Narratology Beyond Literary Criticism Tom Kindt, 2005 This anthology presents the results of the Second International Colloquium of the Narratology Research Group Hamburg University It engages in the exploration of approaches that broaden Narratology's realm The contributions illustrate the transcendence of traditional models common to Narratology They also reflect on the relevance of such a going beyond as seen in more general terms What interrelation can be observed between re definition of object domain and re definition of method What potential interfaces with other methods and disciplines does the proposed innovation offer Finally what are the repercussions of the proposed innovation in terms of Narratology's self definition The innovative volume facilitates the inter methodological debate between Narratology and other disciplines enabling the conceptualization of a Narratology beyond traditional Literary Criticism

Excavating the Historical Memory of the American Revolution Shawn Thomson, 2025-07-10 In this book Shawn Thomson excavates Charles Anthon's personal notes to reveal revolutionary memory and the presence of historical melancholy in this era of radical turnover and shifting alliances In these notes Charles Anthon recorded his personal inquiries into all aspects of life in the Loyalist stronghold of Staten Island from October 13 1850 to January 8 1853 Through this written record Anthon provides a counter history of the Loyalists of Staten Island to the grand narrative of the Patriots of the American Revolution Through a close reading of Anthon's notes Shawn Thomson examines how these personal records and historical research hold the places ruins artifacts and most significantly the collective and personal memory of Staten Island Loyalists and New Jersey Whigs Through this close reading Thomson highlights the indelible link between landscape and memory and offers the reader a sense of the Loyalist melancholy of their abandonment on the day of the British evacuation

Expatriate Writing Gerhard Fischer, 2009 This volume presents the work of internationally renowned scholars from Australia Germany Italy South Africa the UK and the US The focus on W G Sebald's writing as that of an expatriate author offers a fresh and productive approach to Sebald scholarship In one way or another all 28 essays in this innovative bi lingual collection take up the notion of Sebald's experience as an expatriate writer be it in the analysis of intertextual transmedial and generic border crossings on the exposure to the other and the experience of alterity on the question of identity construction and performance on affinities with other expatriate writers on the recurring topics of home exile dislocation and migration or on the continuing work of memory to work through and to preserve the consciousness of a destructive past that has informed the childhood as much as the adult life world of the author Gerhard Fischer is Head of German Studies at the University of New South Wales in Sydney Australia His research interests and publications are in modern theatre and drama World War I and migration history and multiculturalism As convenor of the Sydney German Studies Symposia he has edited a number of volumes on modern German literature including Heiner Müller ConTEXTS and HISTORY Tbingen 1995 Debating Enzensberger Great Migration and Civil War Tbingen 1996 and with David Roberts Schreiben nach der Wende Ein Jahrzehnt deutscher Literatur 1989 1999 2nd ed Tbingen 2008 The latest

W.G. Sebald's Artistic Legacies Leonida Kovac, Christa-Maria Lerm Hayes, Ilse Rijn, Ihab Saloul, 2025-10-01 When the mind turns more than one would wish towards questions of as W G Sebald puts it the natural history of destruction comparative consideration by artists and interdisciplinary scholars is directed to the interstices between images novel essay auto biography memorial and travelogue Artists have been among Sebald's most prolific interpreters as they are among the more fearless and holistic researchers on questions concerning what it means never to be able to fix an identity to tell a migrant's story or to know where a historical trauma ends Sebald has as this book attests also given artists and scholars a means to write with images to embrace ambiguity and to turn to today's migrants with empathy and responsibility as well as to let academic research creation and institutional engagement blend into or substantially inform one another in order to account for and enable such necessary work in the most diverse contexts

Extraterritorial Matthew Hart, 2020-08-25 The future of fiction is neither global nor national Instead Matthew Hart argues it is trending extraterritorial Extraterritorial spaces fall outside of national borders but enhance state power They cut across geography and history but do not point the way to a borderless new world They range from the United Nations headquarters and international waters to CIA black sites and the departure zones at international airports The political geography of the present Hart shows has come to resemble a patchwork of such spaces Hart reveals extraterritoriality's centrality to twenty first century art and fiction He shows how extraterritorial fictions expose the way states construct global space in their own interests Extraterritorial novels teach us not to mistake cracks or gradations in political geography for a crisis of the state Hart demonstrates how the unstable character of many twenty first century aesthetic forms can be traced to the increasingly extraterritorial nature of contemporary political geography Discussing writers such as Margaret Atwood J G Ballard Amitav Ghosh Chang rae Lee Hilary Mantel and China Mi ville as well as artists like Hito Steyerl and Mark Wallinger Hart combines lively critical readings of contemporary novels with historical and theoretical discussions about sovereignty globalization cosmopolitanism and postcolonialism Extraterritorial presents a new theory of literature that explains what happens when dreams of an open connected world confront the reality of mobile elastic and tenacious borders

