The Social Studies ,1925 Connecting Social Problems and Popular Culture Karen Sternheimer,2018-05-04 Is violence on the streets caused by violence in video games Does cyber bullying lead to an increase in suicide rates Are teens promiscuous because of Teen Mom As Karen Sternheimer clearly demonstrates popular culture is an easy scapegoat for many of society s problems but it is almost always the wrong answer Now in its second edition Connecting Social Problems and Popular Culture goes beyond the news grabbing headlines claiming that popular culture is public enemy number one to consider what really causes the social problems we are most concerned about The sobering fact is that a media made them do it explanation fails to illuminate the roots of social problems like poverty violence and environmental degradation Sternheimer s analysis deftly illustrates how welfare reform a two tiered health care system and other difficult systemic issues have far more to do with our contemporary social problems than Grand Theft Auto or Facebook The fully revised new edition features recent moral panics think sexting and cyberbullying and an entirely new chapter exploring social media Expanded discussion of how we understand society s problems as social constructions without disregarding empirical evidence as well as the cultural and structural issues underlying those ills allows students to stretch their sociological imaginations

Resources in Education ,1998 World History ,2000 Spaces that Tell Stories Donna R. Braden,2019-07-12 Historical environments delight visitors because of their ability to make them feel transported to another time and place

These environments found in both museum exhibitions and historic structures are usually rich with objects that hint at deeper stories and context. But these spaces often lack rigor in terms of historical and interpretive methodology along with a thoughtful and purposeful integration of storytelling principles. Spaces That Tell Stories Creating Historical Environments offers a fresh look at historical environments providing a roadmap for applying this rigor and integrating these principles into the creation of such environments. It begins by delving into the power of these environments for museum visitors drawing upon multiple cross disciplinary fields. An in depth how to methodology follows which begins with the steps of framing the project by aligning it with institutional goals defining audiences involving visitor studies and inviting community engagement. It continues through the steps of researching creating interpreting refining and evaluating the impact of the environment. The author's methodology is applicable to environments in both historic structures and museum exhibits from different eras places and topics. It is also scalable to museums varying sizes and budgets. To give a sense of how the methodology laid out in this book translates into real world practice detailed case studies appear throughout along with practical tips checklists charts descriptive photographs and source lists. An extensive bibliography follows.

Spaces That Tell Stories Creating Historical Environments is a unique contribution to the museum field. It is a must read for museum professionals installing or upgrading historic environments while the methodology and case studies also offer practical strategies for other museum professionals working with collections exhibitions and interpretation and how these are integrated thoughtful insights into museum practice for students and a helpful toolkit for local historians.

The Politics of Speed Simon Glezos, 2013-03-01
Everyone agrees that the world is accelerating. With advances in communication transportation and information processing technologies it is clear that the pace of events in global politics is speeding up at an alarming rate. The implications of this new speed however continue to be a significant source of debate. Will acceleration lead to a more interconnected productive peaceful and humane world or a nightmarish descent into ecological devastation economic exploitation and increasingly violent warfare? The Politics of Speed attempts to map the contours of the new global space of speed and investigates key issue areas including democratic governance warfare capitalism globalization and transnational activism to uncover the ways in which acceleration is shaping the world. The book uses contemporary political theory especially the works of Deleuze and Guattari to develop an ontological account of speed showing how its effects are frequently far more complex and surprising than we might expect. The result is an attempt to craft a way of engaging with global acceleration that might help avoid the dangers of speed while embracing the possibilities it provides us with to produce a safer more egalitarian democratic and pluralistic world.

Narratives of African American Women's Literary Pragmatism and Creative Democracy Gregory Phipps, 2018-11-02
This book charts an interdisciplinary narrative of literary pragmatism and creative democracy across the writings of African American women from the works of nineteenth century philosophers to the novels and short stories of Harlem Renaissance authors. The book argues that this critically neglected narrative forms a genealogy of black feminist intersectionality and a major contribution to the development of American pragmatism Bringing together the philosophical writings of Maria Stewart Anna Julia Cooper and Mary Church Terrell and the fictional works of Jessie Fauset Nella Larsen and Zora Neale Hurston this text provides a literary pragmatist study of the archetypes tropes settings and modes of resistance that populate the narrative of creative democracy Above all this book considers how these philosophers and authors construct democracy as a lived experience that gains meaning not through state institutions but through communities founded on relationships among black women and their shared understandings of culture knowledge experience and rebellion The Undiscovered Mind John Horgan,2000-11-14 A respected journalist explores the fields of science that try to explain the mysteries of the human mind arguing that science has done little to plumb the depths of our minds and cannot ever rationally explain all of human behavior Historical Outlook ,1926

Race, Time, and Utopia

William M. Paris, 2024 Racial injustice at its core is the domination of time Utopia has been one response to this domination The racially dominated are not free to define what counts as progress they are not free from the accumulation of past injustices and most importantly they are not free from the arbitrary organization of work in capitalist labor markets Racially unjust societies are forms of life where the justifications for how to organize time around life labor and leisure are out of the hands of the dominated In Race Time and Utopia William Paris provides a theoretical account of utopia as the critical analysis of the sources of time domination and the struggle to create emancipatory forms of life Rather than focusing on inclusion and equality before the law as found in liberal theories of racial injustice Paris analyses the neglected utopian tradition of justice in black political thought that insists justice can only be secured through the transformation of society as a whole This transformation is nothing less than the democratic transformation of how organize and narrate our shared time Bringing into conversation the work W E B Du Bois Martin Delany Marcus Garvey Frantz Fanon and James Boggs with the critical theory of Karl Marx Ernst Bloch Rahel Jaeggi and Rainer Forst Paris reconstructs a social theory and normative account of forms of life as the struggle over how time will be organized asking Can there be freedom without a new order of time
