Europe, c.1050-1150 John S. Ott,2015-12-01 This important study of episcopal office and clerical identity in a socially and culturally dynamic region of medieval Europe examines the construction and representation of episcopal power and authority in the archdiocese of Reims during the sometimes turbulent century between 1050 and 1150 Drawing on a wide range of diplomatic hagiographical epistolary and other narrative sources John S Ott considers how bishops conceived of and projected their authority collectively and individually In examining episcopal professional identities and notions of office he explores how prelates used textual production and their physical landscapes to craft historical narratives and consolidate local and regional memories around ideals that established themselves as not only religious authorities but also cultural arbiters This study reveals that far from being reactive and hostile to cultural and religious change bishops regularly grappled with and sought to affect positively and to their advantage new and emerging cultural and religious norms
