GLACIATION

PROCESSES

Erosion, Transportation & Deposition

Processes of Erosion

Plucking
Abrasion

The amount of erosion will vary depending on the amount of glacial movement, bedrock type & thickness of the ice

Transportation

Eroded material (moraine) carried in the ice
Sides and bottom of glacier may melt due to friction

Processes of Deposition

Glaciers drop their load due to ablation (melting)
Ablation due to rise in temperature 2 categories of glacial deposition
a. Boulder clays (glacial till) unsorted
b. Fluvio – glacial (glacial meltwater) sorted

HOW IS A GLACIER FORMED ?

The climate gets colder and colder until the amount of snowfall becomes greater than the melt rate (ablation). More layers of snow fall on each other – lower layers are compressed into ice (neve / fern)

More snow falls – pressure increased – all air squeezed out of neve forming 'blue ice'
The glacier will begin to move if the force of gravity causes them to slide under their own weight.

Features of Glacial Erosion

Cirque / Corrie – large circular hollows around mountain peaks. Often filled with water known as a corrie lake or a tarn. Cirques usually the birthplace of a glacier (see above). The hollow in which the glacier was formed is then hollowed more by the ice plucking rock from the backwall of the hollow and then using this plucked rock to abrade the bottom of the hollow even more. The more the glacier moves downslope, the larger the hollow will become. When two cirques form back to back, a narrow ridge called an arête is formed

Example of a corrie is Peddlars Lake in Conor pass , Dingle peninsula

U Shaped valley

Glaciers try to follow the path of river valleys – widening them to form U shaped valleys. Interlocking spurs removed leaving truncated spurs. Pater Noster lakes often form due to scouring of valley floor at different intervals.

Other features of glacial erosion – hanging valleys, crag & tail, roches moutonnées.

Features of Glacial Deposition

Moraines

Lateral – on the side of glaciers, Medial underneath the middle of a glacier

Terminal – occurs at the snout of the glacier at right angles to it

Zimbabwe Junior Certificate Geography:

Geography Syllabus, 2007 Geography [for] Zimbabwe Junior Certificate, 1983 Zimbabwe National Bibliography, 1990 A History of Zimbabwe, 1890-2000 and Postscript, Zimbabwe, 2001-2008 Chengetai J. M. Zvobgo, 2009-10-02 This study combines in one volume the history of Zimbabwe from the advent of British settlers in 1890 to 2000 including women's rights and human rights in Zimbabwe. It is a political, social and economic history. The Postscript examines the major developments in Zimbabwe from 2001 to 2008. The two previous major studies on the history of Zimbabwe, The Past Is Another Country by Martin Meredith (London: Andre Deutsch, 1979) and The Road to Zimbabwe 1890-1980 by Anthony Verrier (London: Jonathan Cape, 1986) are now out of date. This volume brings the historical study of Zimbabwe almost up to the present day. Zimbabwe Books in Print, 1993 Impacts of Climate Change and Variability on Pastoralist Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Melese Getu, Munyae M. Mulinge, 2013. The term climate change is used to denote any significant but extended change in the measures of climate. The changes could be due to natural variability or as a result of human activities such as the burning of fossil fuels to produce energy, deforestation, industrial processes and some agricultural practices. Such activities release large amounts of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases into the atmosphere that hang like a blanket around the earth, thus trapping energy in the atmosphere and causing it to warm up. This results increasingly in climate variability, which is characterised by extreme seasonal, annual, temporal and non-spatial variability in temperature, vagaries of precipitation, rainfall patterns and amounts and/or wind patterns occurring over a prolonged period of time. The last decade, 2001-2010, has been the warmest on record, with the average temperatures reaching 0.46°C above the 1961-1990 mean and 0.21°C warmer than the 1991-2000 period. It has been proved that the African continent is warming up faster all year round than the global average trend that is likely to continue. By the year 2100, it is predicted that temperature changes will fall into ranges of about 1.4°C to nearly 5.8°C increase in mean surface temperature compared to 1990 and the mean sea level will rise between 10cm to 90 cm (AMCEN 2011). The interior of semi-arid margins of the Sahara and central southern Africa will be the most affected by such warming (AMCEN 2011). To tackle the phenomenon of climate change effectively, human societies have put in place a combination of mitigation and adaptation mechanisms and strategies. Whereas mitigation aims at avoiding or lessening the impacts of the unmanageable, the goal of adaptation is to manage the unavoidable. That men and women are affected differently by climate change suggests that they also differ in terms of the adaptation mechanisms they employ. Despite the existence of gender-based differences in the effects of climate change and in adaptation and coping strategies, studies on the gender differential impacts of climate change and variability on women in general and pastoralist women in particular in sub-Saharan Africa are limited. This volume offers insights and knowledge that pastoralist women developed on climate change adaptation through their experiences in their households and communities and thereby tries to narrow this gap. A Preliminary Survey of

