Pharaohs on Both Sides of the Blood-Red Waters Allan Aubrey Boesak, 2017-07-12 After the civil rights and anti apartheid struggles are we truly living in post racial post apartheid societies where the word struggle is now out of place Do we now truly realize that as President Obama said the situation for the Palestinian people is intolerable This book argues that this is not so and asks What has Soweto to do with Ferguson New York with Cape Town Baltimore with Ramallah With South Africa the United States and Palestine as the most immediate points of reference it seeks to explore the global wave of renewed struggles and nonviolent revolutions led largely by young people and the challenges these pose to prophetic theology and the church It invites the reader to engage in a trans Atlantic conversation on freedom justice peace and dignity These struggles for justice reflect the proposal the book discusses there are pharaohs on both sides of the blood red waters Central to this conversation are the issues of faith and struggles for justice the call for reconciliation its possibilities and risks the challenges of and from youth leadership prophetic resistance and the resilient audacious hope without which no struggle has a future The book argues that these revolutions will only succeed if they are claimed embraced and driven by the people

Knowledge in the Blood Jonathan D. Jansen, 2009 Discusses how white South African students learn and confront their Apartheid past and explores how this knowledge transforms both the students and the author the first black dean of an historically white university

Mandela, Mobutu, and Me Lynne Duke, 2007-12-18 In this stunning memoir veteran Washington Post correspondent Lynne Duke takes readers on a wrenching but riveting journey through Africa during the pivotal 1990s and brilliantly illuminates a continent where hope and humanity thrive amid unimaginable depredation and horrors For four years as her newspaper's Johannesburg bureau chief Lynne Duke cut a rare figure as a black American woman foreign correspondent as she raced from story to story in numerous countries of central and southern Africa From the battle zones of Congo Zaire to the quest for truth and reconciliation in South Africa from the teeming displaced person's camps of Angola and the killing field of the Rwanda genocide to the calming Indian Ocean shores of Mozambique She interviewed heads of state captains of industry activists tribal leaders medicine men and women mercenaries rebels refugees and ordinary hardworking people And it is they the ordinary people of Africa who fueled the hope and affection that drove Duke's reporting The nobility of the ordinary African struggles so often absent from accounts of the continent is at the heart of Duke's searing story MANDELA MOBUTU AND ME is a richly detailed clear eyed account of the hard realities Duke discovered including the devastation wrought by ruthless rapacious dictators like Mobutu Sese Seko and his successor Laurent Kabila in the Congo and appalling indifference of Europeans and Americans to the legacy of their own exploitation of the continent and its people But Duke also records with admiration the visionary leadership and personal style of Nelson Mandela in south Africa as he led his country's inspiring transition from apartheid in the twilight of his incredible life Whether it was touring underground gold and copper mines learning to carry water on her head filing stories by flashlight or dodging gunmen Duke's tour of Africa reveals not only the spirit and travails of an amazing but troubled continent it also explores the heart and fearlessness of a dedicated journalist Blood Safari Deon Meyer, 2018-09-01 Deon Meyer's novels explore the complex reality of South Africa they are exciting stories of crime conflict and revenge The Miami Herald Blood Safari is a harrowing novel from internationally acclaimed thriller writer Deon Meyer an expert storyteller whose wickedly fast narratives reveal the heart of his enthralling country In Blood Safari Emma le Roux a beautiful young woman in Cape Town sees her brother named on the television news as the prime suspect in the killing of four poachers and a witch doctor But it can't be possible Emma's brother is supposed to be dead having disappeared twenty years ago in Kruger National Park Emma tries to find out more but is attacked and barely escapes So she hires Lemmer a personal security expert and sets out into the country in search of the truth A complicated man with a dishonorable past Lemmer just wants to do his job and avoid getting personally involved But as he and Emma search for answers from the rural police they encounter racial and political tensions greed corruption and violence unlike anything they have ever known With Deon Meyer you can't go wrong He's a writer whose work I admire wait for and then devour Michael Connelly Another Woman's Daughter Fiona Sussman, 2015 Previously published in the UK as Shifting colours by Allison Busby May 2014 Title page verso The Routledge Handbook of the New African Diasporic Literature Lokangaka Losambe, Tanure Ojaide, 2024-05-16 The Routledge Handbook of the New African Diasporic Literature introduces world literature readers to the transnational multivocal writings of immigrant African authors Covering works produced in Europe North America and elsewhere in the world this book investigates three major aesthetic paradigms in African diasporic literature the Sankofan wave late 1960s early 1990s the Janusian wave 1990s 2020s and the Offshoots of the New Arrivants those born and growing up outside Africa Written by well established and emerging scholars of African and diasporic literatures from across the world the chapters in the book cover the works of well known and not so well known Anglophone Francophone and Lusophone writers from different theoretical positionalities and critical approaches pointing out the unique innovative artistic qualities of this major subgenre of African literature The focus on the diasporic consciousness of the writers and their works sets this handbook apart from others that solely emphasize migration which is more of a process than the community of settled African people involved in the dynamic acts of living reflected in diasporic writings This book will appeal to researchers and students from across the fields of Literature Diaspora Studies African Studies Migration Studies and Postcolonial Studies In Black and White Anant Singh, 2021-11-01 It all began with Charlie Chaplin flickering in black and white on a makeshift screen in their modest home in Springfield which later led to the neighbourhood children happily handing over their coins to 10 year old Anant Singh and his younger brother Sanjeev At age 13 deeply affected by the passing of his father Anant found solace and escape in the moving image to which his father had introduced him The combination of a deep and abiding passion for film and an entrepreneurial spirit were the sparks that lit the flame for Anant as he rewound 16mm reels in a film rental store in Durban first for R1 a day and then for R25 a week In South Africa in the 1970s there were not many career options for a Black person who dreamed big in any business let alone the film industry But before his twentieth birthday Anant was the owner of that store and in a business in which no person of colour had ventured Restrictive legislation was not the only problem all public facilities including cinemas were segregated and any voice raised in opposition to the state was swiftly silenced while censorship across all forms of media including films was strictly enforced By hiring out films classified for whites only to all races and uncensored movies to anyone who wanted to watch them Anant was arrested for breaking the laws he refused to recognise as legitimate He moved on to wider distribution first to cinemas across Africa and then to the international market to setting up Videovision Enterprises and capturing the home video market and finally to putting his heart and soul into producing award winning and important films This extraordinary memoir is a story of professional relationships and of friendships with mentors including Ahmed Kathrada Fatima and Ismail Meer and Nelson Mandela as well as with superstars such as Quincy Jones Sidney Poitier Whoopi Goldberg Amitabh Bachchan Denzel Washington and Idris Elba And it is a testament to determination courage and perseverance to speak up and speak out through the powerful medium of film

