Tourism Phase 2 Memorandum 2014:

Tourism Planning & Policy Lynn Minnaert, 2025-02-07 Local regional and national governments play an important role in how tourism destinations are developed and managed But where do politics come in How do organisations like the United Nations fit into this picture And how does policy making work at the international level All these questions and more are covered in this essential new textbook with examples from destinations all over the world This concise and accessible introduction to tourism planning and policy making explores key themes around the strategic planning process sustainability ethics and inclusion in tourism and future policy directions for tourism Each chapter includes several snapshots and one case study to demonstrate how theory applies in practice and ends with self test questions to check your understanding This text is essential reading for all college and university students studying tourism hospitality events and leisure and recreation studies Lynn Minnaert is the Dean of the School of Hospitality at the Metropolitan State University of Denver Clean Estuaries Act of 2014 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Environment and Public Works, 2014 Annual Report India. Ministry of Tourism, 2013 Economic and Social Survey, Jamaica, 2013 Wellness City Ari-Veikko Anttiroiko, 2018-04-19 Addressing the continuous need for new growth sectors in post industrial cities this book considers the economic significance of wellness from a development policy perspective The author goes beyond personal health discourse to conceptualise wellness as an emerging industry presenting empirical cases of community attraction and export orientated strategies around the world Combining holistic health urban governance and economic development this book will provide valuable reading for those studying policy tourism and the wellness sector as well as business entrepreneurs within this evolving industry Management of Training and Development in Hospitality Industry Archana Acharya, Universal Design 2014: Three Days of Creativity and Diversity Per-Olof Hedvall, Andreas Larsson, Kirsten Rassmus-Gröhn, Bitte Rydeman, 2014-05-15 Universal Design Design for All and Inclusive Design are all aimed at dismantling physical and social barriers to inclusion in all areas of life Engagement in universal design is on the increase worldwide as practitioners and researchers explore creative and desirable solutions to shape the future of universal design products and practices This book is a collection of the papers presented at UD2014 the International Conference on Universal Design held in Lund Sweden in June 2014 The conference offered a creative and diverse meeting place for all participants to exchange knowledge experiences and ideas and to build global connections and creative networks for future work on universal design The themes of UD2014 span many aspects of societal life and the papers included here cover areas as diverse as architecture public transport educational and play environments housing universal workspaces and the Internet of things as well as designs and adaptations for assistive technology The book clearly demonstrates the breadth of universal design and its ongoing adoption in societies all over the world and will be of interest to anyone whose work involves building a more inclusive environment for all China's Bilateral Relations with Its Principal Oil Suppliers George G. Eberling, 2017-10-23 This book examines

China's bilateral relations with its established suppliers of crude petroleum and on occasion petroleum gas products including liquefied natural gas LNG based on a five dimensional framework political diplomatic relations economic trade relations military security relations cultural relations and petroleum energy relations A five dimensional approach is comprehensive in nature and offers a complete understanding of China's complex relationships rather than looking solely on more typical perspectives like bilateral trade security relationships or energy ties More often than not social science literature focuses on one or more aspects of China's bilateral relations which does not provide a complete picture of the complex nature of its interstate ties This book endeavors to bridge this gap and look more substantially at China's bilateral relationships with energy petroleum relations being the key aspect linking each one of them The specific bilateral relationships examined are China's relations with Angola Brazil Republic of the Congo Iran Iraq Kazakhstan Kuwait Oman Russia Saudi Arabia South Sudan Sudan United Arab Emirates and Venezuela These countries matter because their crude petroleum and petroleum gas product exports account for over 50 percent of China's annual oil consumption

Asian Mobilities Consumption in a Changing Arctic Young-Sook Lee, 2021-10-20 This book provides an in depth examination of the growing Asian tourism market and consumption in Arctic destinations Through five parts the book covers Asian mobilities consumption as an extension of Arctic international politics the transportation sector and green cruise tourism and ethnicity culture and history It contributes to further understanding of the impacts of increased tourism in these polar regions by exploring climate change debates around emerging economies and global power roles in the political socio economic security and legal issues of the Arctic and Antarctic and associated polar strategies and policy By drawing on a range of disciplines and with contributions from experts in Arctic destinations or who are associated with the Arctic it further provides a holistic framing of emerging demand and mobility patterns of Asian tourists in a polar context Asian Mobilities Consumption in a Changing Arctic will be valuable reading for students and academics across the fields of tourism economics sustainability development studies as well as other social science disciplines

