ACRID 2017 Edward Chikuni, Joseph Mutale, Ogbonnaya Okoro Muchael, Peter Manyere, 2018-06-04 The Conference Theme was Moving Africa forward through Engineering Technology and Innovation The conference brought together academics researchers and industrialists from many disciplines in particular those that have the most impact on Africa's Development Most conferences on the continent have covered limited disciplines and therefore the opportunity has been lost sharing information results and knowledge in a way which can solve the many contentious issues most of which can be solved through a multidisciplinary approach

Reading Postcolonial Literature Hayley G. Toth, 2025-03-10 An Open Access edition is available thanks to the kind sponsorship of the libraries participating in the Jisc Open Access Community Framework OpenUP initiative Debates about reading in postcolonial studies rarely discuss non professional readers except to secure the authority of professional reading practices In Reading Postcolonial Literature Hayley G Toth places non professional reading practices in dialogue with received academic wisdom to debunk common sense assumptions about non professional readers as Western or neocolonial consumers Drawing on reading practices recorded in academic books journal articles and on online book reviewing platforms like Amazon and Goodreads Toth draws attention to important continuities between professional and non professional practices of reading postcolonial literature At the same time she highlights that non professionals often have little desire to emulate the practices of professional postcolonial critics Precisely by not adopting the established protocols and methods of postcolonial studies non professional readers call attention to the limits of dominant approaches to reading in the discipline Across four chapters Toth examines the relationship between reading and identity during the Rushdie affair the difference between reading and address the challenges posed by difficult texts and the legitimacy of non understanding and the reception of popular texts primarily read by non professional audiences Reading Postcolonial Literature demonstrates that reception matters in any claims we make about the value of reading postcolonial literature and offers new ways forward for the practice study and teaching of reading in the discipline

African Migration, Human Rights and Literature Fareda Banda, 2020-12-24 This innovative book looks at the topic of migration through the prism of law and literature The author uses a rich mix of novels short stories literary realism human rights and comparative literature to explore the experiences of African migrants and asylum seekers The book is divided into two Part one is conceptual and focuses on art activism and the myriad ways in which people have sought to write justice Using Mazrui's diasporas of slavery and colonialism it then considers histories of migration across the centuries before honing in on the recent anti migration policies of western states Achiume is used to show how these histories of imposition and exploitation create a bond which bestows on Africans a status as co sovereigns of the First World through citizenship The many fictional examples of the schemes used to gain entry are set against the formal legal processes Attention is paid to life post arrival which for asylum seekers may include periods in detention The impact of the increased hostility of receiving states is examined in light of their human rights obligations Consideration is paid to how Africans navigate their post migration lives which includes reconciling themselves to status fracture taking on jobs for which they are over qualified while simultaneously dealing with the resentment borne of status threat on the part of the citizenry Part two moves from the general to consider the intersections of gender and status focusing on women LGBTI individuals and children Focusing on their human rights and the fictional literature chapter four looks at women who have been trafficked as well as domestic workers and hotel maids while chapter five is on LGBTI people whose legal and literary stories are only now being told The final substantive chapter considers the experiences of children who may arrive as unaccompanied minors Using a mixture of poetry and first person accounts the chapter examines the post arrival lives of children some of whom may be citizens but who are continually made to feel like outsiders The conclusion follows starting with two stories about walls by Hadero and Lanchester which are used to illustrate the themes discussed in the book Few African lawyers write about literature and few books and articles in Western law and literature look at books by or about Africans so a book that engages with both is long overdue This book provides fascinating reading for academics students of law literature gender and migration studies and indeed the general public

Sub-Saharan Political Cultures of Deceit in Language, Literature, and the Media, Volume I Esther Mavengano, Isaac Mhute, 2023-11-18 This two volume set charts a cross disciplinary discursive terrain that proffers rich insights about deceit in contemporary postcolonial Sub Saharan African politics In an attempt to produce a nuanced and multi faceted academic dialoguing platform the two volumes have a particular focus on the aspects of treachery fear of difference oppositional politics and discourses semiotics of mis self representation The major aim of the proposed volumes is to contribute toward the often problematised conversations about the unfolding post colonial Sub Saharan world which is topical in decolonial and Pan African studies The volumes seek to place political thinking and postcolonial political systems under the scholarly gaze with the view to highlight and enhance the participation of African cross disciplinary scholarship in the postcolonial political processes of the continent Most significantly it is through such probing of the limitations of our own disciplinary perspectives which can help us appreciate the complexity of the postcolonial Sub Saharan African politics The first volume uses Zimbabwe as a case study while the second volume broadens to examine postcolonial politics in Sub Saharan Africa more broadly

