Mountains: Physical, Human-Environmental, and Sociocultural Dynamics Mark A. Fonstad, 2018-12-07 Mountains have captured the interests and passions of people for thousands of years Today millions of people live within mountain regions and mountain regions are often areas of accelerated environmental change This edited volume highlights new understanding of mountain environments and mountain peoples around the world The understanding of mountain environments and peoples has been a focus of individual researchers for centuries more recently the interest in mountain regions among researchers has been growing rapidly The articles contained within are from a wide spectrum of researchers from different parts of the world who address physical political theoretical social empirical environmental methodological and economic issues focused on the geography of mountains and their inhabitants The articles in this special issue are organized into three themed sections with very loose boundaries between themes 1 physical dynamics of mountain environments 2 coupled human physical dynamics and 3 sociocultural dynamics in mountain regions This book was first published as a special issue of the Annals of the American Association of Geographers Danish journal of geography ,1999 Selected Water Resources Abstracts ,1986 Resources in Education ,1990 Architecture and the Urban Environment Derek Thomas, 2007-06-01 This well illustrated text forms a critical appraisal of the place and direction of architecture and urban design in a new world order at the start of the 21st century The book defines architectural and environmental goals for the New Age by analysing recent contemporary work for its responsiveness to important social and environmental issues and comparing it to successful precedents in architecture It argues that this new sustainable approach to architecture should be recognised as a new development of mainstream architectural history This practical guide illustrates current social and natural resource issues to aid architects in their approach to future design Environmental economics is presented as a potential bridge over the divide between the expectations of the business sector and the concerns of environmental lobbies Through examples and case studies an accessible analysis of carefully researched data drawn from primary sources over four continents allows the author to outline the current urgency for architects and urban designers to respond with real commitment to current and future changing contexts This book expresses a holistic vision and proposes a value system in response to the diagnosis It includes sound architectural and environmental ethics end user involvement in the design process and technological advances aimed at sustainable resource use Includes international case studies from Europe North America the Developing world including South Africa South America and Central Asia Handbook of Land and Water Grabs in Africa John Anthony Allan, 2013 Four other themes will address politics economics the environment and the history of land investments in sub Saharan Africa Geographical Education Magazine ,1996 Living Under Contract Peter D. Little, Michael Watts, 1994 Wracked by poverty famine and drought Africa is typically represented as agriculturally stagnant backward and crisis prone Living Under Contract however highlights the dynamic changing character of sub

Saharan agrarian systems by focusing on contract farming A relatively new and increasingly widespread way of organizing peasant agriculture contract farming promotes production of a wide variety of crops from flowers to cocoa from fresh vegetables to rice under contract to agribusinesses exporters and processors The proliferation of African growers producing under contract is in fact part of broader changes in the global agro food system In this examination of agricultural restructuring and its effect upon various African societies editors Peter Little and Michael Watts bring together anthropologists economists geographers political scientists and sociologists to explore the origins forms and consequences of contract production in several African countries particularly Kenya the Gambia Zimbabwe and the Ivory Coast Documenting how contract production links farmers agribusiness and the state the contributors examine problematic aspects of this method of agrarian reform Their case studies based on long term field work and analysis on the village and household level chart the complex effects of contract production on the organization of work and the labor process rural inequality gender relations labor markets local accumulation strategies and regional development Living Under Contract reveals that contract farming represents a distinctive form in which African growers are incorporated into national and world markets Contract production which has been a central feature of the agricultural landscape in the advanced capitalist states is an emerging strategy for capturing peasants and for confronting the agrarian question in the late twentieth century The Bookman ,1904 The Subject Index to Periodicals ,1929 Subject Index to Periodicals ,1929 Serials in the British Library ,2008 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1992 Calendar University of Zimbabwe,1994 Sociological Abstracts Leo P.
