Ubuntu Marietjie Oelofsen, Upenyu Majee, Bongani Mgijima, Jamie Monson, 2024-08-20 Ubuntu Interdisciplinary Conversations Across Continents is a collection of work by 17 scholars emerging from the Ubuntu Dialogues Seminar Exchange Fellowship hosted by Stellenbosch University in South Africa and Michigan State University in the US between 2019 and 2022 This collaborative work brings new voices and new ways of interrogating a concept that holds possibilities for living together differently The contributions problematise the concept in provocative and surprising ways and disrupt narrow and superficial interpretations of Ubuntu The contributors to this book foreground critical issues which are fundamental towards a deeper understanding of the notion of ubuntu Dr Sithembele Marawu University of Fort Hare This book features next generation rising stars from places such as South Africa Zimbabwe Malawi Burundi and the US writing about ubuntu the indigenous southern African term often used to capture African philosophy especially its moral dimensions A fresh kaleidoscopic engagement with ubuntu Professor Thaddeus Metz University of Pretoria

The Report: South Africa 2014 Oxford Business Group, 2014-12-08 Indeed since the end of apartheid in 1994 South Africa has become a major diplomatic player both on the African continent as well as further afield Despite the size of South Africa's economy the country currently faces a number of major economic challenges As of the end of July 2014 the unemployment rate was at 25.5% according to data from Statistics South Africa which was among the highest in the world While the government's long term development plans are generally highly regarded delivery and execution has occasionally been problematic While there are major hurdles that must be cleared given the country's strong institutions and the rapid pace of economic expansion over the past two decades South Africa should be able to look forward to 20 more years of peace and steady sustained economic growth

Africa Toyin Falola, Daniel Jean-Jacques, 2015-12-14 These volumes offer a one stop resource for researching the lives customs and cultures of Africa's nations and peoples Unparalleled in its coverage of contemporary customs in all of Africa this multivolume set is perfect for both high school and public library shelves The three volume encyclopedia will provide readers with an overview of contemporary customs and life in North Africa and sub-Saharan Africa through discussions of key concepts and topics that touch everyday life among the nations' peoples While this encyclopedia places emphasis on the customs and cultural practices of each state history politics and economics are also addressed Because entries average 14 000 to 15 000 words each contributors are able to expound more extensively on each country than in similar encyclopedic works with shorter entries As a result readers will gain a more complete understanding of what life is like in Africa's 54 nations and territories and will be better able to draw cross cultural comparisons based on their reading

The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages Lutz Marten, Ellen Hurst-Harosh, Nancy C. Kula, Jochen Zeller, 2025-08-19 This volume brings together leading scholars from Africa Europe the Americas and beyond to provide a detailed account of the languages of the Bantu family which cover an area from Cameroon and Kenya in the north to South Africa in the south The Bantu family is part of the Niger Congo phylum and one of the world's biggest language groups comprising around 500 languages. The family includes major languages with large numbers of speakers such as Zulu, Kinyarwanda and Swahili, the most widely spoken and taught African language, as well as many community languages and several endangered languages. Bantu languages feature prominently in the complex and multilingual language ecologies that are characteristic of the linguistic situation in much of Africa and they provide rich evidence for the study of theoretical and comparative linguistics, language contact and language change. They play an important role in education, commerce, culture and artistic expression in the media and public discourse in governance and social justice and are central to the future of the continent and the well-being of its communities. The first part of The Oxford Guide to the Bantu Languages provides background and context with chapters exploring the history of research in the field, language and prehistory in Bantu-speaking Africa and typology and variation. Chapters in the second part offer broad comparative overviews of Bantu phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics and pragmatics, socio and applied linguistics. Parts III-VII cover more specific topics in Bantu linguistics across a variety of subfields ranging from structural issues such as the augment and melodic tone to historical and sociolinguistic topics such as Bantu languages in the diaspora and language policy and standardization. The chapters in the final part offer individual structural overviews of a range of languages from across the Bantu-speaking area. The book will be an essential resource for students and researchers specializing in the Bantu languages and for typologists and comparative linguists more broadly.

Child Language Barbara C. Lust, 2006-09-21. The remarkable way in which young children acquire language has long fascinated linguists and developmental psychologists alike. Language is a skill that we have essentially mastered by the age of three and with incredible ease and speed despite the complexity of the task. This accessible textbook introduces the field of child language acquisition, exploring language development from birth. Setting out the key theoretical debates, it considers questions such as what characteristics of the human mind make it possible to acquire language, how far acquisition is biologically programmed and how far it is influenced by our environment, what makes second language learning in adulthood different from first language acquisition and whether the specific stages in language development are universal across languages. Clear and comprehensive, it is set to become a key text for all courses in child language acquisition within linguistics, developmental psychology and cognitive science.

A History of African Linguistics H. Ekkehard Wolff, 2019-06-13. The first global history of African linguistics as an emerging autonomous academic discipline covering Africa, the Americas, Asia, Australia and Europe.

