Poetics of Loss Katharina Lempe, 2015 With the removal of death from the public sphere mourning has become a private matter At the same time particularly in poetry the trend is reversed An intensely elegiac quality and a focus on absence death and loss can be observed in contemporary Anglophone poetry This study examines the poetry of Andrew Motion in the context of the contemporary elegy a genre which is at a crossroads between the anti-consolatory refusal to mourn the inability to move past grief and the strong wish for redemption from grief Motion's poetry which mainly deals with preemptive attempts to cope with loss can be seen as a typical example for the contemporary melancholy mood in poetry Series Erlanger Studies of English and American Studies Erlanger Studien zur Anglistik und Amerikanistik Vol 15 Subject Poetry Death Studies Literary Criticism

The English Paradigm in India Shweta Rao Garg, Deepti Gupta, 2017-09-18 This collection pulls together a wide range of perspectives to explore the possibilities and the boundaries of the paradigm of English studies in India It examines national identity and the legacy of colonialism through a study of comparative and multi-ethnic literature education English language studies and the role ICT

now plays in all of these fields Contributors look at how the issue of identity can be addressed and understood through food studies linking food culture and identity The volume also considers the timely and very relevant question of gender in Indian society of the role of the woman the family and the community in patriarchal contemporary Indian society Through the lens of literature culture gender politics this exciting volume pulls together the threads which constitute modern Indian identity

Singing by Herself Amelia Worsley,2024-08-15 Singing by Herself reinterprets the rise of literary loneliness by foregrounding the female and feminized figures who have been overlooked in previous histories of solitude Many of the earliest records of the terms lonely and loneliness in British literature describe solitaires whose songs positioned them within the tradition of female complaint Amelia Worsley shows how these feminized solitaires for whom loneliness was both a space of danger and a space of productive retreat helped to make loneliness attractive to future lonely poets despite the sense of suspicion it evoked Although loneliness today is often associated with states of atomized interiority soliloquy and self enclosure this study of eighteenth century poetry disrupts the presumed association between isolation singular speech and bounded models of poetic subjectivity In five chapters focused on lonely poet figures in the works of John Milton Anne Finch Alexander Pope Thomas Gray and Charlotte Smith which also take account of the wider eighteenth century fascination with literary loneliness Singing by Herself shows how poets increasingly associated the new literary mode of being alone with states of disembodiment dispersal and echoic self doubling Seemingly solitary lonely voices often dissolve into polyvocal allusive community Worsley argues when in dialogue with each other and also with classical figures of feminized lament such as Sappho Echo and Philomela The book s provocative reflections on lyric mean that it will have a broad appeal to scholars interested in the history of poetry and poetics as well as to those who study the literary history of gender affect and emotion
