National Assembly,1999 Online Teaching and Learning in Higher Education Mariam Akinlolu,Manyane Makua,Nomalungelo Ngubane,2024-06-03 This edited volume explores current practices in African higher education during and post the global pandemic It fills a gap in the existing literature by focusing on student engagement and online learning in South Africa and examines how pandemic restrictions amplified pre existing inequalities within the higher education sector The book is divided into 3 sections The first section discusses various methods of instruction and the use of online tools for facilitating learning succeeded by a section focusing on the resource implications of moving to online learning platforms from a social justice perspective and finally the last section considers issues and concerns about online assessments and quality assurance Drawing on lessons from the experiences of South African educators and students during the pandemic this book provides a knowledge base essential for the effective management of online teaching and learning in Africa It is intended for academic stakeholders to develop and engender an improved higher education climate OECD Economic Surveys: South Africa 2017 OECD,2017-07-24 Over the last two decades South Africa has accomplished enormous social progress by bringing to millions of citizens access to key public services Nevertheless growth has trended down markedly recently due to constraints on the supply side Low growth has led to the stagnation of GDP per Contemporary Issues In Education ,2005-01-01 Following the warm reception given to

The Idea of Education a volume of papers in this same Rodopi Series a second conference around similar themes was held at Oxford University and this book is the result This edited book provides the reader with a fairly representative coherent and cohesive statement of the 2003 Oxford conference Quoting the Chancellor of Paris University with regretting that in the old days lectures were more frequent but now the time taken for lectures is being spent in meeting and discussions our keynote Frank McMahon made the profound observation that some of the issues around education have been with us for a surprisingly long time Notwithstanding the longevity of some questions concerning education this book details and examines contemporary educational practice and theory and as such it is a very important work

Higher Education in the BRICS Countries Simon Schwartzman,Rómulo Pinheiro,Pundy Pillay,2015-03-24 In spite of the increasing attention attributed to the rise in prominence of the BRICS Brazil Russia India China and South Africa countries few studies have looked at the ways in which broader social expectations with respect to the role of higher education across the BRICS have changed or not in recent years Our point of departure is that contrary to the conventional wisdom focusing on functionalistic perspectives higher education systems are not just designed by governments to fulfill certain functions but have a tendency for evolving in a rather unpredictable fashion as a result of the complex interplay between a number of internal and external factors In reality national higher education systems develop and change according to a complex process that encompasses the expectations of governmental agencies markets the aspirations of the population for the benefits of education the specific institutional traditions and cultures of higher education institutions and increasingly so the interests and strategies of the private firms entering and offering services in the higher education market This basically means that it is of outmost importance to move away from conceiving of universities or higher education as single monolithic actors or sector One way of doing this is by investigating a selected number of distinct but nonetheless interrelated factors or drivers which taken together help determine the nature and scope of the social compact between higher education its core actors and institutions and society at large government industry local communities professional associations
