Manglik, 2023-11-23 Core principles of biological anthropology Covers human evolution genetics and variation providing a foundation for understanding human biological diversity Evaluating Evidence in Biological Anthropology Catherine M. Willermet, Cathy Willermet, Sang-Hee Lee, Sang-hŭi Yi (Professor of anthropology), 2020 A critical assessment of how evidence in biological anthropology is discovered collected and interpreted The Anthropology of White Supremacy Aisha M. Beliso-De Jesús, Jemima Pierre, Junaid Rana, 2025-01-28 White supremacy has shaped cultural anthropology from its inception yet the discipline also offers powerful tools for understanding how this corrosive force structures societies around the world

The Anthropology of White Supremacy explores how this phenomenon works around the globe and within anthropology itself. Gathering original essays from a diverse international group of anthropologists, this collection illustrates that white supremacy far from being only a fringe belief of white nationalists and fascists is a core mainstream ideology. The book includes essays about many countries including Brazil, Mexico, Nigeria, Norway, Senegal, South Africa, and the United States, and takes up such topics as American advertising, the Belgian Congo, South Asian philosophies, police cadets, U.S. immigration courts, Guantanamo memoirs, Palestinian feminism, Hollywood paparazzi, and how Indigenous anthropologists can counter the damage of settler colonialism. The result reveals not only how anthropology can help us to better comprehend white supremacy but also how the discipline can help us begin to dismantle it. With contributions by Omolade Adunbi, Samar Al Bulushi, Aisha M. Beliso, De Jes s Michael, Blakey Mitzi, Uehara Carter, Subhadra Mitra, Channa Celina, de S. Biological Anthropology and Prehistory Patricia C. Rice, Norah Moloney, 2016-12-05. Written specifically for courses that cover biological anthropology and archaeology, this superbly illustrated new text offers the most balanced and up to date introduction to our human past. Devoting equal time to biological anthropology and prehistory, this text exposes students to the many sides of major controversial issues involving students in the scientific thought process by allowing them to draw their own conclusions. Amidst discussions of bones and artifacts, the text maintains a focus on people, demonstrating to students how biological anthropology and archaeology apply to their lives today. Featuring the latest research and findings pulled from the original sources, this new text is far and away the most up to date text available. In addition, the superior art program features hundreds of photographs and figures, and the multimedia presentation options include documentary film clips and lecture launcher videos. Pat Rice, a recipient of AAA's Outstanding Teacher Award and past president of the General Anthropology Division of AAA, and Norah Moloney, an experienced professor and active archaeologist, present the material in a clear, refreshing, and straightforward writing style.

