The Africa Competitiveness Report 2007:

Africa Development Indicators 2007 World Bank,2008 The world s demand for food is expected to double within the next 50 years while the natural resources that sustain agriculture will become increasingly scarce degraded and vulnerable to the effects of climate change In many poor countries agriculture accounts for at least 40 percent of GDP and 80 percent of employment At the same time about 70 percent of the world s poor live in rural areas and most depend on agriculture for their livelihoods World Development Report 2008 seeks to assess where when and how agriculture can be an effective instrument for economic development especially development that favors the poor It examines several broad questions How has agriculture changed in developing countries in the past 20 years What are the important new challenges and opportunities for agriculture Which new sources of agricultural growth can be captured cost effectively in particular in poor countries with large agricultural sectors as in Africa How can agricultural growth be made more effective for poverty reduction How can governments facilitate the transition of large populations out of agriculture without simply transferring the burden of rural poverty to urban areas How can the natural resource endowment for agriculture be protected How can agriculture s negative environmental effects be contained This year s report marks the 30th year the World Bank has been publishing the World Development Report

Humanitarian Response Index 2008 DARA (Development Assistance Research Associates),2016-01-18 The purpose of this annual report is to develop an index of good humanitarian donorship that will measure donors effectiveness against their commitment to the Principles and Good Practise of Humanitarian Donorship The index is intended to help the international donor community to better understand its strengths and weaknesses in order to improve the efficiency and quality of its donor activities and initiatives The index is also expected to raise awareness about the increasingly important role of humanitarian action and associated good practices beyond its current core constituencies We believe that this report offers significant potential to improve the quality of humanitarian aid benefiting those most affected by both man made and natural disasters

Global Monitoring Report 2008 World Bank,2008-04-14 Global Monitoring Report 2008 the fifth in an annual series is essential reading for those who wish to follow the global development agenda and debate in 2008 The year marks the midpoint toward the 2015 deadline for achieving the Millennium Development Goals MDGs It is also an important year to work toward a consensus on how the world is going to respond to the challenge of climate change building on the foundation laid at the Bali climate change conference in December 2007 The report spans this agenda It provides a comprehensive assessment of progress toward the MDGs and related policies and actions It addresses the challenge of climate change and environmental sustainability and assesses its implications for development The report s assessment of MDGs at midpoint presents a mixed picture one of both significant progress and formidable challenges The first MDG reducing extreme poverty by half is likely to be met at the global level thanks to a remarkable surge in global economic growth over the past decade But on current trends the human development MDGs are unlikely to be met Prospects are gravest for the goals of reducing child and maternal mortality but shortfalls are also likely in the primary school completion nutrition and sanitation MDGs The potential effects of climate change compound the challenge of achieving the development goals and sustaining progress The report s messages are clear urgent action is needed to help the world get back on track to achieve the MDGs and urgent action is also needed to combat climate change that threatens the well being of all countries but particularly of poor countries and poor people The goals of development and environmental sustainability are closely related and the paths to those goals have important synergies

The CFA Franc Zone Ms. Anne Marie Gulde, Mr. Charalambos G. Tsangarides, 2008-04-02 About one third of countries covered by the IMF s African Department are members of the CFA franc zone With most other countries moving away from fixed exchange rates the issue of an adequate policy framework to ensure the sustainability of the CFA franc zone is clearly of interest to policymakers and academics However little academic research exists in the public domain This book aims to fill this void by bringing together work undertaken in the context of intensified regional surveillance and highlighting the current challenges and the main policy requirements if the arrangements are to be carried forward The book is based on empirical research by a broad group of IMF economists with contributions from several outside experts

Africa in World Politics John W Harbeson,Donald Rothchild,2018-04-24 The sixth edition of Africa in World Politics focuses on challenges African states face in constructing viable political economies in contexts both of familiar domestic challenges and an unprecedented mix of engagements opportunities and threats emanating from a turbulent and rapidly changing international order This text including new chapters on Nigeria and the influence of party politics on economic development remains an invaluable resource for students of African politics seeking to navigate the continent s complex political and economic landscapes Revised chapters consider both the extent and the limits of continued healthy growth rates in many countries the impacts of investments by China and other BRICS countries plateaus and some reversals in progress on human rights and democratization dimensions of chronic state weakness deepened by insurgencies including some that are connected to Al Qaeda and the Islamic State and peacebuilding efforts struggling to uphold responsible sovereignty in the Sudans the Great Lakes region and elsewhere