Extraterritorialities in Occupied Worlds Exterritory Project, 2016 The concept of extraterritoriality designates certain relationships between space law and representation This collection of essays explores contemporary manifestations of extraterritoriality and the diverse ways in which the concept has been put to use in various disciplines Some of the essays were written especially for this volume others are brought here together for the first time The inquiry into extraterritoriality found in these essays is not confined to the established boundaries of political conceptual and representational territories or fields of knowledge rather it is an invitation to navigate the margins of the legal juridical and the political but also the edges of forms of representation and poetics Within its accepted legal and political contexts the concept of extraterritoriality has traditionally been applied to people and to spaces In the first case extraterritorial arrangements could either exclude or exempt an individual or a group of people from the territorial jurisdiction in which they were physically located in the second such arrangements could exempt or exclude a space from the territorial jurisdiction by which it was surrounded The special status accorded to people and spaces had political economic and juridical implications ranging from immunity and various privileges to extreme disadvantages In both cases a person or a space physically included within a certain territory was removed from the usual system of laws and subjected to another In other words the extraterritorial person or space was held at what could be described as a legal distance In this respect the concept of extraterritoriality presupposes the existence of several competing or overlapping legal systems It is this notion of being held at a legal distance around which the concept of extraterritoriality may be understood as revolving

Underworlds of Memory Alan Itkin, 2017-05-15 Underworlds of Memory argues persuasively that the literary works of the expatriate German author W G Sebald can best be understood through the lens of the classical genre of epic Scholars often read Sebald's work as a project of cultural memory that aims to reevaluate Europe's past in the wake of the traumatic and complex events of the twentieth century Sebald's characters seek out the traces of Europe's destructive history in strange places They linger in disused train stations pause before works of art and return to childhood homes that turn out to be more foreign than any place they have visited Underworlds of Memory demonstrates that these strange encounters with the past are based on central tropes of classical epic the journey to the underworld the encounter with a work of art and the return to the homeland Sebald thus follows in the footsteps of German Jewish authors including Peter Weiss Siegfried Kracauer and Jean Améry who use these same epic tropes to reconsider the cultural memory of the Holocaust Underworlds of Memory reads Sebald's works together with the works of these German Jewish authors and the classical epics of Homer and Virgil in order to describe and trace the origins of the unique intervention into cultural memory they embody

The Complicit Text Ivan Stacy, 2020-12-10 The Complicit Text Failures of Witnessing in Postwar Fiction identifies the causes of complicity in the face of unfolding atrocities by examining the works of Albert Camus Milan Kundera Kazuo Ishiguro W G Sebald Thomas Pynchon and Margaret Atwood Ivan Stacy argues that complicity often stems from narrative failures to bear witness to wrongdoing However literary fiction he contends can at once embody and examine forms of complicity on three different levels as a theme within literary texts as a narrative form and also as it implicates readers themselves through empathetic engagement with the text Furthermore Stacy questions what forms of non-licit action are possible and explores the potential for productive forms of compromise Stacy discusses both individual dilemmas of complicity in the shadow of World War II and collective complicity in the context of contemporary concerns such as the hegemony of neoliberalism and the climate emergency

Sebald's Vision Carol Jacobs, 2015-10-20 W G Sebald's writing has been widely recognized for its intense nuanced engagement with the Holocaust the Allied bombing of Germany in WWII and other episodes of violence throughout history Through his inventive use of narrative form and juxtaposition of image and text

Sebald's work has offered readers new ways to think about remembering and representing trauma. In Sebald's Vision, Carol Jacobs examines the author's prose novels and poems illuminating the ethical and aesthetic questions that shaped his remarkable oeuvre. Through the trope of vision, Jacobs explores aspects of Sebald's writing and the way the author's indirect depiction of events highlights the ethical imperative of representing history while at the same time calling into question the possibility of such representation. Jacobs's lucid readings of Sebald's work also consider his famous juxtaposition of images and use of citations to explain his interest in the vagaries of perception. Isolating different ideas of vision in some of his most noted works including Rings of Saturn, Austerlitz, and After Nature as well as in Sebald's interviews, poetry, art criticism, and his lecture Air War and Literature, Jacobs introduces new perspectives for understanding the distinctiveness of Sebald's work and its profound moral implications.

Landscape, Seascape, and the Eco-Spatial Imagination Simon Estok, Jonathan White, I-Chun Wang, 2016-05-12 Written from within the best traditions of ecocritical thought, this book provides a wide-ranging account of the spatial imagination of landscape and seascape in literary and cultural contexts from many regions of the world. It brings together essays by authors writing from within diverse cultural traditions across historical periods from ancient Egypt to the postcolonial and postmodern present and touches on an array of divergent theoretical interventions. The volume investigates how our spatial imaginations become wired, looking at questions about mediation and exploring how various traditions compete for prominence in our spatial imagination. In what ways is personal experience inflected by prevailing cultural traditions of representation and interpretation? Can an individual maintain a unique and distinctive spatial imagination in the face of dominant trends in perception and interpretation? What are the environmental implications of how we see landscape? The book reviews how landscape is at once conceptual and perceptual, illuminating several important themes including the temporality of space, the mediations of place that form the response of an observer of a landscape, and the development of response in any single life from early partial thoughts to more considered ideas in maturity. Chapters provide suggestive and culturally nuanced propositions from varying points of view on ancient and modern landscapes and seascapes and on how individuals or societies have arranged, conceptualized, or imagined circumambient space. Opening up issues of landscape, seascape, and spatiality, this volume commences a wide-ranging critical discussion that includes various approaches to literature, history, and cultural studies. Bringing together research from diverse areas such as ecocriticism, landscape theory, colonial and postcolonial theory, hybridization theory, and East Asian Studies to provide a historicized and global account of our ecospatial imaginations, this book will be useful for scholars of landscape, ecology, ecocriticism, physical and social geography, postcolonialism, and postcolonial ecologies, comparative literary studies, and East Asian Studies.

