World History and National Identity in China Xin Fan, 2021-02-25 Nationalism is pervasive in China today Yet nationalism is not entrenched in China's intellectual tradition Over the course of the twentieth century the combined forces of cultural social and political transformations nourished its development but resistance to it has persisted Xin Fan examines the ways in which historians working on the world beyond China from within China have attempted to construct narratives that challenge nationalist readings of the Chinese past and the influence that these historians have had on the formation of Chinese identity He traces the ways in which generations of historians from the late Qing through the Republican period through the Mao period to the relative moment of opening in the 1980s have attempted to break cross cultural boundaries in writing an alternative to the national narrative Sources of World History Mark A. Kishlansky, Susan Lindsey

Lively, 1998 This reader edited by well known author Mark Kishlansky includes a diversity of historical documents from world and western history designed to supplement textbooks and lectures in the teaching of world civilizations It is an ideal complement to WORLD HISTORY Second Edition by Duiker Spielvogel WORLD HISTORY Second Edition by Upshur et al and WORLD HISTORY Fifth Edition by Adler This reader provides a balance of constitutional documents political theory philosophy imaginative literature and social description The Cambridge World History: Volume 3, Early Cities in Comparative Perspective, 4000 BCE-1200 CE Norman Yoffee, 2015-03-19 From the fourth millennium BCE to the early second millennium CE the world became a world of cities This volume explores this critical transformation from the appearance of the earliest cities in Mesopotamia and Egypt to the rise of cities in Asia and the Mediterranean world Africa and the Americas Through case studies and comparative accounts of key cities across the world leading scholars chart the ways in which these cities grew as nodal points of pilgrimages and ceremonies exchange storage and redistribution and centres for defence and warfare They show how in these cities along with their associated and restructured countryside new rituals and ceremonies connected leaders with citizens and the gods new identities as citizens were created and new forms of power and sovereignty emerged They also examine how this unprecedented concentration of people led to disease violence slavery and subjugations of unprecedented kinds and scales
