General Notes on Chicago Style

- Chicago style is sometimes referred to as Turabian style, which is a modified version of Chicago style, and which is outlined in A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations by Kate L. Turabian. Copies of this style manual (7th ed.) are also available at SFU Library.
- Chicago style outlines two distinct citation styles, and this guide covers only the Humanities style:
  - Notes/bibliography style, also known as "Humanities style." Sources are cited through footnotes (or endnotes) and a bibliography
  - Author/date style, also known as "Scientific/Social Sciences style." Sources are cited through parenthetical author/date references in the text and a reference list
- Your paper must be double-spaced. It is conventional to single-space footnotes and bibliographies, leaving a blank line between entries.
- Every page of the paper must be assigned a page number, including blank pages, appendices, and bibliography. Arabic numerals are centered or flush right at the top of the page.
- You need to cite and document any sources that you have consulted, even if you presented the ideas from these sources in your own words. You need to cite:
  - to identify other people's ideas and information used within your essay
  - to inform the reader of your paper where they should look if they want to find the same sources
- A citation must appear in two places in your essay:
  - in the body of your text ("in-text citations")
  - in the Reference List (at the end of your paper)
- To introduce other people's ideas in text, use the following examples:
Richardson argues, refers to, explains, hypothesizes, compares, concludes;
As Littlewood and Sherwin demonstrated, proved, ... etc.
- Webster's Third New International Dictionary and Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary are the standard spelling references for all Chicago citations (7.1)
- You are responsible for the accuracy of all information in your bibliography.

References in Text: Footnotes and Endnotes (16.19-16.35; 16.59-16.65)

- In Chicago notes/bibliography style, footnotes or endnotes are used to cite quotes, paraphrases, and other in-text references
  - Footnotes are numbered citations listed at the bottom of each page in the research paper
  - Endnotes are numbered citations listed on a single page at the end of the research paper
- To cite a source, a small superscript (raised) number is placed after each in-text reference (16.25). Throughout the paper, these in-text references are numbered in sequential order. For example:

Mooney found that "domestic violence has, since the 1970s, been increasingly recognized as a social problem."<sup>1</sup>

Chicago Manual of Style      Doing Honest Work in College Charles Lipson, 2013-04-01 Since its publication in 2004 Doing Honest Work in College has become an integral part of academic integrity and first year experience programs across the country. This helpful guide explains the principles of academic integrity in a clear straightforward way and shows students how to apply them in all academic situations from paper writing and independent research to study groups and lab work. Teachers can use this book to open a discussion with their students about these difficult issues. Students will find a trusted resource for citation help whether they are studying comparative literature or computer science. Every major reference style is represented. Most important of all, many universities that adopt this book report a reduction in cheating and plagiarism on campus. For this second edition, Charles Lipson has updated hundreds of examples and included many new media sources. There is now a full chapter on how to take good notes and use them properly in papers and assignments. The extensive list of citation styles incorporates guidelines from the American Anthropological Association. The result is the definitive resource on academic integrity that students can use every day. Georgetown's entering class will discover that we actually have given them what we expect will be a very useful book. Doing Honest Work in College It will be one of the first things students see on their residence hall desks when they move in and we hope they will realize how important the topic is. James J. O'Donnell, Provost, Georgetown University. A useful book to keep on your reference shelf. Bonita L. Wilcox, English Leadership Quarterly.

A Manual of Style and Standards in Academic Writing, Editing and Publishing Manzurul Islam, 2015-12-30 This is a unique book covering topics of both academic and professional interest. Be they new Teachers, Researchers, Authors, Editors, Copyeditors, Graduate students or corporate executives and officials having anything to do with writing, editing and publishing, this Manual and Some Thoughts will be a trusted companion. Starting from issues on Language and Style, Citations and Referencing, Editing, Plagiarism etc, the volume also encompasses Articles on publishing and book development proposals in South Asia and other non-English speaking regions. The book will be a handy guide in maintaining consistencies and acceptable standards. The Manual is a concise compilation of Styles and Standards from various authentic sources in Part 1 as well as an analysis of the present status of publishing in Part 2 in Bangladesh and elsewhere. A painstaking research-based and brief but well-illustrated Manual on Standards and a short but thought-provoking work on publishing, the book also suggests an academic Course on Publishing all for dissemination of knowledge and scholarship. An academic, an open learning proponent and a publishing professional of long standing, the Author was a senior Faculty in universities and research organizations in Bangladesh and abroad. A PhD in Communication with a Masters in English, Manzurul Islam received advanced training in UK, USA and Canada. His recent engagements include Faculty Development and Quality Assurance programs through trainings in research and publication works.      A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, Eighth Edition Kate L. Turabian, 2013-04-09 A little more than seventy-five years ago, Kate L. Turabian drafted a set of guidelines to help students understand how to write, cite and formally submit research writing.

Seven editions and more than nine million copies later the name Turabian has become synonymous with best practices in research writing and style Her Manual for Writers continues to be the gold standard for generations of college and graduate students in virtually all academic disciplines Now in its eighth edition A Manual for Writers of Research Papers Theses and Dissertations has been fully revised to meet the needs of today s writers and researchers The Manual retains its familiar three part structure beginning with an overview of the steps in the research and writing process including formulating questions reading critically building arguments and revising drafts Part II provides an overview of citation practices with detailed information on the two main scholarly citation styles notes bibliography and author date an array of source types with contemporary examples and detailed guidance on citing online resources The final section treats all matters of editorial style with advice on punctuation capitalization spelling abbreviations table formatting and the use of quotations Style and citation recommendations have been revised throughout to reflect the sixteenth edition of The Chicago Manual of Style With an appendix on paper format and submission that has been vetted by dissertation officials from across the country and a bibliography with the most up to date listing of critical resources available A Manual for Writers remains the essential resource for students and their teachers