The Literary Afterlives of Roger Casement, 1899-2016 Alison Garden, 2020 This book explores the literary and cultural afterlives of Ireland's most enigmatic, shape-shifting, and controversial son, Roger Casement. Drawing upon a transnational selection of modern and contemporary texts alongside significant archival research, this book positions Casement as a vital and fascinating figure in the compromised and contradictory terrain of Anglo Irish history The Shifting Sands of the North Sea Lowlands Katie Ritson, 2018-10-26 Global seawater levels are rising and the low lying coasts of the North Sea basin are amongst the most vulnerable in Europe In our current moment of environmental crisis the North Sea coasts are literary arenas in which the challenges and concerns of the Anthropocene are being played out This book shows how the fragile landscapes around the North Sea have served as bellwethers for environmental concern both now and in the recent past It looks at literary sources drawn from the countries around the North Sea Denmark Germany the Netherlands and England from the mid nineteenth century onwards taking them out of their established national and cultural contexts and reframing them in the light of human concern with fast changing and hazardous environments The six chapters serve as literary case studies that highlight memories of flood disaster and recovery attempts to engineer the landscape into submission perceptions of the landscape as both local and global and the imagination of the future of our planet This approach which combines environmental history and ecocriticism shows the importance of cultural artefacts in understandings of and responses to environmental change and advocates for the importance of literary studies in the environmental humanities This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the Environmental Humanities including Eco criticism and Environmental History as well as anyone studying literature from the Germanic philologies

The Postcolonial Country in Contemporary Literature L. Loh, 2013-11-25 By situating a range of contemporary literary texts against the backdrop of the legacies of a vast rural network of empire this book collectively critiques not only the rural heritage industry of the 1980s in Britain but also the effect of neocolonial globalisation on postcolonial rural spaces

Readings in the Anthropocene Sabine Wilke, Japhet Johnstone, 2017-09-21 Readings in the Anthropocene brings together scholars from German Studies and beyond to interpret the German tradition of the last two hundred years from a perspective that is mindful of the challenge posed by the concept of the Anthropocene This new age of man unofficially pronounced in 2000 holds that humans are becoming a geological force in shaping the Earth's future Among the biggest challenges facing our future are climate change accelerated species loss and a radical transformation of land use What are the historical philosophical cultural literary and artistic responses to this new concept The essays in this volume bring German culture to bear on what it means to live in the Anthropocene from a historical ethical and aesthetic perspective

The Novel After Theory Judith Ryan, 2014-01-01 Novels began to incorporate literary theory in unexpected ways in the late twentieth century Through allusion parody or implicit critique theory formed an additional strand in fiction that raised questions about the nature of authorship and the practice of writing Studying this phenomenon provides fresh insight into the recent development of the novel and the persistence of modern theory beyond the period of its greatest success In this book Judith Ryan opens these questions to a range of readers drawing them into debates over the value of theory Ryan investigates what prompted fiction writers to incorporate and respond to theory nearly thirty years ago Designed for readers unfamiliar with the complexities of theory Ryan's book introduces the discipline's major trends and controversies and notes the salient ideas of a carefully selected set of individual thinkers Ryan follows novelists' adaptation to and engagement with arguments drawn from theory as they translate abstract ideas into language structure and fictional strategy At the core of her book is a fascinating microstudy of French poststructuralism in its dialogue with narrative fiction Investigating theories of textuality psychology and society in the work of Don DeLillo Thomas Pynchon J M Coetzee Margaret Atwood W G Sebald and Umberto Eco as well as Monika Maron Alain Robbe-Grillet Marguerite Duras Marilynne Robinson David Foster Wallace and Christa Wolf Ryan identifies subtle negotiations between author and theory and the richness this dynamic adds to texts Resetting the way we think and learn about literature her book reads current literary theory while uniquely tracing its shaping of a genre

Intermittency Andrew Gibson, 2011-12-15 Explores the concept of historical intermittency in 5 recent French philosophers Andrew Gibson engages with five recent and contemporary French philosophers Badiou Jambet Lardreau Françoise Proust and Rancière who each produce a post-Hegelian philosophy of history founded on an assertion of the intermittency of historical value Gibson explores this anti-schematics of historical reason and its implication for politics ethics and aesthetics in a wide range of modern intellectual contexts finding its necessary complement and most powerful expression in a wealth of modern art chiefly modern literature The result is a sustained reflection on the possible character of a contemporary philosophy of history and an important contribution to our knowledge of contemporary French philosophy
