nineteenth century game of tikhi an indigenous game resembling field hockey to the country's unprecedented outpouring of nationalist sentiment when hosting the 2009 Southeast Asian Games En route we witness a Lao Vietnamese soccer brawl in 1936 the fascist inspired body ethic of the early 1940s the novel modes of military masculinity that blossomed with national independence the spectacular state theatrics of power represented by Olympic inspired sports festivals and the high hopes and frequent failures of socialist sport in the 1970s and 1980s Of central concern in Creak's narrative are the twin motifs of gender and civilization Despite increasing female participation since the early twentieth century he demonstrates the major role that sport and physical culture have played in forming hegemonic masculinities in Laos Even with limited national sporting success Laos has never won an Olympic medal the healthy toned and muscular form has come to symbolize material development and prosperity Embodied Nation outlines the complex ways in which these motifs through sport and physical culture articulate with state power Combining cultural and intellectual history with historical thick description Creak draws on a creative array of Lao and French sources from previously unexplored archives newspapers and magazines and from ethnographic writing war photography and cartoons More than an imagined community or geobody he shows that Laos was also a body at work making substantive theoretical contributions not only to Southeast Asian studies and history but to the study of the physical culture nationalism masculinity and modernity in all modern societies

Live like me and you'll be happy Luigi Lupo,Amalia Oleastro,2023-06-19 Preface by Paola Severini Melograni Translation into English by Ferruccio Bruno I always thought about my son as a delicate flower that needs to be loved protected and cared for and that s what I intend to do as long as I m breathing But I also know this is not enough A flower tenacious as it may be could hardly survive on its own The wind will batter it dispersing its petals The heat will wither it and the chill of the night will freeze burn it Eventually weed will choke it out If on the other hand it grows surrounded by other flowers different in form and colours its beauty and fragrance would be enhanced by their presence Not only that its flower friends will form a barrier around it preventing weeds and inclemencies from withering it That s the purpose of this book to encourage those who like me have the future of these special children at heart so that a flowerbed of solidarity may blossom around them helping them to face the hardest challenges of life
