 April 2020. The contributions, written by professionals, researchers, and students, cover topics in the field of automatic control systems, electromechanics, electric power engineering, and electrical engineering, mechatronics, robotics, automation, and vibration technologies. The Zavalishin's Readings conference was established as a tribute to the memory of Dmitry Aleksandrovich Zavalishin (1900-1968), a Russian scientist, corresponding member of the USSR Academy of Sciences, and founder of the school of valve energy converters based on electric machines and valve converters' energy. The first conference was organized by the Institute of Innovative Technologies in Electromechanics and Robotics at the Saint Petersburg State University of Aerospace Instrumentation in 2006.

Decontamination of Fresh and Minimally Processed Produce Vicente M. Gómez-López, 2012-05-01 Attempts to provide safer and higher quality fresh and minimally processed produce have given rise to a wide variety of decontamination methods, each of which has been extensively researched in recent years. Decontamination of Fresh and Minimally Processed Produce is the first book to provide a systematic view of the different types of decontaminants for fresh and minimally processed produce. By describing the different effects (microbiological, sensory, nutritional, and toxicological) of decontamination treatments, a team of internationally respected authors reveals not only the impact of decontaminants on food safety but also on microbial spoilage, vegetable physiology, sensory quality, nutritional and phytochemical content, and shelf life. Regulatory and toxicological issues are also addressed. The book first examines how produce becomes contaminated, the surface characteristics of produce related to bacterial attachment, biofilm formation, and resistance, and sublethal damage and its implications for decontamination. After reviewing how produce is washed and minimally processed the various decontamination methods are then explored in depth in terms of definition generation devices microbial inactivation mechanisms and effects on food safety Decontaminants covered include chlorine electrolyzed oxidizing water chlorine dioxide ozone hydrogen peroxide peroxyacetic acid essential oils and edible films and coatings Other decontamination methods addressed are biological strategies bacteriophages protective cultures bacteriocins and quorum sensing and physical methods mild heat continuous UV light ionizing radiation and various combinations of these methods through hurdle technology The book concludes with descriptions of post decontamination methods related to storage such as modified atmosphere packaging the cold chain and modeling tools for predicting microbial growth and inactivation The many methods and effects of decontamination are detailed enabling industry professionals to understand the available state of the art methods and select the most suitable approach for their purposes The book serves as a compendium of information for food researchers and students of pre and postharvest technology food microbiology and food technology in general The structure of the book allows easy comparisons among methods and searching information by microorganism produce and quality traits