The Life of Madie Hall Xuma Wanda A. Travelling towards Home Nicola Frost, Tom Selwyn, 2018-09-14 As we grapple with a growing refugee crisis a hardening of anti immigration sentiment and deepening communal segregation in many parts of the developed world questions of the nature of home and homemaking are increasingly critical This collection brings ethnographic insight into the practices of homemaking exploring a diverse range of contexts ranging from economic migrants to new Chinese industrial cities Jewish returnees from Israel to

Ukraine and young gay South Asians in London While negotiating widely varying social political contexts these studies suggest an unavoidably multiple understanding of home while provoking new understandings of the material and symbolic process of making oneself at home

Written Under the Skin Carli Coetzee, 2019 In this book the author argues that a younger generation of South Africans is developing important and innovative ways of understanding South African pasts and that challenge the narratives that have over the last decades been informed by notions of forgiveness and reconciliation The author uses the image of history rich blood to explore these approaches to intergenerational memory Blood under the skin is a carrier of embodied and gendered histories and using this image the chapters revisit older archives as well as analyse contemporary South African cultural and literary forms The emphasis on blood challenges the privileged status skin has had as explanatory category in thinking about identity and instead emphasises intergenerational transfer and continuity The argument is that a younger generation is disputing and debating the terms through which to understand contemporary South Africa as well as for interpreting the legacies of the past that remain under the visible layer of skin The chapters each concern blood Mandela s prison cell as laboratory for producing bloodless freedom the kinship relations created and resisted in accounts of Eugene de Kock in prison Ruth First s concern with information leaks in her accounts of her time in prison the first human to human heart transplant and its relation to racialised attempts to salvage white identity the Fallist moment Abantu book festival and activist scholarship and creative art works that use blood as trope for thinking about change and continuity Carli Coetzee is Editor of the Journal of African Cultural Studies Her publications include Accented Futures Language Activism and the Ending of Apartheid Wits University Press 2013 and the edited collection Afropolitanism Reboot Routledge 2017 She co edited The Handbook of African Literature Routledge 2019 with Moradewun Adejunmobi and Negotiating the Past The Making of Memory in South Africa Oxford University Press 1998 with Sarah Nuttall Southern Africa South Africa Namibia
