The Asian Imperative:

Transforming South Asia: Imperatives for Action Ambassador Rajiv Bhatia, Mr Swaran Singh, Ms Reena Marwah, 2013-11-15 Right from the Himalayan hermit kingdoms of Nepal and Bhutan to the island and archipelago countries of Sri Lanka and the Maldives the sheer variety of South Asia not only in geographic terms but also in terms of culture language and tradition is unparalleled A wide array of religious beliefs existing in the region alongside distinctive mind sets tend to differentiate the countries that make up South Asia The divisions however of the region among countries are not the same as the divisions among cultures religions This book titled Transforming South Asia Imperatives for Action is the outcome of serious deliberations among well known scholars diplomats and policymakers at the Third Conference of the Asian Relations Conference Series organized by Indian Council of World Affairs in collaboration with Association of Asia Scholars in March 2012 Papers presented in the conference were thoroughly revised before publication and editors acknowledge with gratitude these insightful contributions Most contributors to this volume believe in the pertinence of regional integration amongst various South Asian nations Specifically the volume sheds considerable light on the issue of regionalization and co operation as tools to achieve the much longed for transformation in South Asia Experts do not shy away from examining issues of conflict and how border disputes have often marred the positive spirit of regionalization as also other mechanisms of SAARC in its day to day functioning Therefore an effort to present the complex reality objectively is visible Contributors also underscore India s role in regionalization of South Asia as being far more pragmatic since it has strengthened local synergies especially at the level of their civil societies The Political and Moral Imperatives of the Bandung Conference of 1955 Kweku Ampiah, 2007-08-30 Now fifty years on with significantly more primary references available Kweku Ampiah s study provides a much needed in depth re evaluation of the conference as a whole focusing in particular on the external influences and preoccupations impacting on the participants seen through three case studies involving the US UK and Japan The Imperatives of Urban and Regional Planning Anis Ur Rahmaan, 2011 This book is comprised of articles and papers that have come about after years of academic and applied research endeavors of the practitioners and academicians in the field of urban and regional development planning Most of these articles have already been presented and deliberated in national and international conferences held in different parts of the world namely Indianapolis Newcastle upon Tyne Rome Istanbul Cairo Alexandria Vienna Stockholm Jeddah Riyadh Jubail Islamabad Penang and Bandung The concepts and case studies described in this book bring home the fact that the world is undergoing a gyrational transition Not only are developed and developing countries getting influenced by each other and transforming due to a process of circular causation but each of the two sets of countries are also undergoing a simultaneous internal transformation due to the differential infusion of technology and indigenous entrepreneurship As a consequence highly diversified urban systems are getting integrated interactively leading to the formation of a global village and achievement of a unity in diversity      Writing the Ghetto Yoonmee Chang,2010 In the United States perhaps no minority group is considered as successful as the Asian American community which is often described as residing in positive sounding ethnic enclaves rather than in ghettos In this volume Yoonmee Chang exposes the unspoken class inequalities faced by Asian Americans while insightfully analyzing the effect such nations have had on their literary voices      The Arms Race in Asia Andrew T.H. Tan,2013-12-13 This book is the first systematic examination of the emerging arms race in Asia The global trade in arms is to a large degree underpinned by the strong demand for arms in Asia and the Middle East the two largest arms export markets in the world Of these two regions Asia has become particularly significant led by the emergence of China and India as major powers It is therefore not surprising that the rapid military modernisation in Asia accompanied by significant increases in the size and sophistication of armed forces has generated attention as to its trends key characteristics causes and implications This phenomenon which has become evident since the end of the Cold War has also been widely described as an Asian arms race This book evaluates the key conceptual ideas which can shed light on this phenomenon as well as examining the complex mix of internal external and technological factors that have led to its emergence The volume explores the way in which the arms race is leading ultimately to three distinctive blocs in the emerging geostrategic landscape a loose bloc of US allies in the region a counter bloc of potential US adversaries and a neutral bloc of states with industrial age armed forces whose allegiances will vary according to circumstances and geostrategic developments The Arms Race in Asia concludes that if the emerging arms race is left unchecked it is likely that Asia will increasingly become a region of instability marked by conflicts and interstate wars The book will be of great interest to students of Asian politics strategic studies defence studies security studies and IR in general      Asia-Pacific Economic and Security Co-operation C. Biotic Diversity and Germplasm Preservation, Global Imperatives Lloyd Knutson, Allan K. Stoner, 1989-11-30 Topics for the Beltsville Symposia are selected to highlight specific areas of research and science policy that are of concern to scientists in the Beltsville Area as well as to the general scientific community Each symposium in the series is structured to provide a realistic appraisal of current findings research progress and relevant policy issues within the constraints established by the organizing committee Thus the presentations and discussions that have marked these symposia have had a strong appeal to the broad community of scientists Knowledge of the diversity of living organisms is still quite limited Since the time of Linnaeus about 1.7 million species have been described The actual number has been estimated between 5.50 million Many species land races and strains are vanishing Clearly the world's scientific institutions are inadequately equipped to attain sufficient knowledge of a significant fraction of the diverse living forms. Also efforts in the collection and preservation of germplasm of plants and animals urgently need to be strengthened. These matters are critically important to future generations. This symposium addresses vital concerns of biotic diversity and germplasm preservation from diverse perspectives. Many of the parts provide concrete recommendations for action and they call attention to areas of research that must be pursued with intensity.
