

Serving Our Employees: For Employees...Respect and Opportunity

Respecting Diversity

Discrimination is not tolerated at Dollar General. It limits our ability to reach our potential and creates an unpleasant work environment. We must never discriminate against a fellow employee or anyone working on our Company's behalf, based upon the person's race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, disability, marital status, veteran status, citizenship status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information or other characteristic protected by law or listed in our Employee Handbook. We're particularly dedicated to this policy when making employment-related decisions.

We also need to work together to ensure our workplace is free from harassment. Harassment is any unwelcome conduct that is based on another's protected characteristic and has the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, offensive or hostile work environment. Harassment also includes situations where employment decisions are conditioned on an employee's submission to unwelcome conduct by his or her manager that is based on the employee's protected characteristic. Regardless of the form harassment takes—whether it's a spoken or written remark, physical act or visual depiction—our Company won't tolerate it. Discrimination and harassment of or by a non-employee involved in Company business, such as a vendor or customer, is also prohibited. For more information, see our Anti-Discrimination and Harassment Policy and our Employee Handbook.

Although our Company's policy against discrimination and harassment may be stricter than that required by law, you must follow Company policy when acting on Dollar General's behalf. If you experience or know of instances of discrimination or harassment, notify your manager, the ERC or Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) immediately. All reports will be investigated, and appropriate disciplinary action will be taken. You will not be subject to retaliation for making an honest report.

Q: One of Carla's coworkers constantly asks her out on dates and comments on her appearance while they are working. Carla is embarrassed by the situation and feels uncomfortable at work. Should she report his behavior?

A: Yes. Carla's coworker may be creating an offensive workplace for her. Carla can speak with her manager if she's comfortable doing so, or she can contact the ERC or ADR.

Maintaining a Safe and Healthy Workplace

At Dollar General, safety is very important. We ensure a safe workplace by following all safety-related signs and instructions and by taking steps to prevent accidents. We only perform job activities (1) for which we've been trained and that don't violate established safety rules or (2) that don't pose a safety risk. Report any threats to workplace safety to your manager and the Risk Management Hotline immediately.

We can only maintain a safe workplace if it is free from violence. Our Company won't tolerate physical acts of violence, threats of physical harm, verbal abuse or other intimidating or disruptive behavior. If you experience or know of this sort of behavior, notify your manager or the ERC.
