Ponzetti, Jr., 2015-07-16 This is the first book to provide a comprehensive multidisciplinary overview of evidence based relationship and marriage education RME programs Readers are introduced to the best practices for designing implementing and evaluating effective RME programs to better prepare them to teach clients how to have healthy intimate relationships Noted contributors from various disciplines examine current programs and best practices often by the original developers themselves Readers learn to critically appraise approaches and design and implement effective evidence based programs in the future Examples and discussion questions encourage readers to examine issues and apply what they have learned The conceptual material in Parts I II provides critical guidance for practitioners who wish to develop implement and evaluate RME programs in various settings Chapters in Parts III IV follow a consistent structure so readers can more easily compare programs program overview and history theoretical foundations needs assessment and target audience program goals objectives curriculum issues cultural Implications evidence based research and evaluation and additional resources This book reflects what the editor has learned from teaching relationship development and family life education courses over the past decade and includes the key information that students need to become competent professionals Highlights of the book s coverage include Comprehensive summary of effective evidence based RME training programs in one volume Prepares readers for professional practice as a Certified Family Life Educator CFLE by highlighting the fundamentals of developing RME programs Describes the challenges associated with RME program evaluation The book opens with a historical overview of RME development It is followed by 20 chapters divided in six parts The initial four chapters focus on fundamentals of relationship and marriage education program development required training delivery systems and implementation The three chapters in Part II consider important conceptual and theoretical frameworks used in RME Part III considers best practices in inventory based programs while Part IV examines six skills based programs The chapters in Parts III and IV consider program overview and history theoretical foundations needs assessment and target audience program goals and objectives curriculum issues cultural implications evidence based research evaluation and additional resources This content covers four categories of effective programs design and content relevance delivery and implementation and assessment and quality assurance Part V presents evidence based RME with diverse groups and Part VI reviews future directions Intended for use in advanced undergraduate or graduate courses in relationship and marriage education family life education marriage and relationship counseling therapy intimate relationships relationship development or home school community services taught in human development and family studies psychology social work sociology religion and more this ground breaking book also serves as a resource for practitioners therapists counselors clergy members and policy makers interested in evidence based RME programs and those seeking to become Certified Family Life Educators or preparing for a career in RME Research on e-Learning and ICT in

Education Charalampos Karagiannidis, Panagiotis Politis, Ilias Karasavvidis, 2014-08-07 An essential text for researchers and academics seeking the most comprehensive and up to date coverage of all aspects of e learning and ICT in education this book is a multidisciplinary forum covering technical pedagogical organizational instructional and policy aspects of the topic Representing the best peer reviewed papers from the 8th Panhellenic Conference on ICT in Education special emphasis is given to applied research relevant to educational practice and guided by the educational realities in schools colleges universities and informal learning organizations The volume encompasses the current trends and issues which determine and inform the integration of ICT in educational practice including educational software educational games collaborative learning virtual learning environments social networks learning analytics digital museums as well as the evolution of e learning

Designing Learning Environments for Developing Understanding of Geometry and Space Richard Lehrer, Daniel Chazan, 2012-11-12 This volume reflects an appreciation of the interactive roles of subject matter teacher student and technologies in designing classrooms that promote understanding of geometry and space Although these elements of geometry education are mutually constituted the book is organized to highlight first the editors vision of a general geometry education second the development of student thinking in everyday and classroom contexts and third the role of technologies Rather than looking to high school geometry as the locus and all too often the apex of geometric reasoning the contributors to this volume suggest that reasoning about space can and should be successfully integrated with other forms of mathematics starting at the elementary level and continuing through high school Reintegrating spatial reasoning into the mathematical mainstream indeed placing it at the core of K 12 mathematics environments that promote learning with understanding will mean increased attention to problems in modeling structure and design and reinvigoration of traditional topics such as measure dimension and form Further the editors position is that the teaching of geometry and spatial visualization in school should not be compressed into a characterization of Greek geometry but should include attention to contributions to the mathematics of space that developed subsequent to those of the Greeks This volume is essential reading for those involved in mathematics education at all levels including university faculty researchers and graduate students School Mathematics