Anthropology Raymond Scupin, Christopher R. DeCorse, 2019-12-20. Now with SAGE Publishing. Using state of the art research, Anthropology: A Global Perspective introduces students to the four core subfields of anthropology and applied anthropology. Integrating material from each subfield, this comprehensive text is founded on four essential themes: the diversity of human societies, the similarities that tie all humans together, the interconnections between the sciences and humanities, and a new theme addressing psychological essentialism. Authors Raymond Scupin and Christopher R. DeCorse demonstrate how anthropologists use research techniques and methods to help solve practical problems and show students how anthropology is relevant to improving human societies. This supportive textbook is grounded in the belief that an enhanced global awareness is essential for people preparing to take their place in the fast-paced, interconnected world of the twenty-first century The extensively revised Ninth Edition includes a new chapter on gender and sexuality features a dramatically new look with new photos and figures and has been updated to reflect the most recent findings in the field This title is accompanied by a complete teaching and learning package The Human Species: An Introduction to Biological Anthropology John Relethford, 2009-08-28 This text introduces physical anthropology the science of human biological evolution and variation Divided into four parts it addresses the major questions that concern biological anthropologists What are humans Where are our origins How did we evolve and are we still evolving and What does the future hold for the human species with an emphasis on hypothesis testing and the relationship between biology and culture Biosocial Becomings Tim Ingold, Gisli Palsson, 2013-06-13 Going beyond the division of nature and society this unique book explores human life as a process of biosocial becoming The Iconic Imagination Douglas Hedley, 2016-02-25 Is it merely an accident of English etymology that imagination is cognate with image Despite the iconoclasm shared to a greater or lesser extent by all Abrahamic faiths theism tends to assert a link between beauty goodness and truth all of which are viewed as Divine attributes Douglas Hedley argues that religious ideas can be presented in a sensory form especially in aesthetic works Drawing explicitly on a Platonic metaphysics of the image as a bearer of transcendence The Iconic Imagination shows the singular capacity and power of images to represent the transcendent in the traditions of Christianity Judaism Hinduism and Islam In opposition to cold abstraction and narrow asceticism Hedley shows that the image furnishes a vision of the eternal through the visible and temporal Applying Anthropology to General Education Jennifer R. Wies, Hillary J. Haldane, 2022-03-31 The current higher education policy and practice landscape is simultaneously marked by uncertainty and hope and nowhere are these tensions more present than in discussions and actions around general education This volume uses an anthropological approach to contemplate ways of reimagining general education for the 21st century and how faculty teachers administrators and others can transform the educational endeavor to be holistic comprehensive and aligned with the needs of people and the planet in the decades to come Included are analyses of general education concepts such as diversity case studies of general education and connecting curricula opportunities for faculty development unique general education student populations assessment strategies and philosophical pedagogical challenges Contributors make the case that far from receding from a central role in higher education there is a need to strengthen general education curricula as key to the educational needs of students for the skills and competencies they require in the workplace and for civic engagement Rethinking Human Evolution Jeffrey H. Schwartz, 2022-11-01 Contributors from a range of disciplines consider the disconnect between human evolutionary studies and the rest of evolutionary biology The study of human evolution often seems to rely on scenarios and received wisdom rather than theory and methodology with each new fossil or molecular analysis interpreted as supporting evidence for the presumed lineage of human ancestry We might wonder why we should pursue new inquiries if we already know the story Is paleoanthropology an evolutionary science Are analyses of human evolution biological In this volume contributors from disciplines that range from paleoanthropology to philosophy of science consider the disconnect between human evolutionary studies and the rest of evolutionary biology All of the contributors reflect on their own research and its disciplinary context considering how their fields of inquiry can move forward in new ways The goal is to encourage a more multifaceted intellectual environment for the understanding of human evolution Topics discussed include paleoanthropology s history of procedural idiosyncrasies the role of mind and society in our evolutionary past humans as large mammals rather than a special case genomic analyses computational approaches to phylogenetic reconstruction descriptive morphology versus morphometrics and integrating insights from archaeology into the interpretation of human fossils Contributors Markus Bastir Fred L Bookstein Claudine Cohen Richard G Delisle Robin Dennell Rob DeSalle John de Vos Emma M Finestone Huw S Groucutt Gabriele A Macho Fabrizzio Mc Manus Apurva Narechania Michael D Petraglia Thomas W Plummer J W F Reumer Jeff Rosenfeld Jeffrey H Schwartz Dietrich Stout Ian Tattersall Alan R Templeton Michael Tessler Peter J Waddell Martine Zilversmit

Introduction to Cultural Ecology Mark Q. Sutton, E. N. Anderson, 2013-12-12 All peoples and cultures face environmental issues but as this accessible text shows how they respond to such issues varies widely around the world and across human history Introduction to Cultural Ecology Third Edition familiarizes students with the foundations of the field and provides a framework for exploring what other cultures can teach us about human environment relationships Drawing on both biological and cultural approaches the authors first cover basic principles of cultural anthropology environmental studies and human biological adaptations to the environment They then consider environmental concerns within the context of diverse means of making a living from hunting and gathering to modern industrial societies detailed case studies add depth and breadth to the discussion

Body Composition in Biological Anthropology Roy J. Shephard, Roy F. Shephard, 1991-01-17 This volume provides a thought provoking perspective on the empirical and analytic study of body form and composition The techniques used for measuring body components such as fat water lean tissue bone mass and bone density are evaluated against potential gold standards

Racial Segregation and Eugenic Science Between the Wars Michael L. Blakey, 2025-07-18 This volume examines the rise and decline of racial science and its relationship to the political and social imposition of Jim Crow in the American South a racialized code of laws grounded upon an inherently racist and prejudicial pseudoscience The author argues here that the study of human beings within the emerging 18th and 19th century institutions of Western science was corrupted by the limited social intuitions of its enslaving colonizing and elitist members Western science and White societies plowed forward in continued ideological adherence to a biodeterministic imagination to justify slavery then Jim Crow racial segregation immigration restriction and other deadly and exploitative eugenic solutions of Social Darwinist thought The story is further complexified by the countervailing theories and voices of Black and Jewish intellectuals in the social and biocultural sciences in the 19th and 20th centuries such as Frederick Douglass W E B Du Bois and Montague Cobb These had profound consequences not only for the social sciences but also for the cultural life of Black Americans in the aftermath and afterlife of slavery At the same time even here the author discloses that the racialized dimensions of social science could not be fully exorcised as social science continued to construct soft line racism in that it selectively primitivized darker people and omitted White racism and colonialism from their human story African American social scientists and historians brought White racism and Black modernity to the fore Eugenics had begun to paint marginal White people Jewish and Italian immigrants to the United States as natural inferiors to Nordics or Aryans with devastating consequences in World War II Europe As the War ended the world community began its turn against racism in science and society In constructing this historical and sociological counternarrative the author provides a critical new social history that illuminates a tangled and turgid past for contemporary readers students and researchers with vital insights for anthropology sociology history cultural studies philosophy and American studies

