Wellsprings of Knowledge Leonard Dororhy, Leading with Knowledge Richard C. Huseman, Jon P. Goodman, 1999 Knowledge management is more than a buzzword it s a way of thinking and acting Stemming from a rich organizational history the term knowledge organization has evolved to describe organizations that recognize the competitive advantage of intellectual capital particularly that represented by their employees Based on their landmark study of more than 200 of America s largest companies Richard C Huseman and Jon P Goodman found that 78 percent of the corporations surveyed say they are moving toward becoming knowledge organizations Leading With Knowledge provides examples of best practices and blueprints for developing a leading 21st century organization

The Inquiring Organization Catherine Kikoski, John Kikoski, 2004-07-30 This book provides the context and tools to create knowledge via a proven process of inquiry questions and conversation It introduces the theoretical background to explain why as well as the practical hands on skills and processes to demonstrate how to surface tacit knowledge that which we know but which we have not yet made explicit in conversation e g background education and experience and create new knowledge in collaboration with colleagues In the information economy knowledge is an asset and a currency The creation of new knowledge therefore enhances an organization s position in the marketplace How do we create new knowledge We don t do it by learning what is already known The learning organization is already pass Instead we do it by inquiring which is a method of bringing tacit knowledge to the forefront of awareness The inquiring organization surfaces tacit knowledge which is what its employees bring to the table their background education experience character and judgment and transforms that knowledge into new explicit knowledge that can be transferred from one employee to another through conversation That is true knowledge creation and this book provides the tools skills techniques and processes for executives and professionals in any field to accomplish this task in today s fluid environment