Environmental Awareness in Some Secondary School Pupils in Zimbabwe J. M. Manjengwa, 1997 Pursuit of the Elusive Dream Lawrence D Moyo, 2023-05-16 Anyone interested in the history of Zimbabwe will love this memoir by Lawrence D Moyo It traces the tumultuous events of the First Chimurenga of 1896 through independence from Great Britain in 1980 until the present day He vividly describes his childhood struggles as the son of a father who abuses his children as slave labourers Lawrence progressively climbs the educational ladder until he emigrates to the UK with his family Harping on the theme of hidden racism among others Lawrence then endures horrific racist treatment from criminally disobedient white and black students in schools he works at as an English teacher Having become a highly respected educational specialist he is now retired in the UK retaining his connections with his family members and friends in Zimbabwe

Zimbabwe. Ministry of Education, 1980 Distance Education in Anglophone Africa Economic Development Institute (Washington, D.C.), 1992 MY LIFE IN THE STRUGGLE FOR THE LIBERATION OF ZIMBABWE M Mpofu, 2014 This is an elucidation of accumulation of personal experience within the context of socio cultural internalization in particular and the socio political environment in general that is intended to provide some insights into a plethora of ingredients that converged and crystallized into a catalytic impetus that socially transformed my generation from village boys to highly politicised freedom fighters during the 1960s to the 1970s in Rhodesia I have done this by tracing the footprints of my experience which show multiple stages and strands of cultural social political and physical determinants that landed themselves on my growth path starting from socialization in my parents home all the way through the local community traditions and schooling to active service for the freedom of my country at local and national levels Here the crucial elements that moulded my social being in a very profound way have been ventilated to show when and how I became able to distinguish antagonistic differences between justice and injustice at my very early age Proceeding from here I have brought out how I teamed up with others whose political outlook and aspirations were identical with mine as we all voluntarily joined anti colonial struggle starting from invisible low intensity activism in schools and towns up to risky adventures that finished up in armed struggle within a broad national perspective the narration further demonstrates the domesticity of the movements that championed liberation struggle as drivers were citizens who grew up in the rural villages and urban African Townships where they progressively became aware that they were born unlike their parents in a country under colonial administration In doing all this I had to spell out how my interaction with informative social vectors brought awareness on how my country Zimbabwe was colonized and governed by Europeans without the consent of the indigenous natives who showed their resentment to foreign rule by rebelling First Chimurenga within six years of colonization but failed only to succeed in the second rebellion Second Chimurenga after ninety years of racial domination Furthermore I believe I have laid bare how I became a civilian

freedom fighter together with peers of my generation in the second rebellion where intolerable weight of oppression caused us to abandon nonviolent methods of struggle in favour of using arms of war to face a cobweb of security forces led by superb military machine of the colonial state wherein lay formidable challenges confronting rebelling citizens the armed struggle phase meant that fighters and their collaborators had to face those challenges in the theatre of operation Initially they exhibited more weaknesses than strengths and lost opportunities that were in the form of abundance of political support of masses of people in the country the overall process of the struggle exhibited strengths and costly weaknesses right from the civilian phase up to the armed struggle phase with or without my participation It was not until freedom fighters gained experience in planning and undertaking field operations that they became able to apply appropriate tactics that caused the struggle to gain sustainability in the theatre of operation More importantly the narration makes the point that the Rhodesian colonial system was presided over by European settler leaders who hardly recognized African citizens as entitled to participation in governance of the country with equal rights in social political economical and juridical spheres of societal setting of two main races Exclusion of African from consensus on the act of Unilateral Declaration of Independence UDI by Ian Douglas Smith was a fundamental blunder that precipitated nationwide fury that led to a civil war in which a deprived citizen fought against a privileged citizen who was indoctrinated with falsehood that his adversary freedom fighter was sponsored by foreign powers of a communist type while the latter rightly believed that he was fighting to free his country from racially imposed injustices of deprivation More importantly the narration lays emphasis on the creation of massive political structures throughout the country well below the radar of legality for the purpose of sustaining guerrilla warfare in the face of the super professional Rhodesian security forces In this connection the final phase of armed struggle demonstrated to all at home and abroad that freedom fighters became significantly effective because they were politically rooted in the oppressed population whence came their strength against superior military hardware and a watertight counter insurgency strategy of the Rhodesian security forces Essentially it was that political strength not Communist powers or betrayal by the West which caused all stakeholders to become willing to come to a negotiating table at Lancaster House in Britain in 1979 to settle the armed conflict decisively
