Foreign Commerce Weekly ,1962 Resources in Education ,1993 Britannica Book of the Year 2011
Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc.,2011-03-01 The Britannica Book fo the Year 2011 provides a valuable viewpoint on the people and events that shaped the year In addition to keeping the Encyclopaedia Britannica updated it serves as a great reference source for the latest news on the ever changing populations governments and economies throughout the world Growing Pains Walter Wehrmeyer,Yacob Mulugetta,2017-10-19 Environmental management is a global phenomenon embracing all businesses in all countries whether or not there already exists an organised response to managing environmental impacts Today there are gross inequalities between the world s richest and poorest nations in terms of income distribution consumption patterns access to resources and environmental impact Yet both the developed north and the developing south are committed at least in words to achieving sustainable development Public awareness of environmental issues in the North has been rising in recent years and further degradation is now largely minimized through more stringent regulatory regimes voluntary agreements and growing consumer and stakeholder pressure on corporations Still the north is continuing to lead an environmentally unsustainable lifestyle as environmental improvements are nullified by overall increases in consumption levels In the south a billion people still do not have access to the most basic needs Poor countries need to accelerate their consumption growth if they are to ensure that the lives of their people are enriched However with rapid economic growth and corresponding increases in consumption now under way their environmental impact is soon to become substantially greater In a world that strives towards stemming global crises such as climate change the path already taken by the rich and high growth economies over the past century cannot be repeated by the south if the desired objective is to create a future that is truly sustainable Growing Pains examines environmental management in the south from a number of perspectives It is designed to stimulate the discussion about the role that corporations and national and international organizations play in sustainable development It does not offer panaceas as each country has its own problems and opportunities and after almost 50 years of failed panacea oriented economic development policy transfer from the north to the south it is time to abandon hope for universal solutions and instead look to individual approaches that work The book is divided into five themes globalization the role of business a focus on national strategies trade and the environment and the organizational and structural challenges of sustainable development With contributions from an outstanding collection of authors in both the developed and developing worlds including UNIDO the Thailand Environment Institute Arthur D Little Inc Shell Peru IUCN the Russian Academy of Sciences and IIED this important and unique new book presents a body of work that will provide essential reading for businesses working in developing countries environmental and developmental NGOs and researchers engaged in the debate and sharing of best practice in this increasingly critical subject area Intercultural Education Nektaria Palaiologou,2024-11-01 This edited collection highlights the diversity of perspectives within the broad field of intercultural education focusing on education in modern multicultural societies as well as exploring the role of migrant populations as modern citizens The chapters examine these themes both through historical analysis tracing the pathway of intercultural education back to ancient Greece before focussing on modern multicultural societies It also discusses intercultural learning issues in multicultural contexts dynamic approaches and practical applications in modern classrooms and the main issues in teacher training in relation to immigrant students The volume highlights the need to design more effective social and educational policies for immigrant populations on the basis of respecting protecting and supporting all social groups irrelevant of their country of origin racial or ethnic background sexual orientation socio economic class or religious beliefs It brings together conceptual and empirical contributions from well known authors in the field as well as from younger scholars and researchers The result is a mixture of ideas that will provide food for thought and discussion to an international readership This book was originally published as a special issue of Intercultural Education

Self-directed learning research and its impact on educational practice Elsa Mentz,Roxanne Bailey,2021-05-17 This scholarly book is the third volume in an NWU book series on self directed learning and is devoted to self directed learning research and its impact on educational practice The importance of self directed learning for learners in the 21st century to equip themselves with the necessary skills to take responsibility for their own learning for life cannot be over emphasised The target audience does not only consist of scholars in the field of self directed learning in Higher Education and the Schooling sector but includes all scholars in the field of teaching and learning in all education and training sectors The book contributes to the discourse on creating dispositions towards self directed learning among all learners and adds to the latest body of scholarship in terms of self directed learning Although from different perspectives all chapters in the book are closely linked together around self directed learning as a central theme following on the work done in Volume 1 of this series Self Directed Learning for the 21st Century Implications for Higher Education to form a rich knowledge bank of work on self directed learning
