Student's Guide to Writing Dissertations and Theses in

Tourism Studies and Related Disciplines Tim Coles,David Timothy Duval,Gareth Shaw,2013-05-02 Around the world every year very many students have to complete dissertations or theses as part of their undergraduate or masters studies in tourism and related subjects Often this substantial piece of self directed work is the culmination of their programmes More than just a means to consolidate their final grades it is also an exciting chance to research a topic of their choosing and a potential gateway to more advanced study as well as job offers and future career paths Yet for all these reasons many students view the dissertation as a tricky challenge This comprehensive book intends to take the stress and anxiety out of doing a dissertation in tourism studies and related disciplines The process is examined from the germination of an idea to the submission and assessment of the final document Written primarily for students conducting independent research for the first time this book offers simple advice and a clear framework which students can adopt even in more advanced studies at masters and doctoral level This book debunks popular myths and aims to overcome common pitfalls It focuses on the aims and objectives as the DNA of every dissertation Rather than view it as a single overwhelming project the dissertation is presented as a series of more modest manageable yet crucially inter linked tasks that all students can successfully complete through careful preparation and effective time management Dissertations are not to be underestimated and they demand great care and attention but they can also be immensely rewarding and enriching experiences academically and personally This jargon free book is also written with overseas students specifically in mind drawing directly on our overseas students experiences This valuable resource contains start of chapter learning objectives and end of chapter checklists as well as numerous boxed case studies to further help assist students through their dissertation

Academic Standards in Higher Education Nicola Reimann,Ian Sadler,Jennifer Hill,2024-08-15 Academic standards in higher education are important but largely misunderstood This book examines the notion of academic standards explaining what they are and why they are important and identifying the many myths that surround them Based on the lessons learnt from the UK wide Degree Standards Project which developed piloted and evaluated a professional development course on degree standards aimed at external examiners the book offers practical suggestions for ways in which higher education staff can develop a more sophisticated understanding of standards It discusses the implications of rethinking academic standards for higher education policy and practice through examples and case studies derived from research evidence the Degree Standards Project and contributors own experience and expertise As a broader approach to assessment literacy this volume aims to develop readers standards literacy by challenging routine practices and proposing promising alternatives Written with a diverse readership in mind this book is relevant to discipline based academics quality officers academic developers university leaders and managers as well as policy makers

Leisure and Tourism Peter Hayward,2000 By working through this text readers will cover the full range of topics needed for the GNVQ The book gives the readers an opportunity to to learn to work with others as a member of a group and to take responsibility for their own learning
