The Cases of Cameroon, South Africa, Eritrea and Zimbabwe* Donald P. Chimanihire,2009 Student activism in Africa at least since the early 1990s has been preoccupied with popular struggles for democracy in both their respective countries and institutions of higher learning The changing socio economic and political conditions in many African countries characterized by the decline in economic growth and the introduction of multi party politics among several other factors have had different impact on students and student political organizations in African universities This book recounts the responses of students to these changes in their attempt to negotiate better living and studying conditions The four case studies contained in the book Cameroon South Africa Zimbabwe and Eritrea clearly reveal the very important aspects of the situation in which African students find themselves in many countries and underscores the need to understand the character and development of higher education on the continent Ministries of Higher Education Vice Chancellors Deans of Students Student Unions and parents will find this book very useful in terms of understanding the tensions that often arise at institutions of higher learning and why solutions seem to be elusive Zimbabwe Journal of Educational Research ,2005 Quality-quantity Dilemma in Education Bernard S. M. Gatawa,1998 Teacher in Zimbabwe ,1993 Noah: To the Rescue Paramita Sen,2005-09 Noah the friendly virus has long escaped the claustrophobic confines of the computer and found the partner of his dreams But their idyllic happiness is threatened by an outbreak of avian flu in faraway Thailand A book that seamlessly weaves together the intricacies of science and the complexities of the human heart Urban Soundscapes Usue Ruiz Arana,2024-04-30 Sound and listening are intrinsically linked to how we experience and engage with places and communities This guide puts forward a new conceptual framework of embodied affectivity that emphasises listening in urban research and design and advances new ways of knowing and making The guide invites landscape architects and urban designers to become soundscape architects and offers practical advice on sound and listening applicable to each stage of a design project from reading the environment to intervening on it Urban Soundscapes foregrounds listening as an affective mediator between subjects and multispecies environments and a vehicle to think and conceptualise environmental research and design beyond prevailing visual and human centred modes The guide expands landscape architects and urban designers tools and skills to assess existing soundscapes predict how those soundscapes will be altered through their designs consider sound as a creative and active part of the design process and envisage how users might perceive and be affected by those soundscapes as they evolve in time The volume sits in the interface of research and practice and interweaves theoretical methodological and creative contributions from acoustic ecology ecoacoustics bioacoustics and sound art Each of the design stages is illustrated through project examples that demonstrate the many advantages of incorporating attentive listening and sound into Landscape Architecture and Urban Design Practice This book shows how incorporating listening and sounding as part of the design process promotes slow and subtle ways of practice adds social and ecological value through the reduction of noise pollution and by monitoring the health of habitats and enables the design of soundscapes that complement the character and design intent of a scheme and elicit joy and wonder The book will be of interest to practitioners and academics in landscape architecture and other design and spatial fields such as urban design architecture geography and engineering who play a primary role in the composition of the soundscape Music Making Community Tony Perman,Stefan Fiol,2024-05-21 Making music offers enormous possibilities and faces significant limitations in its power to generate belonging and advance social justice Tony Perman and Stefan Fiol edit essays focused on the forms of interplay between music making and community making as mutually creative processes Contributors in the first section look at cases where music arrived in settings with little or no sense of community and formed social bonds that lasted beyond its departure In the sections that follow the essayists turn to stable communities that used musical forms to address social needs and both forged new social groups and in some cases splintered established communities By centering the value of difference in productive feedback dynamics of music and community while asserting the need for mutual moral indebtedness they foreground music s potential to transform community for the better Contributors Stephen Blum Joanna Bosse Sylvia Bruinders Donna A Buchanan Rick Deja Veit Erlmann Stefan Fiol Eduardo Herrera David A McDonald Tony Perman Thomas Solomon and Ioannis Tsekouras Some Aspects of the Teaching of Zulu
