Textual Patterns of the Eight-Part Essays and Logic in Ancient Chinese Texts Chunlan Jin, 2020-01-16 This book systematically depicts the theory of textual patterns chengshi of the eight part essays and logic in ancient Chinese texts With the rare materials it covers all the basic and important aspects of the whole process and values of chengshi such as the transformation of different parts and the coherent expression of the doctrines the planning of writing and the application to the aesthetic and pedagogic fields It also explores the similarities and disparities of logical patterns between ancient Chinese and Western texts Though entirely fresh and tentative the contrastive studies get new insights into the logic and philosophical concepts hidden in the writings for better understanding of the uniqueness and richness implied in Chinese culture

The Perceptual Structure of Three-Dimensional Art Paul M.W. Hackett, 2016-12-26 This book deals with philosophical aspects regarding the perception of spatial relationships in two and three dimensional art It provides a structural understanding of how art is perceived within the space created by the artwork and employs a mapping sentence and partial order mereology to model perceptual structure It reviews the writing of philosophers such as Paul Crowther and art theorists such as Krauss to establish the need for this research The ontological model established Paul Crowther is used to guide an interactive account of his ontology in the interpretations of the perceptual process of three dimensional abstract art to allow the formulation of a more comprehensive philosophical account The book uniquely combines structuralist and post structuralist approaches to artistic perception and understanding with a conceptual structure from facet theory which is clarified with the help of a mapping sentence and partial order mereology
