Ancient India

Can you find India on a world map? What do you already know about India's culture? Did you know that the ancient Indian Valley culture is as old as the Egyptian and Mesopotamian cultures? Did you know the Indians performed early dentistry thousands of years ago? Or that they had the first indoor plumbing, including toilets and showers?

Chandragupta Maurya started the Maurya Empire in about 321 B.C. It was the first time one ruler brought together almost all of India. The Maurya built roads, bridges and even a postal system. Its most famous leader was Emperor Asoka (see inside). When Asoka died, the Maurya Empire lasted about 50 more years. Around 500 years later, the Gupta Empire began.

When you hear the term Golden Age, you may remember the ancient Greeks. This term refers to the best of times for any civilization. The Gupta Empire was India's Golden Age. This empire lasted from A.D. 320 to about 500. During that time, music, art, math and science were very important. The Indian government paid writers, artists and teachers. During the Gupta Empire, mathematicians developed the number system 1-9, which we now call Arabic numerals. (Zero came a little later.) New medicines were developed, and doctors began performing surgery. The Gupta culture was also very tolerant of religious differences. People were free to practice their religion without persecution, even if they did not worship the same way as the emperors. Invasions by the Huna people brought the Gupta Empire to an end.

The people of India gave the world many things we still use today. For example, yoga originated in India about 5,000 years ago. Yoga is a part of the Hindu religion. It is a way to exercise your mind, soul and body. Some scientists believe the first vaccinations were given in ancient India as well. After numerals were developed, Indian mathematicians were the first to introduce the concept of zero. They used dots to represent the concept of nothingness and to represent place value. If you like to play chess, you might be interested to know Indian people played an early version of the game about 3,000 years ago. (Or should that be 3... years ago?) The many languages in India gave us several English words: cheetah, shampoo, pajamas, dungarees, cashmere and bungalow. Spices like cinnamon, pepper, nutmeg, paprika and cloves originated in India.

Now that you've read a little bit about the contributions the people of ancient India made to the world, let's talk about the people who came up with all those great ideas. Who were they? What was life like for them hundreds of years ago? What did they believe? Believe it or not, all you have to do is turn the page to find out!

The Questions of Climate Change

In January 2012 the Wall Street Journal newspaper printed an article signed by 16 scientists and engineers. The article said there was no need to panic about climate change. They believe the scientists who say human-made carbon dioxide causes global warming are wrong. Carbon dioxide is used by plants and is found in lower amounts today than when plants grew millions of years ago. They also say the Earth has not warmed significantly over the last 10 years. They are concerned that scientists who are doubtful about global warming are being fired from their jobs.

255 scientists from the National Academy of Sciences do not agree with this view. They point out that most of the 16 people who signed the Wall Street Journal article are not experts in climatology. One is a medical doctor, another an airplane designer and still another an electrical engineer. This larger group of scientists says that there is plenty of proof that the Earth is heating up because of our use of fossil fuel.

Both groups believe the other side just wants money. The 16 scientists and engineers say climate scientists want government money for their research. The 255 National Academy of Sciences scientists say many people arguing against climate change are being paid in one way or another by the fossil fuel industry. Some of the 16 scientists and engineers who wrote the Wall Street Journal article have worked for oil companies. What do you think? Is our Earth warming?