Chinese in Africa Obert Hodzi, 2020-05-21 Chinese in Africa explores the complexities of identities and forms in which the Chinese Migrants in Africa express their Chineseness In its study of the Chinese diaspora in Africa the book eschews tendencies to compound the Chinese by showing their distinctiveness in terms of history culture identity and adaptation mechanisms It pushes beyond the boundaries of ethnic and cultural homogenisation based on a perceived Chinese physiognomy The diversity and hybridity of the Chinese identity and expressions of Chineseness explored in this book s seven chapters is essential to making sense of the historical and contemporary people to people engagements in Africa China relations The book brings together scholars from international relations political science sociology and area studies and draws from their field research and expertise in China and several African countries A multidisciplinary volume Chinese in Africa will be invaluable to scholars students and policymakers interested in identities and expressions of those identities The chapters originally published as a special issue of Asian Ethnicity Civil Society in Zimbabwe Mandlenkosi Mpofu,Dion Nkomo,Kirk Helliker,2025-09-01 This book considers the historical and spatial dimensions of civil society in Zimbabwe s Matabeleland region an area suffering from severe development and democratic deficits over many decades Transcending an organisational conception of civil society and a simplistic state civil society dualist understanding it recognises the dynamic character of civil society as a social space inclusive of less formalised associational forms of collective life as well as the colonial character and legacies of civil society both analytically and empirically This book facilitates a nuanced understanding of the specificities of the social political and economic evolution of Matabeleland in colonial and post colonial Zimbabwe and the region s troubled relations with the central state Historically it traces civil society in Matabeleland from the region s resistance against the colonial settler state to contemporary struggles for justice given the unresolved Gukurahundi legacy Civil society is depicted as constituted by a set of complex and shifting struggles for justice not simply between Matabeleland and the central state but also internally within Matabeleland along multiple fault lines including class and culture The relevance of understanding civil society in Matabeleland for Zimbabwe and Africa more widely is brought to the fore The book will be of interest and value to scholars of civil society politics and democratisation across the African continent Bridging Research and Library Practice Krystyna K. Matusiak,Kawanna M.

Bright,Debbie Schachter,2023-11-20 Bridging the gap between research and practice communities is more pertinent than ever because of the need for evidence in developing and evaluating library services and programs The gap between research and library practice has been discussed in the library and information science LIS field for almost two decades The issues range from limited transfer of ideas from research into practice to a lack of education in research methods for library practitioners This book introduces new voices from international research and practice communities into the discussion and contributes to the debate about the research practice divide Education and continuing training in research methods from international perspectives are explored and the experiences of researcher practitioners from several countries highlight the issues The volume includes chapters from LIS educators academic researchers and researcher practitioners from 18 countries It features the voices of instructors who teach research methods in LIS programs and library practitioners who engage in research The book is addressed to the global audience of LIS educators and practitioners with the goal of deepening the understanding of LIS education and training in research methods through sharing case studies and approaches to teaching and conducting research in practice ICGR 2021 4th International Conference on Gender Research Prof Elisabeth T. Print Culture in Southern Africa Caroline Davis,Archie Dick,Elizabeth le Roux,Dennis Walder,2021-07-29 Print Culture in Southern Africa is concerned with the institutions and processes informing textual production circulation and consumption in the region over a broad historical period from the late 18th century to the present day The book is organised around three closely related themes Firstly it presents original research into the formation of reading publics and the impact of reading cultures by uncovering obscure but important reading communities and circuits of book distribution and reception A second theme is the relationship between print and politics with a particular focus on the networks of power how control over the production and circulation of printed books has shaped literary and cultural development The third theme is transnational print culture and how the control exercised by publishers in Europe and America has shaped literature and society in southern Africa Drawing together interdisciplinary research and diverse methodologies the collection encompasses a range of perspectives including literary studies anthropology publishing studies the history of the book and art history and many of the chapters are based on previously unexamined archives and collections The volume contributes to current debates and opens up new and exciting ways of furthering the study of postcolonial literature and African book history The chapters included in this book were originally published in the Journal of Southern African Studies

Making Politics in Zimbabwe's Second Republic Gordon Moyo, Kirk Helliker, 2023-05-16 The book provides a fresh and innovative interpretation of the new government of Zimbabwe led by Emmerson Mnangagwa which emerged in late 2017 after the downfall of Robert Mugabe It demonstrates the contradictory character of the Mnangagwa government involving both continuities and discontinuities in relation to Mugabe's regime The temptation amongst Zimbabwean scholars has been to focus on the continuities and to dismiss the significance of any discontinuities notably reform measures This book adopts an alternative approach by identifying and focusing specifically on the existence of a formative project of the Mnangagwa's Second Republic further analysing its political significance as well as risks and limitations While doing so the book covers topics such as reform measures reconciliation transitional justice corruption the media agriculture devolution and the debt crisis as well as health and education Discussing the limitations of these different reform measures the book highlights that any scholarly failure to identify the risks of the project leads to an incomplete understanding of what constitutes the Mnangagwa's Second Republic The book appeals to students scholars and researchers of Zimbabwean and African studies political science and international relations as well as policymakers interested in a better understanding of political reform processes
