Writing a Letter to Our Donors

Our classroom was very lucky and received a gift to our classroom that will help us learn this year. When someone gives a gift, it is appropriate and polite to write a thank you letter.

There is a special format (or form) to use when we write thank you letters. This graphic organizer will help you gather your best thoughts before you write your letter. Follow the arrows and fill in the boxes to prepare your thank you letter about

We need to say THANK YOU to our donors who help to make our classroom a better place to learn!

every classroom and reduce stress in the process Real Talk About Classroom Management Serena Pariser, 2024-01-10 Teachers want concrete methods born of actual experience from other teachers This thorough how to book reveals actionable best practices of classroom management from award winning teacher Serena Pariser In it she shares the strategies that helped her grow from a teary eyed first year teacher to Teacher of the Year Fulbright Scholar and now sought after consultant This new edition of a bestseller provides updated strategies based on some of the challenges and changes educators have faced over the past 5 years particularly throughout the COVID 19 pandemic and sociocultural reckoning of the early 2020s Filled with real experiences Pariser has had with students real scripts she s used to redirect behavior and get the support of parents real anecdotes and real conversations she s had with students this book weaves together research based strategies that work and step by step instructions for implementation By sharing authentic personal accounts of failures and successes Serena paves the way for readers to become the skilled confident and connected teachers their students deserve Departing from the traditional approach of teaching obedience this book shares how to lift students voices and increase their agency build positive relationships in the classroom community with colleagues and with parents plan instruction that truly engages learners interests and nurture independent and curious learners who are ready to be successful in school and their career Hollywood or History? Lisa K. Pennington, Donna Fortune, Mary E. Tackett, Paige Horst, Meghan A. Kessler, 2024-09-01 Teaching and learning through Hollywood or commercial film and television productions is anything but a new approach and has been something of a mainstay in the classroom for nearly a century However purposeful and effective instruction through film is not problem free and there are many challenges that accompany classroom applications of Hollywood motion pictures In response to the problems and possibilities associated with teaching through film we are developing a collection of practical classroom ready lesson ideas that might bridge gaps between theory and practice and assist teachers endeavoring to make effective use of film in their classrooms We believe that film can serve as a powerful tool in the social studies classroom and where appropriately utilized foster critical thinking and civic mindedness The NCSS College Career and Civic Life C3 framework represents a renewed and formalized emphasis on the perennial social studies goals of deep thinking reading and writing We believe that as teachers endeavor to digest and implement the platform in schools and classrooms across the country the desire for access to structured strategies that lead to more active and rigorous investigation in the social studies classroom will grow increasingly acute Our hope is that this edited book might play a small role in the larger project of supporting practitioners specifically K 6 teachers of social studies content by offering a collection of classroom ready tools based on the Hollywood or History strategy and designed to foster inquiry through the careful use of selected motion pictures and television productions Growing Independent Learners Debbie Diller, 2023-10-10 Debbie Diller has revolutionized literacy instruction in countless classrooms over the years demonstrating how to effectively use literacy workstations to engage students in critical literacy learning In Growing
