The Art Of Adapting A Novel:

The Art of Adaptation: Turning Fact and Fiction into Film Linda Seger, 2011-04-01 Adaptations have long been a mainstay of Hollywood and the television networks. Indeed, most Academy Award and Emmy Award winning films have been adaptations of novels, plays, or true life stories. Linda Seger, author of two acclaimed books on scriptwriting, now offers a comprehensive handbook for screenwriters, producers, and directors who want to successfully transform fictional or factual material into film. Seger tells how to analyze source material to understand why some of it resists adaptation. She then gives practical methods for translating story, characters, themes, and style into film. A final section details essential information on how to adapt material and how to protect oneself legally. Stanley Kubrick and the Art of Adaptation Greg

Jenkins, 2015-08-13 Paring a novel into a two-hour film is an arduous task for even the best screenwriters and directors. Often the resulting movies are far removed from the novel, sometimes to the point of being unrecognizable. Stanley Kubrick's adaptations have consistently been among the best. Hollywood has to offer Kubrick's film adaptations of three novels: Lolita, The Shining, and Full Metal Jacket. These are analyzed in this work. The primary focus is on the alterations in the characters and narrative structure, with additional attention to style, scope, pace, mood, and meaning. Kubrick's adaptations simplify, impose a new visuality, reduce violence, and render the moral slant more conventional. Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here. Literature Through Film Robert Stam, 2004-10-22 This lively and accessible textbook, written by an expert in film studies, provides a fascinating introduction to the process and art of literature-to-film adaptations. It provides a lively, rigorous, and clearly written account of key moments in the history of the novel, from Don Quixote and Robinson Crusoe up to Lolita and One Hundred Years of Solitude. It includes diversity of topics and titles, such as Fielding, Nabokov, and Cervantes in adaptations by Welles, Kubrick, and the French New Wave. It emphasizes both the literary texts themselves and their varied transtextual film adaptations. It examines numerous literary trends, from the self-conscious novel to magic realism, before exploring the cinematic impact of the movement. It reinvigorates the field of adaptation studies by examining it through the grid of contemporary theory. It brings novels and film adaptations into the age of multiculturalism, postcoloniality, and the Internet by reflecting on their contemporary relevance. The Art of Adapting Cassandra
