Introduction

Thank you for purchasing HAI Home Control for Windows Media Center.

HAI Home Control is software that runs on a Windows Media Center computer for controlling lighting, temperatures, and security on a television using a single Media Center remote control. A Windows Media Center coordinates music, television, and home photography for an enjoyable home entertainment experience. HAI's Home Control coordinates security, temperature, and lighting for comfort, convenience and safety.

A Windows Media Center is an easy-to-use integrated digital entertainment center. It can play, pause and rewind live TV, play DVDs and CDs, store your digital music, videos and photos, browse the Internet, e-mail and run Windows XP applications. With HAI Home Control, the Windows Media Center presents your HAI system's features, too. You get menus for lighting control, security, temperature control, macros, the event log, and more. So you can settle in for a great movie with the lights, temperature, and security adjusted exactly as you please.

HAI Home Control runs on a single Windows Media Center computer that is connected to an HAI controller through an RS-232 / RS-485 serial interface or to an HAI OmniPro II over its built-in Ethernet port. The HAI Home Control pages can be viewed and accessed over the connected display device including television sets. Additionally, it can be viewed and accessed from various other display devices (i.e. television sets) in a home using Windows Media Center Extenders. Media Center Extenders allow you to enjoy digital entertainment and home control from any room in your home.
