Semantics and Poetics of the Righteous and the Wicked in the Psalms Kevin Foth,2024-12-15 In Semantics and Poetics of the Righteous and the Wicked in the Psalms Kevin Foth delves into the nuanced roles of the righteous and the wicked and explores their significance beyond conventional moral prototypes The study argues that the figures of the righteous and the wicked should be considered as part of the conventions of Hebrew psalmody By leveraging insights from lexical semantics of the terms and throughout the Hebrew Bible the study broadens the understanding of these terms in their multifaceted uses within poetic contexts The analysis further employs narratological theories about character and characterization to elucidate how the contrast between the righteous and wicked functions within 18 individual psalms By focusing on the specific contexts within psalms and embracing poetic diversity this study enriches the understanding of how these figures contribute to the literary features and theological messages woven throughout the Book of Psalms The

Doherty,1906 Interpreting Proverbs 11:18-31, Psalm 73, and Ecclesiastes 9:1-12 in Light of, and as a Response to, Thai Buddhist Interpretations Kari Storstein Haug,2012-03-19 This book discusses how three Old Testament wisdom texts can be interpreted in light of and as a response to Thai Buddhist interpretations Its central aim is to explore a new method in Buddhist Christian dialogue that has three steps First Buddhists are asked to reflect on biblical texts second the texts are analyzed by placing Christian and Buddhist perspectives side by side and finally points of convergence and difference are established in order to provide a platform for further dialogue The study succeeds in demonstrating that the method explored is a fruitful approach to interreligious dialogue which takes interpretations of biblical texts by the religious other seriously and manages to both affirm commonalities and face religious difference Eerdmans Commentary on the Bible: First and Second Kings Roger Tones,2019-06-18 This extract from the Eerdmans Commentary on the Bible provides Tones introduction to and concise commentary on First and Second Kings The Eerdmans Commentary on the Bible presents in nontechnical language the best of modern scholarship on each book of the Bible including the Apocrypha Reader friendly commentary complements succinct summaries of each section of the text and will be valuable to scholars students and general readers Rather than attempt a verse by verse analysis these volumes work from larger sense units highlighting the place of each passage within the overarching biblical story Commentators focus on the genre of each text parable prophetic oracle legal code and so on interpreting within the historical and literary context The volumes also address major issues within each biblical book including the range of possible interpretations and refer readers to the best resources for further discussions

Exploring the Old Testament J. Gordon McConville, 2016-01-08 This critically informed and theologically sensitive introduction to the Prophets considers the often misunderstood prophetic books of the Old Testament including an exploration of their historical context their artful use of language and their place within the chorus of Old Testament voices

Persecution and Cosmic Conflict Joshua Caleb Hutchens, 2024-03-11 But just as then the child born as a result of the flesh persecuted the one born as a result of the Spirit so also now Gal 4 29 CSB Why do God's people suffer In Galatians Paul makes an argument from persecution for the authenticity of his gospel Persecution demonstrates that Paul and the Galatians belong to God and have believed in the divinely revealed gospel While Paul does not offer an explicit theodicy in Galatians his argument from persecution requires an implicit one Paul's theodicy can primarily be understood through his interpretation of earlier Scripture especially the story of Isaac and Ishmael in Genesis In Persecution and Cosmic Conflict Joshua Caleb Hutchens examines the theme of persecution in Galatians and Paul's theological context in earlier Scriptures and early Judaism Hutchens argues that Paul sees persecution as a manifestation of the cosmic conflict between God in Christ and the present evil age Paul argues for this by appealing to earlier Scripture in Genesis Hutchens offers a biblical theological reading of Genesis that makes sense of Paul's usage of the book in Galatians

Afterlife and Resurrection Beliefs in the Apocrypha and Apocalyptic Literature Jan A. Sigvartsen, 2019-09-19 Jan A. Sigvartsen seeks to examine the immense interest in life after death and speculation about the fates awaiting both the righteous and the wicked that proliferated in the Second Temple period In this volume Sigvartsen explores the Apocrypha and the apocalyptic writings in the Pseudepigrapha He identifies the numerous afterlife and resurrection beliefs and presents an analysis that enables readers to easily understand and compare the wide ranging beliefs regarding the afterlife that these texts hold A careful reading of these resurrection passages including passages appearing in Sirach Maccabees the Sibylline Oracles and the Ezra texts reveals that most of the distinct views on life after death regardless of their complexity show little evidence of systematic development relational to one another and are often supported by several key passages or shared motifs from texts that later became a part of the Tanakh Sigvartsen also highlights the factors that may have influenced the development of so many different resurrection beliefs including anthropology the nature of the soul the scope of the resurrection the number and function of judgments and the final destination of the righteous and the wicked Sigvartsen's study provides a deeper understanding of how the TaNaKh was read by different communities during this important period and the role it played in the development of the resurrection belief a central article of faith in both Christianity and Rabbinic Judaism The Messianic Theology of the New Testament Joshua W. Jipp, 2020-11-12 One of the earliest Christian confessions that Jesus is Messiah and Lord has long been recognized throughout the New Testament Joshua Jipp shows that the New Testament is in fact built upon this foundational messianic claim and each of its primary compositions is a unique creative expansion of this common thread Having made the same argument about the Pauline epistles in his previous book Christ Is King Paul's Royal Ideology Jipp works methodically through the New Testament to show how the authors proclaim Jesus as the incarnate crucified and enthroned messiah of God In the second section of this book Jipp moves beyond exegesis toward larger theological questions such as those of Christology soteriology ecclesiology and eschatology revealing the practical value of reading the Bible with an eye to its messianic vision The Messianic Theology of the New Testament functions as an excellent introductory text honoring the vigorous pluralism of the New Testament books while still addressing the obvious question what makes these twenty seven different compositions one unified testament
