They made their names between the Oscar Wilde trial and Stonewall when homosexuality meant criminality and perversion. And yet both Stein and Capote openly and exclusively gay built their outsize reputations on works that directly featured homosexuality and a queer aesthetic. How did these writers become mass market celebrities while other gay public figures were closeted or censored? And what did their fame mean for queer writers and readers and for the culture in general? Jeff Solomon explores these questions in So Famous and So Gay. Celebrating lesbian partnership, The Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas was published in 1933 and rocketed Stein, the Jewish lesbian intellectual, avant-garde American expatriate to international stardom and a mass market readership. Fifteen years later when Capote published Other Voices, Other Rooms, a novel of explicit homosexual sex and love, his fame itself became famous. Through original archival research, Solomon traces the construction and impact of the writers' public personae from a gay affirmative perspective. He historically situates author photos, celebrity gossip and other ephemera to explain how Stein and Capote expressed homosexuality and negotiated homophobia through the fleeting depiction of what could not be directly written: maneuvers that other gay writers such as Gore Vidal, Tennessee Williams and James Baldwin could not manage at the time. Finally So Famous and So Gay reveals what Capote's and Stein's debuts, Other Voices, Other Rooms and Three Lives held for queer readers in terms of gay identity and psychology and for gay authors who wrote in their wake. Who's Who in Lesbian and Gay Writing Gabriele Griffin, 2003-09-02 A lively and accessible guide to lesbian and gay literary culture. Featuring authors of works with lesbian or gay content as well as known lesbian and gay writers, it offers an invaluable guide to a rich and varied literary culture. Food and Emotions in Italian Women's Writing Patrizia Sambuco, 2024-11-30 Food and Emotions in Italian Women's Writing discusses the relevance of food imagery in the writing of Italian women over a period of one hundred years from the 1920s to the present day while offering new ways to narrate women's history and creativity In this groundbreaking work Patrizia Sambuco shows how food imagery in different historical periods challenge established political discourses by conveying unexpressed alternative or transgressive emotions Through literary analysis archival research and philosophical approaches to the senses emotions and food the book considers a variety of authors from the celebrated to the hardly known Sambuco argues that in different ways throughout the decades the conceptual domain of food has helped express forms of selfhood that push the boundaries of womanhood and interact with cultural and political panoramas at national and international levels Building an alternative history of Italian women and their creativity Sambuco shows how the interplay of the senses and emotions becomes a profitable way to illuminate overlooked aspects of women's subjectivity Food and Emotions in Italian Women's Writing ultimately reassesses women's writing giving value to the marginality of women's bodies and positions through the conceptual domain of food

Food and Culture in the Works of Ford Madox Ford, Gertrude Stein, and Virginia Woolf Nanette O'Brien, 2024-01-09 Writing about food has long been a part of autobiographical expression that combines culinary record keeping and histories drawing on the personal and the cultural Concentrating on the transatlantic work of Ford Madox Ford Gertrude Stein and Virginia Woolf this book illuminates modernist uses of the terms civilization and barbarism showing how these concepts are shaped by the rules of preparing and eating food in literature and in public Nanette O'Brien introduces the concept of culinary Impressionism as an extension and repositioning of current scholarly thinking about Ford's literary Impressionism and his synesthetic writing about cookery and small farming She also presents a new reading of Stein's crafting of her modernist authority as interlinked with her cooks and shows Stein's and Toklas's jointly authored unpublished cookbook draft as evidence of their direct authorial collaboration and of Stein adapting domestic culinary techniques into her other writing O'Brien goes on to present new archival research demonstrating that Virginia Woolf's representation of the financial and culinary difference between men's and women's dining in colleges at the University of Cambridge is justified and the material inequality was in fact worse than previously understood This disparity in institutional food intensifies Woolf's later reimagining of the term civilization While drawing on themes of modernism and life writing the everyday domestic life and gender the book argues that food is a vehicle for positive modernist reconceptions of civilization
