Gay Dads Abbie E. Goldberg, 2012-07-23 When gay couples become parents they face a host of questions and issues that their straight counterparts may never have to consider How important is it for each partner to have a biological tie to their child How will they become parents will they pursue surrogacy or will they adopt Will both partners legally be able to adopt their child Will they have to hide their relationship to speed up the adoption process Will one partner be the primary breadwinner And how will their lives change now that the presence of a child has made their relationship visible to the rest of the world In Gay Dads Transitions to Adoptive Fatherhood Abbie E Goldberg examines the ways in which gay fathers approach and negotiate parenthood when they adopt Drawing on empirical data from her in depth interviews with 70 gay men Goldberg analyzes how gay dads interact with competing ideals of fatherhood and masculinity alternately pioneering and accommodating heteronormative parenthood culture The first study of gay men s transitions to fatherhood this work will appeal to a wide range of readers from those in the social sciences to social work to legal studies as well as to gay adoptive parent families themselves

Productive failure Alpesh Kantilal Patel, 2017-07-21 This title sets out to write new transnational South Asian art histories to make visible histories of artworks that remain marginalised within the discipline of art history However this is done through a deliberate productive failure specifically by not upholding the strictly genealogical approach that is regularly assumed for South Asian art histories For instance one chapter explores the abstract work of Cy Twombly and Natvar Bhavsar The author examines whiteness the invisible ground upon which racialized art histories often pivot as a fraught yet productive site for writing art history This book also provides original commentary on how queer theory can deconstruct and provide new approaches for writing art history Overall this title provides methods for generating art history that acknowledge the complex web of factors within which art history is produced and the different forms of knowledge production we might count