African Languages in Classrooms and Academia: Intellectualisation and Empowerment through Formal Education Xolisa Tshongolo, 2024-12-02. To date, there have been few comprehensive books published which deal specifically with the role of African languages in academia and formal education. Motinyane Mletshe and Xolisa Tshongolo as editors have produced a book that fills this gap. In this timely collection of 21 chapters written in African languages and English, the contributors offer a critique of both language practice in the classroom as well as language planning, policy creation and implementation challenges. A timely and innovative contribution in the area of language in education teaching pedagogy as well as multilingualism

Using Online Dictionaries Carolin Müller-Spitzer, 2014-02-27 Until now there has been very little research into the use of online dictionaries In contrast the market for online dictionaries is increasing both for academic lexicography and for commercial lexicography with sales figures for printed reference works in continual decline This has led to a demand for reliable empirical information on how online dictionaries are actually being used and how they could be made more user friendly The volume Using Online Dictionaries makes a substantial contribution to closing this research gap It is divided into four parts The first part contains articles on fundamental issues a research review of the empirical studies on digital dictionaries which have already been carried out and a brief methodological guideline for lexicographical researchers who are interested in conducting their own empirical research The second part contains the results of two studies that focus on general questions about the use of online dictionaries It presents empirical data on contexts of dictionary use on expectations and demands regarding online dictionaries Furthermore innovative features such as the use of multimedia elements or the option of a user adaptive interface and questions of design were assessed empirically The third part of this volume comprises more specific studies of online dictionaries an eye tracking study evaluating the new web design of the dictionary portal OWID and a log file study which tries to get to the bottom of the following question Do dictionary users look up frequent words or put differently is there a connection between how often a word is looked up and how often it appears in a corpus In the last chapter of this thematic section the question of how users judge the combination of a written paraphrase and an additional illustration in illustrated online dictionaries is addressed The last part focuses on the use of monolingual dictionaries in particular the German online dictionary elexiko In this context two online questionnaire based studies were carried out The empirical studies were conducted in the form of online surveys combining questionnaires and experimental elements and in the form of laboratory studies using eye tracking technology as well as using observational methods such as log file analyses Regarding the comprehensive research framework this volume can be relevant to lexicographers metalexicographers and linguists who are interested in the use of online dictionaries and in the development and exploration of lexicographical data for the internet as well as linguists interested in empirical methods It addresses a broad expert audience by presenting an academic subject which is currently the focus of much discussion The Times Do Not Permit

The Strategic Repositioning of Arts, Culture and Heritage in the 21st Century George Mugovhani, Owen Seda, 2018-06-11 The post millennium world has been experiencing several recognisable historical milestones with regard to arts culture and heritage One of these has been the resuscitation and revival of creative elements of the arts culture and heritage of previously marginalised or disadvantaged communities around the world Until recently there had been scant regard and skewed allocation of resources for these but lately attempts have been made to promote and sustain them in order to enable the socio economic aspirations of a multicultural society The contributions brought together here are the product of papers that were presented during a conference on Strategic Repositioning of Arts Culture and Heritage in the 21st Century They cover a broad spectrum of subjects such as indigeneity music song and identity politics national reconciliation education product development and national development

Bible Translating as a Loyal Activity Tobias J. Houston, 2025-04-15 How can Bible translations remain faithful to the original text while deeply respecting the cultural and religious contexts of their audiences This book introduces the concept of Loyal Bible Translation a nuanced framework inspired by the Hebrew concept of esed sometimes translated as covenant loyalty and steadfast love Rooted in the idea of unswerving commitment this approach to Bible translation balances loyalty to the source text with loyalty toward the needs of its audience Drawing on modern translation studies and guided by the Beaded Necklace model this book weaves together historical cultural linguistic and religious dynamics to ensure Bible translations resonate authentically with their audiences while maintaining loyalty to the source text The author draws insights from his Majority World experience in Mozambique with this approach addressing the challenges of Bible translation among diverse audiences that are shaped by dominant faith traditions like Islam and in contexts characterized by orality By introducing the idea of the Translation Covenant it offers a hopeful and relational path forward in the complex art of Bible translation in the Majority World

Radical Antiapartheid Internationalism and Exile Holly Y. McGee, 2019-03-14 Elizabeth Mafeking was a titanic figure in the history of resistance to Apartheid in South Africa a mother of 11 who travelled to Bulgaria to publicize the evils of racial segregation before escaping into exile from a banning order that would have separated her from her home and family Radical Antiapartheid Internationalism and Exile The Life of Elizabeth Mafeking analyses Mafeking's life and the union work that cost the activist her family and home leading to 32 desperate years in self imposed exile The book simultaneously sheds light on one of the many ways in which the protests of women of African descent evolved from localized issues of race based discrimination to international anti colonial struggles in the mid twentieth century

Acquisition of Romance Languages Pedro Guijarro-Fuentes, Maria Juan-Garau, Pilar Larrañaga, 2016-09-12 This volume presents a collection of new articles that investigate the acquisition of Romance languages across different acquisition contexts as well as refine and propose new theoretical constructs such as complexity of linguistic features as a relevant factor forming children's adults and bilinguals acquisition of syntactical morphological and phonological structures
