Rural Tourism Gîte Planning, Construction and Operations Manual for the USAID and Morocco Ministry of Tourism and Handcraft

As the Chief of Party for this multimillion dollar USAID rural tourism development program, James was responsible for the preparation of numerous documents and manuals designed to support the development of tourism throughout Morocco's rural regions. This accommodation construction and operations manual was prepared to assist local entrepreneurs with the site location, planning, design and construction and operations of small rural Hotels, B&B, Gîtes and Maison d'Hôte. The manual and development guidelines provided the operators with site planning options and typical facility layouts including kitchen, dining room, bedroom/bathroom and recreation room layout and design features. Guidelines also addressed the use local construction materials. Operations guidelines identify staff requirements and qualifications, Guest services and reception, management techniques, marketing requirements and budget. Emphasis was also placed on operating on strict responsible tourism principles including Energy and water conservation, waste management, etc.

Managing a Tour Operating Business Shepherd Nyaruwata, 2022-03-09 This book provides knowledge of and insights into the nature and characteristics of the global tour operations business. It highlights the role played by tour operators in developing tourism in both developed and developing countries and offers critical analysis of how the growth of information communication technologies has influenced the adoption of new business models by tour operators. The text also provides useful case studies drawn from Europe, Africa, and the United States of America which will assist the reader to understand how the industry has evolved. It further highlights the challenges being faced by tour operators in developing countries and offers a business model that will assist them in retaining future business sustainability.

Understanding the Business of Tourism Venu Vasudevan, 2025-10-28 This book outlines the facets of the tourism industry, introduces tourism products and services, and provides national and international examples. With questions, discussion topics, and activities, it enlightens students and teachers on practical and business-oriented knowledge on the industry which is distinct from the traditional sources of information available on this subject. The textbook covers all the topics common to most graduate courses in Tourism. While Part 1 intends to provide clarity and a strong foundation to students beginning their education in tourism, Part 2 and 3 form the core offering, providing a comprehensive look at the most important sub-sectors of the industry and focusing attention on the tourism industry of contemporary India. Part 4 outlines the issues confronting tourism and deliberates on the possibilities and opportunities that the future holds for the industry. This book is the best entry point for any student enrolling for a tourism course, whether a diploma degree or post graduate. It will also empower young professionals already employed in the tourism industry to get acquainted with the fundamentals of Tourism.

Manual for Undertaking National Urban Assessments Asian Development Bank, 2016-11-01 Urbanization in Asia is expected to reach 55% by 2030 and 64% by 2050, to constitute 53% of the world's urban population and contribute half the world's gross domestic product. But as cities swell, they also struggle with environmental degradation, traffic congestion, inadequate urban infrastructure, and lack of basic civic services. This manual, prepared by the Urban Sector Group of the Asian Development Bank (ADB), provides guidelines for conducting rapid urban assessments. It is guided by the Urban

Operational Plan 2012-2020 which outlines ADB's support to its members in developing their urban economies through the 3E approach Economy Environment and Equity. It presents a framework providing a context for the city level 3E tool kits: Tool Kit for Rapid Economic Assessment Planning and Development of Cities in Asia, Green City Development Tool Kit and Enabling Inclusive Cities Tool Kit for Inclusive Urban Development. Projects, Government, and Public Policy Stanisław Gasik, 2022-11-25. Many governments have effectively organized public project implementation systems in their jurisdictions. At the same time many other countries remain at a less advanced level of public project management. Globally there is a need for project management knowledge to be transferred between governments. However no systematic review of these practices has been developed to date. Projects, Government, and Public Policy was written to fulfill this need and presents a review of project management practices in countries with developed project based capabilities. This book uses its own rigorous model to present this review systematically. This book's practical purpose is to give a structured overview of government level project management practices. This knowledge can be used in the work of governments to improve the management of public projects and the implementation of public policies. Many professionals working in public institutions understand project management concepts differently than project management professionals. Therefore this book begins with a chapter that describes the differences between the conceptual basis of public administration and project management. The body of this book has five parts. Part I is mainly intended for those involved in government and public administration who want to acquire or increase knowledge about project management. Part II provides an overview of the basic concepts from the theory of public administration, public policies and development management. Part III describes what makes public projects unique and the success factors specific to projects of this sector. Knowledge about effective government project management practices is covered in Part IV. The concluding Part V begins with a general overview of the maturity model concept. Its main part covers the description of a maturity model showing ways to systematically improve the implementation of public projects. This book is written for governments and government administrators including the most influential decision makers who craft policies to guide a country's development as well as how to implement projects. This book is also intended for supporters and enthusiasts of project management in government and public administration by providing them with a description of the solutions used by project management in public administration. This book is intended too for all project management practitioners working for public projects: project managers, team members, sponsors and middle level executives of project delivering private companies. By knowing public administration concepts they can manage their projects better and use a common language with their clients. Federal Register, 2013-11. Foreign Assistance and Related Agencies Appropriations United States. Community Schools in Africa Deborah Glassman, Jordan Naidoo, Fred Wood, 2007-04-24 Over the past decade community schools similar to those supported by Save the Children have been established in many developing countries and especially in sub Saharan Africa As large numbers of children attend schools started and managed by their own communities and or by nongovernmental organizations questions have come up about the impact of such schools at large scale Can village based or community schools have a national impact on access to education spur improved long term development strategies and education policy or achieve or influence Education for All This book explores these and related questions drawing on Save the Children s experience with community based schooling in four countries Ethiopia Malawi Mali and Uganda The literature on community schools in Africa tends to be sparse repetitive and highly descriptive with little or no sustained critique of practice This book fills a substantial gap in the education literature and is particularly timely given the current emphasis on decentralization and community involvement in education      Jubba Environmental and Socioeconomic Studies:
