The first chapters of the book were serialized from 1905 to 1906 with the completed work published in 1909. The novel's beginning involves debates about rationalism and religion between a Professor Lucifer and a monk named Michael. A part of this section was quoted in Pope John Paul I's Illustrissimi letter to G K Chesterton. Lynette Hunter has argued that the novel is more sympathetic to Maclan but does indicate Maclan is also presented as in some ways too extreme. Turnbull as well is presented in a sympathetic light. Both duelists are ready to fight for and die for their antagonistic opinions and in doing so develop a certain partnership that evolves into a friendship. The real antagonist is the world outside which desperately tries to prevent from happening a duel over mere religion, a subject both duelists judge of utmost importance. Gilbert Keith Chesterton KC SG 29 May 1874 14 June 1936 better known as G K Chesterton was an English writer poet philosopher dramatist journalist orator lay theologian biographer and literary and art critic. Chesterton is often referred to as the prince of paradox. Time magazine has observed of his writing style: "Whenever possible Chesterton made his points with popular sayings proverbs allegories first carefully turning them inside out." Chesterton is well known for his fictional priest detective Father Brown and for his reasoned apologetics Even some of those who disagree with him have recognised the wide appeal of such works as Orthodoxy and The Everlasting Man Chesterton as a political thinker cast aspersions on both Progressivism and Conservatism saying The whole modern world has divided itself into Conservatives and Progressives The business of Progressives is to go on making mistakes The business of the Conservatives is to prevent the mistakes from being corrected Chesterton routinely referred to himself as an orthodox Christian and came to identify this position more and more with Catholicism eventually converting to Catholicism from High Church Anglicanism George Bernard Shaw Chesterton s friendly enemy according to Time said of him He was a man of colossal genius Biographers have identified him as a successor to such Victorian authors as Matthew Arnold Thomas Carlyle Cardinal John Henry Newman and John Ruskin Chesterton was born in Campden Hill in Kensington London the son of Marie Louise nee Grosjean and Edward Chesterton He was baptised at the age of one month into the Church of England though his family themselves were irregularly practising Unitarians According to his autobiography as a young man Chesterton became fascinated with the occult and along with his brother Cecil experimented with Ouija boards Chesterton was educated at St Paul s School then attended the Slade School of Art to become an illustrator The Slade is a department of University College London where Chesterton also took classes in literature but did not complete a degree in either subject

The Ball and the Cross G. K. Chesterton, 2015-03-04 The flying ship of Professor Lucifer sang through the skies like a silver arrow the bleak white steel of it gleaming in the bleak blue emptiness of the evening That it was far above the earth was no expression for it to the two men in it it seemed to be far above the stars The professor had himself invented the flying machine and had also invented nearly everything in it Every sort of tool or apparatus had in consequence to the full that fantastic and distorted look which belongs to the miracles of science For the world of science and evolution is far more nameless and elusive and like a dream than the world of poetry and religion since in the latter images and ideas remain themselves eternally while it is the whole idea of evolution that identities melt into each other as they do in a nightmare

The Ball and the Cross (1909). By: Gilbert Keith Chesterton G. K. Chesterton, 2016-09-15 Like much of G K Chesterton s fiction The Ball and the Cross is both witty and profound cloaking serious religious and philosophical inquiry in sparkling humor and whimsy Serialized in the British publication The Commonwealth in 1905 06 Chesterton s second novel first appeared in book form in America in 1909 delighting and challenging readers with its heady mixture of fantasy farce and theology The plot of The Ball and the Cross chronicles a hot dispute between two Scotsmen one a devout but naive Roman Catholic the other a zealous but naive atheist Their fanatically held opinions leading to a duel that is proposed but never fought inspire a host of comic adventures whose allegorical levels vigorously explore the debate between theism and atheism Martin Gardner s superb introduction to The Ball and the Cross reveals the real life debate between Chesterton and a famous atheist that provided inspiration for the story and it explores some of the novel s possible allegorical meanings Appraising the book s many intriguing philosophical qualities Mr Gardner alerts readers as well to the pleasures of its colorful style amusing puns and clever paradoxes and the humor and melodrama of its crazy plot Gilbert Keith Chesterton KC SG 29 May 1874 14 June 1936 better known as G K Chesterton was an English writer poet philosopher dramatist journalist orator lay theologian biographer and literary and art critic Chesterton is often referred to as the prince of paradox Time magazine has observed of his writing style Whenever possible Chesterton made his points with popular sayings proverbs allegories first carefully turning them inside out Chesterton is well known for his fictional priest detective Father Brown and for his reasoned apologetics Even some of those who disagree with him have recognised the wide appeal of such works as Orthodoxy and The Everlasting Man Chesterton as a political thinker cast aspersions on both Progressivism and Conservatism saying The whole modern world has divided itself into Conservatives and Progressives The business of Progressives is to go on making mistakes The business of the Conservatives is to prevent the mistakes from being corrected Chesterton routinely referred to himself as an orthodox Christian and came to identify this position more and more with Catholicism eventually converting to Catholicism from High Church Anglicanism George Bernard Shaw Chesterton s friendly enemy according to Time said of him He was a man of colossal genius Biographers have identified him as a successor to such Victorian authors as Matthew Arnold Thomas Carlyle Cardinal John Henry Newman and John Ruskin Chesterton was born in Campden Hill in Kensington London the son of Marie Louise nee Grosjean and Edward Chesterton He was baptised at the age of one month into the Church of England though his family themselves were irregularly practising Unitarians According to his autobiography as a young man Chesterton became fascinated with the occult and along with his brother Cecil experimented with Ouija boards Chesterton was educated at St Paul s School then attended the Slade School of Art to become an illustrator The Slade is a department of University College London where Chesterton also took classes in literature but did not complete a degree in either subject
