Democracy & Education, 2006 Constructing Modern Asian Citizenship Edward Vickers, Krishna Kumar, 2014-12-05 In many non Western contexts modernization has tended to be equated with Westernization and hence with an abandonment of authentic indigenous identities and values This is evident in the recent history of many Asian societies where efforts to modernize spurred on by the spectre of foreign domination have often been accompanied by determined attempts to stamp national variants of modernity with the brand of local authenticity Asian values Chinese characteristics a Japanese cultural essence and so forth Highlighting or exaggerating associations between the more unsettling consequences of modernization and alien influence has thus formed part of a strategy whereby elites in many Asian societies have sought to construct new forms of legitimacy for old patterns of dominance over the masses The apparatus of modern systems of mass education often inherited from colonial rulers has been just one instrument in such campaigns of state legitimation This book presents analyses of a range of contemporary projects of citizenship formation across Asia in order to identify those issues and concerns most central to Asian debates over the construction of modern identities Its main focus is on schooling but also examines other vehicles for citizenship formation such as museums and the internet the role of religion in particular Islam in debates over citizenship and identity in certain Asian societies and the relationship between state centred identity discourses and the experience of increasingly globalized elites With chapters from an international team of contributors this interdisciplinary volume will appeal to students and scholars of Asian culture and society Asian education comparative education and citizenship Re-Membering History in Student and Teacher Learning Joyce E. King, Ellen E. Swartz, 2014-03-05 What kind of social studies knowledge can stimulate a critical and ethical dialog with the past and present

Re Membering History in Student and Teacher Learning answers this question by explaining and illustrating a process of historical recovery that merges Afrocentric theory and principles of culturally informed curricular practice to reconnect multiple knowledge bases and experiences In the case studies presented K 12 practitioners teacher educators preservice teachers and parents use this praxis to produce and then study the use of democratized student texts they step outside of reproducing standard school experiences to engage in conscious inquiry about their shared present as a continuance of a shared past This volume exemplifies not only why instructional materials including most so called multicultural materials obstruct democratized knowledge but also takes the next step to construct and then study how re membered student texts can be used Case study findings reveal improved student outcomes enhanced relationships between teachers and families and teachers and students and a closer connection for children and adults to their heritage An Investigation Into the Historical Adequacy of Sections of Fifth Grade Textbooks which Deal with the Reasons for and the Framing of the Constitution of the United States Alice H. Tibbetts, 1966 Age of Folly Lewis H. Lapham, 2016-10-25 In twenty five years of imperial adventure America has laid waste to its principles of democracy The self glorifying march of folly steps off at the end of the Cold War in an era when delusions of omnipotence allowed the market to climb to virtual heights while society was divided between the selfish and frightened rich and the increasingly debt ridden and angry poor The new millennium saw the democratic election of an American president nullified by the Supreme Court and the pretender launching a wasteful vainglorious and never ending war on terror doomed to end in defeat and the loss of America s prestige abroad All this culminates in the sunset swamp of the 2016 election a farce dominated by Donald Trump a self glorifying photo op bursting star spangled bombast in air This spectacle would be familiar to Aristotle whose portrayal of the prosperous fool describes a class of people who consider themselves worthy to hold public office for they already have the things that give them a claim to office