Development in Africa Moyo, Theresa,2015-03-02 This book revisits the perennial challenge that scholars economists and politicians have been grappling with since the 1960s Development in this book has been defined in a context that projects it as a multidimensional and complex process which seeks to enhance the human social economic and cultural welfare of the people This book calls for a rethinking of trade and industry for Africa s development It uses data drawn from national development plans and strategies and trade and industry issues have been prioritized at the continental level in key policy documents On the whole Africa s industry and trade performance have been poor in spite of national regional and continental plans The contributors to this volume propose some alternative strategies and policies which are necessary for trade and industry to grow and to contribute to the well being of Africa s people It calls for a developmental trade and industry policy which fundamentally must be people centred African states should invest time energy and resources to develop policies which will take into consideration African realities The different contributors are aware that Africa has experienced strong economic growth in the recent past but this growth has largely been due to a strong demand for Africa s primary commodity exports It has also been a result of increases in productivity and domestic investment and remittances from Africans living in the Diaspora It is important to note that despite this unprecedented growth performance the impact of trade and industry on development has been limited The book argues that a structural transformation of Africa s economies is inevitable if Africa is to achieve the shift from the dominant paradigm of production and export of primary goods The various contributors to this book agree that there is need to rethink policy and strategy in order to achieve industrial development in Africa There is no unique solution or answer that can fit all situations as African countries are not the same While Africa can draw lessons from other regions which have successfully industrialized this book argues that policies and strategies will have to be adapted to

country specific situations and circumstances Economics Of The Middle East And North Africa (Mena), The (Second Edition) Joseph Pelzman, 2018-11-29 The Middle East and North Africa MENA is a large complex and diverse region which faces a wide range of economic issues The MENA group includes Algeria Bahrain Cyprus Djibouti Egypt Iran Iraq Israel Jordan Kuwait Lebanon Libya Morocco Oman Qatar Saudi Arabia Syria Tunisia Turkey United Arab Emirates and Yemen The purpose of this book is not to provide a country by country study but rather to deal with general economic themes found in Arab MENA and Israel such as problems associated with growth and structural change the role of State intervention in country specific local markets labor market imperfections driven by gender bias technology gaps and endogenous growth capital market development in a restricted financial model based on religious constraints savings and investment behaviour in a model of state subsidization and intervention designed to control local development and the role of the state in constraining private sector activity Data sources used in this second edition include country specific data the World Bank the United Nations the International Monetary Fund and the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development The new material in this second edition includes a discussion of the impending and inevitable leadership changes which will occur throughout Arab MENA over the next decades The evidence to support this evaluation is based on the current lack of transparent markets the lack of inclusive macro policies the impact of distortionary micro economic policies across all sectors and the impact of anti globalization and xenophobia on innovation Old chapters are revised with updated data a discussion of the role of the State and Oligarchies in the economies of most of the MENA countries an in depth exploration of the investment in human capital and growth and an identification of the most important binding constraints to economic development in Arab MENA and Israel This book serves as both a textbook and a summary of the very large literature on MENA It examines the economic realities of the region and compares them across the MENA economies It should be stressed that this book is not about the latest political debate on who did what to whom in the Middle East or in North Africa The focus is on economics not political economics Organizational Behavior Stephen P. Regional Economic Outlook, April 2008, Sub-Saharan Africa International Monetary Fund. African Dept.,2008-04-14 The region s prospects continue to be promising but global developments pose increased risks to the outlook Growth in sub Saharan Africa should again average about 61 2 percent in 2008 with oil exporters leading the way meanwhile growth in oil importers is expected to taper off though only modestly With food and energy prices still rising inflation is projected to average about 81 2 percent this year for countries in the region setting aside Zimbabwe Risks in 2008 are tilted to the downside but the region is better placed today to withstand a worsening of the global environment

