New York Nouveau Sara Kippur, 2025-08-12 Postwar French writers were at the vanguard of global literary innovation from the experimental minimalism of the Nouveau Roman to the literary games of the OuLiPo but less often appreciated is the extent to which they worked closely with US editors and translators published actively with American presses and often theorized transatlantic connections within their work In this exciting new work Sara Kippur proposes a new French literary history that traces the deep connections between postwar literary experimentalism and the New York publishing industry compellingly arguing that US based editors publishers producers professors and translators crucially intervened to shape French literature While Kippur attends closely to well known writers such as Marguerite Duras Samuel Beckett Eugène Ionesco Georges Perec and Alain Robbe-Grillet she also amplifies the voices of those who have been less visible though no less relevant including women whose contributions have not received proper credit but who helped to foster a sense of new possibilities for twentieth century French writing With these untold histories stitched together in this book through new archival discoveries from special collections and personal archives on both sides of the Atlantic Kippur begins to dismantle rigid notions of canonicity authorship and national literature

Ethics and Images of Pain

Asbjørn Grønstad, Henrik Gustafsson, 2012-04-27 Few phenomena are as formative of our experience of the visual world as displays of suffering But what does it mean to have an ethical experience of disturbing or traumatizing images What kind of ethical proposition does an image of pain mobilize How may the spectator learn from and make use of the painful image as a source of ethical reflection Engaging with a wide range of visual media from painting theatre and sculpture to photography film and video this interdisciplinary collection of essays by leading and emerging scholars of visual culture offers a reappraisal of the increasingly complex relationship between images of pain and the ethics of viewing Ethics and Images of Pain reconsiders the persistent and ever pertinent nexus of aesthetics and ethics the role of painful images as generators of unpredictable forms of affect the moral transformation of spectatorship the ambivalence of the witness and the representation of affliction as a fundamental form of our shared scopic experience The instructive and illuminating essays in the collection introduce a phenomenological context in which to make sense of our current ecology of excruciating images one that accentuates notions of responsibility empathy and imagination Contributors trace the images of pain across a miscellany of case studies and amongst the topics addressed are the work of artists as disparate as Doris Salcedo Anselm Kiefer and Bendik Riis photographs from Abu Ghraib and Rwanda Hollywood war films and animated documentaries performances of self immolations and incidents of police brutality captured on mobile phones

The Novel André Brink, 1998-05-29 The Postmodernist novel has become famous for the extremes of its narcissistic involvement with language In this challenging and wide-ranging new study Andr Brink argues that this self-consciousness has been a characteristic of the novel since its earliest stirrings More specifically every novel appears both to construct and to be constructed by its own notion of language elaborated through all the strategies of narrative Taking as his starting point the propensity for story embedded in language he offers stimulating new readings of novels from Cervantes to Calvino demonstrating that in many respects the old familiar texts may be more startlingly modern and the Postmodernist texts more firmly rooted in convention than we tend to think

Front Cover Iconography and Algerian Women's Writing Pamela A. Pears, 2015-10-29 The front covers of books written by Algerian women serve as the primary source of investigation in Front Cover Iconography and Algerian Women Writers These covers have implications that extend beyond selling the book What we see on one side of the page or in this case the cover recto controls what we read on the reverse in this case the text itself verso Using theories of the paratext including those of Gérard Genette and Jonathan Gray this book determines how four dominant iconographies used on the covers of Algerian women's writing Orientalist art the veil the desert and the author portrait work with and against the texts they represent These images have an impact on the initial reception of the book but beyond that book covers determine how both the informed and uninformed reader categorize and interpret francophone Algerian women's writing in France and beyond As the covers help to sell the works they also produce messages represented via their iconographies that embed themselves into the texts A sometimes explicit and at the very least implicit dialog between the visual paratextual representation and the written textual one is created a dialog that extends beyond the life of the physical book to a sort of canonical paradigm for reading these authors works Thus even if the cover image appears ephemeral it never truly disappears Its powerful control over critical reception and ultimately interpretation of francophone Algerian women's writing remains

The Impossible Exile George Prochnik, 2015-08-25 Winner of the National Jewish Book Award for Biography Now in paperback the biography of Austrian writer Stefan Zweig the inspiration behind The Grand Budapest Hotel Wes Anderson's award winning film By the 1930s Stefan Zweig had become the most widely translated living author in the world His novels short stories and biographies were so compelling that they became instant best sellers Zweig was also an intellectual and a lover of all the arts high and low Yet after Hitler's rise to power this celebrated writer who had dedicated so much energy to promoting international humanism plummeted in a matter of a few years into an increasingly isolated exile from London to Bath to New York City then Ossining Rio and finally Petrpolis where in 1942 in a cramped bungalow he killed himself The Impossible Exile tells the tragic story of Zweig's extraordinary rise and fall while it also depicts with great acumen the gulf between the world of ideas in Europe and in America and the consuming struggle of those forced to forsake one for the other

State of Peril Lucy Valerie Graham,2015 Considering fiction from the colonial era to the present State of Peril offers the first sustained scholarly examination of rape narratives in the literature of a country that has extremely high levels of sexual violence Lucy Graham demonstrates how despite the fact that most incidents of rape in South Africa are not interracial narratives of interracial rape have dominated the national imaginary Seeking to understand this phenomenon the study draws on Michel Foucault's ideas on sexuality and biopolitics as well as Judith Butler's speculations on race and cultural melancholia Historical analysis of the body politic provides the backdrop for careful close readings of literature by Olive Schreiner Sol Plaatje Sarah Gertrude Millin Njabulo Ndebele J M Coetzee Zo Wicomb and others Ultimately State of Peril argues for ethically responsible interpretations that recognize high levels of sexual violence in South Africa while parsing the racialized inferences and assumptions implicit in literary representations of bodily violation
