Volpone Ben Jonson,2021-03-19 Never most equal Sisters had any man a wit so presently excellent as that it could raise itself but there must come both matter occasion commenders and favourers to it If this be true and that the fortune of all writers doth daily prove it it behoves the careful to provide well towards these accidents and having acquired them to preserve that part of reputation most tenderly wherein the benefit of a friend is also defended Hence is it that I now render myself grateful and am studious to justify the bounty of your act to which though your mere authority were satisfying yet it being an age wherein poetry and the professors of it hear so ill on all sides there will a reason be looked for in the subject It is certain nor can it with any forehead be opposed that the too much license of poetasters in this time hath much deformed their mistress that every day their manifold and manifest ignorance doth stick unnatural reproaches upon her but for their petulancy it were an act of the greatest injustice either to let the learned suffer or so divine a skill which indeed should not be attempted with unclean hands to fall under the least contempt For if men will impartially and not asquint look toward the offices and function of a poet they will easily conclude to themselves the impossibility of any man s being the good poet without first being a good man He that is said to be able to inform young men to all good disciplines inflame grown men to all great virtues keep old men in their best and supreme state or as they decline to childhood recover them to their first strength that comes forth the interpreter and arbiter of nature a teacher of things divine no less than human a master in manners and can alone or with a few effect the business of mankind this I take him is no subject for pride and ignorance to exercise their railing rhetoric upon
