Chemicals United States. Bureau of Domestic Commerce, 1968 China-India Economics Amitendu Palit, 2013-06-17 A review of the existing literature on the China India comparative theme conveys the distinct impression that the literature largely projects China and India as intrinsically competitive entities While much has been written on where and why China and India are contesting particularly from a political sense very little attention has been devoted to mutual collaboration whether existing or potential Such possibilities are at their greatest in economics which will dominate the future China India relationship This book explores Sino Indian ties from a comparative economic perspective and argues that it is erroneous to visualise the ties either from exclusively competitive or collaborative perspectives The future relationship between the two countries will be characterised simultaneously by two C s competition and collaboration which are both linked to common challenges facing them Arguing that while competition in the economic sphere is inevitable given their size and aspirations the book contends that negative externalities from competition will encourage both countries to collaborate and expand the scope of such collaboration The book s refreshing angle makes it a must read for those interested in Sino Indian relationship

China Economic News ,1995 Chemicals ,1967 Directory of Chinese external economic organizations & commercial/industrial enterprises ,1987 Antidumping Measures: Policy, Law and Practice in India Sheela Rai,2014-06-02 Antidumping Measures have been criticised as anti to competition policy It is alleged that they are usually abused by small group of producers to protect their monopoly or to protect their cartel prices India after liberalisation of its economy has become one of the leading users of antidumping measures Indian use of antidumping measures are being criticised on the same lines on which antidumping measures are generally criticised Through the analysis of 150 sample cases the author finds that the criticism is not justified In addition to it antidumping measures have to be analysed in the general economic policy background of the country The book attempts to do the same and concludes that although there are very few cases in which antidumping measures were sought for protectionist purposes in general Indian domestic industry has been vulnerable when it sought the protection of antidumping measures Antidumping measures in a way are a tool to regularly check market distortions before these distortions become serious enough to attract the notice of the competition authority These measures also help in maintenance of trade on MFN basis as dumped products as much hurt imports from other sources as they hurt the domestic industry Predicasts F & S Index International Annual ,1985 The Chemical Market Report ,1950 Chemical and Rubber Industry Report United States.
