Pickwick Papers was Charles Dickens's first novel. He was asked to contribute to the project as an up and coming writer following the success of Sketches by Boz published in 1836. Most of Dickens' novels were issued in shilling instalments before being published as complete volumes. Dickens still writing under the pseudonym of Boz increasingly took over the unsuccessful monthly publication after the original illustrator Robert Seymour had committed suicide. With the introduction of Sam Weller in chapter 10 the book became the first real publishing phenomenon with bootleg copies, theatrical performances, Sam Weller joke books and other merchandise. After the publication the widow of Robert Seymour claimed that the idea for the novel was originally her husband's; however, in his preface to the 1867 edition Dickens strenuously denied any specific input, writing that Mr Seymour never originated or suggested an incident, a phrase or a word to be found in the book.