Understanding Entrepreneurship in Sub-Saharan Africa Jean Kabongo,Simon Sigué,James Baba Abugre,2024-03-25 This edited volume provides a comprehensive and up to date understanding of the challenges and opportunities facing entrepreneurs in sub Saharan Africa It adopts a venture ship approach emphasizing the dynamic and uncertain nature of entrepreneurship and underscoring the need for entrepreneurs to continually innovate and adapt to evolving conditions It encompasses a broad spectrum of themes covering the cultural institutional and economic contexts in which entrepreneurial endeavors unfold It also discusses the role of technology and innovation as well as financing and investment in addition to the impact of entrepreneurship on economic development and social change The chapters span diverse subject matter including topics ranging from the cultivation of entrepreneurial culture and the influence of educational systems to the ramifications of political and economic frameworks on entrepreneurial expansion Additionally it addresses the significance of social entrepreneurship the burgeoning presence of female entrepreneurs the transformative effects of digitalization and the consequences of regional and international collaborations They encapsulate the insights and perspectives of an array of stakeholders including researchers scholars entrepreneurs investors and policymakers who have actively engaged with the entrepreneurial landscape in sub Saharan Africa Bringing together contributions from a diverse group of scholars and practitioners this book offers an original multidisciplinary and pragmatic vantage point on entrepreneurship within the region It not only enriches the existing body of literature but also serves as a catalyst for further research and scholarly discourse among entrepreneurship researchers Post-Stabilization Economics in Sub-Saharan Africa Mr. Shanaka J.

Peiris, Mr. Jean A. P. Clément, 2008-05-01 Mozambique is an economic success story in sub Saharan Africa SSA Its remarkable achievements offer valuable lessons to other low income countries in a post stabilization economic phase including how they can efficiently manage a scaling up of foreign aid aimed at poverty reduction Of special interest to other sub Saharan countries are the book's discussions of Mozambique's progress toward consolidating macroeconomic and financial stability and the challenges it faces in ensuring long term sustainability creating a virtuous cycle of natural resource use and implementing second generation structural reforms to sustain its growth This book also provides a summary of the most recent research on issues related to post stabilization economics in SSA Globalisation and Higher Education in the Arab Gulf States Gari Donn, Yayha Al Manthri, 2010-05-10 In our knowledge based world the societies that prosper are the ones that generate knowledge through research through the interwoven relationship between the academe and funded research bodies and with industry They are the new centre It is strange indeed to think of the countries of the Arab Gulf States as the periphery But as the authors of this book argue very persuasively by importing a baroque arsenal of increasingly sophisticated and costly educational programmes the Arab Gulf States consume other countries knowledge and products all of which are of declining utility and sustainability Whilst universities contribute to the culture and political life of modern society the authors ask where in the Arab Gulf States is there capacity building knowledge generation and the culture of imaginative ideas that lie at the root of any civilisation By following a magistracy on a global journey through regions nations and into institutions their answers are intended to inform and to urge the Arab Gulf region into promoting education for its own self determination and even its survival Rural Young Women, Education, and Socio-Spatial Mobility Wendy Geller, 2015-10-08 Much of the literature on globalization has centered on the large macro level forces that influence the ways ideas people and various forms of capital move around the world From this vantage point discussions about the progressive feminization of migration in particular the feminization of out migration from rural areas indicate an intriguing trend Simultaneously the local experience of global forces is an important way of exploring how macro level processes are navigated by social actors on the ground This provides added texture to our understanding of why and how people make decisions about their lives within an increasingly interconnected social economic and political environment This volume explores whether concurrent patterns in identity development social relations and youth behaviors on the micro level might help explain similarities observable at the macro level Through a triangulated approach that balances between statistical backdrops extant quantitative research and in depth qualitative interviews this book theorizes about shifts in gender normativity efforts towards social mobility and the possible effects of an increasingly globalized society To do this it examines the decision making processes employed by high achieving young women from rural areas in Vermont and Leinster Ireland as they figured out who they wanted to become as adults and where they wanted to be those people Remaining mindful of structural constraints and using the lens of the psychic landscape Reay 2005 to view class as a reflexive practice this book peers into the ways certain types of identity evident among blue collar students seem to be carving out some potential for social and spatial mobility amidst both global and local trends