The Dialectical Primatologist Nicholas Malone, 2021-10-24 The Dialectical Primatologist identifies the essential parameters vital for the continued coexistence of hominoids apes and humans synthesising primate research and conservation in order to develop culturally compelling conservation strategies required for the facilitation of hominoid coexistence As unsustainable human activities threaten many primate species with extinction effective conservation strategies for endangered primates will depend upon our understanding of behavioural response to human modified habitats This is especially true for the apes who are arguably our most powerful connection to the natural world Recognising the inseparability of the natural and the social the dialectical approach in this book highlights the heterogeneity and complexity of ecological relationships Malone stresses that ape conservation requires a synthesis of nature and culture that recognises their inseparability in ecological relationships that are both biophysically and socially formed and seeks to identify the pathways that lead to either hominoid coexistence or alternatively extinction This book will be of keen interest to academics in biological anthropology primatology environmental anthropology conservation and human animal studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

50 Great Myths of Human Evolution John H. Relethford, 2017-01-17 50 Great Myths of Human Evolution uses common misconceptions to explore basic theory and research in human evolution and strengthen critical thinking skills for lay readers and students Examines intriguing yet widely misunderstood topics from general ideas about evolution and human origins to the evolution of modern humans and recent trends in the field Describes what fossils archaeology and genetics can tell us about human origins Demonstrates the ways in which science adapts and changes over time to incorporate new evidence and better explanations Includes myths such as Humans lived at the same time as dinosaurs Lucy was so small because she was a child Our ancestors have always made fire and There is a strong relationship between brain size and intelligence Comprised of stand alone essays that are perfect for casual reading as well as footnotes and references that allow readers to delve more deeply into topics

Sounding the Limits of Life Stefan Helmreich, 2015-10-27 What is life What is water What is sound In Sounding the Limits of Life anthropologist Stefan Helmreich investigates how contemporary scientists biologists oceanographers and audio engineers are redefining these crucial concepts Life water and sound are phenomena at once empirical and abstract material and formal scientific and social In the age of synthetic biology rising sea levels and new technologies of listening these phenomena stretch toward their conceptual snapping points breaching the boundaries between the natural cultural and virtual Through examinations of the computational life sciences marine biology astrobiology acoustics and more Helmreich follows scientists to the limits of these categories Along the way he offers critical accounts of such other than human entities as digital life forms microbes coral reefs whales seawater extraterrestrials tsunamis seashells and bionic cochlea He develops a new notion of sounding as investigating fathoming listening to describe the form of inquiry appropriate for tracking meanings and practices of the biological aquatic and sonic in a time of global change and climate crisis Sounding the Limits of Life shows that life water and sound no longer mean what they once did and that what count as their essential natures are under dynamic revision

Verbs, Bones, and Brains Agustín Fuentes, Aku Visala, 2017-01-15 A benchmark collection of essays on the contemporary understanding of human nature engaging biology and anthropology to theology and philosophy Robin W Lovin Cary M Maguire University Professor of Ethics emeritus Southern Methodist University author of What Do We Do When No One is Listening Leading the Church in a Polarized Society The last few decades have seen an unprecedented surge of empirical and philosophical research into the evolutionary history of Homo sapiens the origins of the mind brain and human culture This research has sparked heated debates about the nature of human beings and how knowledge about humans from the sciences and humanities should be properly understood The goal of Verbs, Bones, and Brains Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Human Nature is to engage these themes and present current debates discussions and discourse for a range of readers The contributors bring the discussion to life with key experts outlining major concepts paired with cross disciplinary commentaries in order to create a novel approach to thinking about and with human natures Throughout they emphasize the importance of seeking a convergence in our views on human nature despite metaphysical disagreements They caution that if convergence eludes us and a common ground cannot be found this is itself a relevant result it would reveal to us how deeply our questions about ourselves are connected to our basic metaphysical assumptions Instead their focus is on how the interdisciplinary and possibly transdisciplinary conversation can be enhanced in order to identify and develop a common ground on what constitutes human nature A landmark volume It shows the fruitfulness of a mutually respectful and yet rigorous approach to cross disciplinary engagement William Storrar Center of Theological Inquiry Princeton NJ editor of A World for All Global Civil Society in Political Theory and Trinitarian Theology Fascinating well organized and well edited Choice