Tunisia International Monetary Fund. Middle East and Central Asia Dept., 2014-05-19 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY Context On June 7 2013 the Executive Board approved a 24 month SBA in an amount equivalent to 400 percent of quota SDR 1 15 billion or about 1 75 billion To date SDR 427 92 equivalent to 659 million has been disbursed The pillars of the program are to i achieve short term macroeconomic stability ii lay the foundation for stronger and more inclusive growth and iii protect the most vulnerable Background The adoption of a new constitution and the formation of a new technocratic government in January 2014 led to greater confidence on political prospects and economic reforms Growth has been moderate and remains insufficient to bring down unemployment significantly in the short term At the same time external and fiscal imbalances remain high while demands for higher wages and additional jobs are rising The program is broadly on track Two out of three 2013 end December quantitative performance criteria QPC targets have been missed but by a smaller margin than originally envisaged and all end March 2014 QPCs are expected to be met Progress on the structural reform agenda has been slowed by last year's political crisis and the transition between governments Program strategy Containing current expenditures and pursuing prudent monetary policy and greater exchange rate flexibility are essential to contain high external and fiscal deficits and to build investors confidence Improved banking regulation a strategic orientation of public banks and strengthened supervision will help reduce banking sector fragilities which are currently hampering private sector development Scaling up public investments reforming tax policy and revenue administration accelerating public enterprise reform and protecting the most vulnerable will help lay the foundations for more inclusive growth and level the playing field for investors Risks to program implementation are important Main risks relate to regional and domestic security tensions set backs in the political transition and weaker economic activity in major trading partners Successful implementation of the Fund supported program will be contingent on the government's ability to garner consensus among political parties backing it and on its capacity to push reforms through vested interests The completion of the third review will make SDR 145 08 million about 225 million available

The Economics and Political Economy of African Air Transport Kenneth Button, Gianmaria Martini, Davide Scotti, 2017-09-14 Africa is the smallest of the regional aviation markets but one that Boeing and others expect to expand over the medium term Developments on the continent that require the creation of robust and efficient air transport include growth in tourism the export of exotics and the emergence of modern manufacturing and high tech industries Africa's regional aviation markets generally lack good airports and air traffic control viable airlines and adequately skilled labour

Airline safety is also a major concern Written by a Who s Who of aviation specialists and policy makers The Economics and Political Economy of African Air Transport fills an emerging void in the literature regarding Africa s aviation markets Its original papers focus explicitly on the economic and political dimensions of the subject although with relevance to the strategic planning and management of airlines and their associated infrastructure Topics discussed include external and internal market efficiencies air service liberalization the emergence of new carriers safety and security low cost airline and other business models and airport economics Focusing on the broader issues surrounding the subject this book will be of interest to both the aviation community and those with an interest in economic and social development Canadian Almanac & Directory, 2014 Tannys Williams,2013-10 The Canadian Almanac Directory is the most complete source of Canadian information available cultural professional and financial institutions legislative governmental judicial and educational organizations Canada s authoritative sourcebook for al Mapping Arctic Paradiplomacy Mathieu Landriault,Jean-François Payette,Stéphane Roussel,2021-07-29 This book analyses the possibilities and limitations that sub national actors face when developing diplomatic activities in the Arctic region Sub national actors such as civil society groups and sub national governments or administrations have been active in international relations for decades They face specific political and economic limitations on the international scene as non sovereign entities This book investigates how these actors have developed their international presence in the Arctic region It analyzes the diplomatic activities of states provinces regional administrations and multilateral forums made of sub national governments to offer comparative insights on the strategies interests and activities of sub national governments Alaska Scotland Quebec Yakutsk and Indigenous People s organizations are among the examples covered in this book that have forged bilateral and multilateral relations to promote and defend their interests and values Moreover sovereign states are often using these sub national actors to further their own interests as exemplified in this book in how Russia and China harnessed the potential of sub national governments to align with their Arctic policies The volume will be useful to academics and graduate students of Arctic politics international relations comparative politics comparative federalism foreign policy and global governance Offshore Energy Law Ignacio Herrera Anchustegui,Madeline Taylor,Eduardo G Pereira,Eddy Wifa,2025-05-29 This book examines the regulatory environmental financial socio legal and safety aspects that shape offshore energy infrastructure projects and their operation The marine environment holds vast resources to provide energy solutions for humankind The sustainable development of such offshore energy resources is one of the most pressing challenges posed by the energy transition Whereas offshore hydrocarbons have been explored and extracted for more than a century the offshore renewable industry is rapidly expanding with lawmakers increasingly looking to the oceans for significant energy development Offshore spaces now amalgamate mature and emerging energy industries creating a pressing need to identify synergies and regulatory challenges However and despite the pivotal role offshore energy is to play in the future the interaction synergies and conflicts arising between these regulatory socio legal environmental and financial dimensions of offshore energy are often not discussed within the energy law scholarship This book aims to fill this evident gap in existing energy law research to distil critical legal lessons from traditional offshore energy sectors to encourage best practice regulation of offshore energy net zero industries Offshore Energy Law provides a functional analysis that covers the life cycle of offshore energy developments including renewable and hydrocarbons within the broader context of the energy crisis and energy transition debates Written and edited by leading global offshore energy experts the book brings together a global and sectoral comparative perspective to central offshore energy topics such as licensing socio legal challenges and opportunities safety and ecological governance and the use of marine maritime spatial planning
