Discourse Farish A. Noor, 2025-10-01 The nations of Southeast Asia today are rapidly integrating economically and politically but that integration is also counterbalanced by forces ranging from hyper nationalism to disputes over cultural ownership throughout the region Those forces Farish A Noor argues in this book have their roots in the region's failure to come to a critical understanding of how current national and cultural identities in the region came about To remedy that Noor offers a close account of the construction of Southeast Asia in the nineteenth century by the forces of capitalism and imperialism and shows how that construct remains a potent aspect of political economic and cultural disputes today India in the Indo-Pacific Aditi Malhotra, 2022-06-13 In view of the fast changing world order emerging countries are increasingly influencing the dynamics of regional securities This timely and in depth book examines India's reorienting strategic posture and describes how New Delhi's security policy in the Indo Pacific region has evolved and expanded over the past two decades The author argues that India's quest to leverage its geostrategic location to emerge as an Indo Pacific actor faces multiple challenges which create a clear divide between the country's political rhetoric and action on the ground The author critically examines these contradictions to better situate India's security role in an increasingly fluid Indo Pacific region World Place Location Learning System Richard M. MacKinnon, 1995 Asia in the Making of Europe, Volume II Donald F. The Mapmakers John Noble Wilford, 2001-12-04 In his classic text two time Pulitzer Prize winner John Noble Wilford recounts the history of cartography from antiquity to the space age They are among the world's great pioneers and adventurers the mapmakers who for centuries have been expanding our knowledge of who and where we are and where we want to go From the surprisingly accurate silk maps prepared by Chinese cartographers in the second century B C to medieval mapmakers who believed they had fixed the location of paradise through to the expeditions of Columbus and Magellan John Noble Wilford chronicles the exploits of the great pioneers of mapmaking Wilford brings the story up to the present day as he shows the impact of new technologies that make it possible for cartographers to go where no one has been before from the deepest reaches of the universe where astronomers are mapping time as well as space to the inside of the human brain These modern day mapmakers join the many earlier adventurers including ancient Greek stargazers Renaissance seafarers and the explorers who mapped the American West whose achievements shape this dramatic story of human inventiveness and limitless curiosity

THE LONG SHADOW OF THE 19TH CENTURY Farish A. Noor, Stamford Raffles James Brooke John Crawford and Anna Leonowens were some of those who came from Europe or the United States to Southeast Asia in the nineteenth century and then wrote about what they saw Their writings deserve to be read now for what they truly were Not objective accounts of a Southeast Asia frozen in imperial time but rather as culturally myopic and perspectivist works that betray the subject positions of the authors themselves Reading them would allow us to write the history of the East West encounter through critical lenses that demonstrate the workings of power knowledge in the elaborate war economy of racialised colonial capitalism Many of the tropes used by these colonial era scholars and travellers such as the indolence or savagery of the native population are still very much in use today which means we still live in the long shadow of the 19th century
