St James Ame Church Sunday School Lesson:

To Raise Up the South Sally G. McMillen, 2001-12-01 In the half century after the Civil War evangelical southerners turned increasingly to Sunday schools as a means of rejuvenating their destitute region and adjusting to an ever modernizing world By educating children and later adults in Sunday school and exposing them to Christian teachings biblical truths and exemplary behavior southerners felt certain that a better world would emerge and cast aside the death and destruction wrought by the Civil War In To Raise Up the South Sally G McMillen offers an examination of Sunday schools in seven black and white denominations and reveals their vital role in the larger quest for southern redemption McMillen begins by explaining how the schools were established detailing northern missionaries collaboration in their creation and the eventual southern resistance to this northern aid She then turns to the classroom discussing the roles of church officials teachers ministers and parents in the effort to raise pious children the different functions of men and women and the social benefits of such participation Though denominations of both races saw Sunday schools as a way to increase their numbers and mold their children white southerners rarely raised the race issue in the classroom Black evangelicals on the other hand used their Sunday schools to discuss and decry Jim Crow laws rising violence and widespread injustices Integrating the study of race class gender and religion To Raise Up the South provides an exciting new lens through which to view the turbulent years of Reconstruction and the emergence of the New South It charts the rise of an institution that became a mainstay in the lives of millions of southerners

The First Migrants Richard Edwards, Jacob K. Friefeld, 2023-08 2024 Caroline Bancroft History Prize Winner from the Denver Public Library 2024 Nebraska Book Award Winner 2024 Spur Award Finalist 2024 Jon Gjerde Prize Honorable Mention for best book in Midwestern History The First Migrants recounts the largely unknown story of Black people who migrated from the South to the Great Plains between 1877 and 1920 in search of land and freedom They exercised their rights under the Homestead Act to gain title to 650 000 acres settling in all of the Great Plains states Some created Black homesteader communities such as Nicodemus Kansas and DeWitty Nebraska while others including George Washington Carver and Oscar Micheaux homesteaded alone All sought a place where they could rise by their own talents and toil unencumbered by Black codes repression and violence In the words of one Nicodemus descendant they found a place they could experience real freedom though in a racist society that freedom could never be complete Their quest foreshadowed the epic movement of Black people out of the South known as the Great Migration In this first account of the full scope of Black homesteading in the Great Plains Richard Edwards and Jacob K Friefeld weave together two distinct strands the narrative histories of the six most important Black homesteader communities and the several themes that characterize homesteaders shared experiences Using homestead records diaries and letters interviews with homesteaders descendants and other sources Edwards and Friefeld illuminate the homesteaders fierce determination to find freedom and their greatest achievements and struggles for full equality

The Sunday-school Times ,1887 North Brevard County

John T. Manning, Robert H. Hudson, 1999 The early pioneer settlement of LaGrange Community in Brevard County in 1858 predated the missile launches on North Merritt Island by just one hundred years During that span of time the northern part of Brevard County underwent significant growth and development homes were built land farmed businesses established and churches built The citrus industry provided North Brevard with a productive agricultural economy that remained strong until the advent of the space age With the federal government's purchase of the land north of the port of Canaveral in the 1950s the Cape Canaveral Missile Test Center was established Later when more land was needed the Kennedy Space Center was built on North Merritt Island Many North Brevard towns communities and homesteads disappeared when the governmental acquisition of land forced residents to relocate but it was this new era of technology that helped shift North Brevard from the farm age to the space age

Family Visiter; and Sunday School Magazine, 1829 Centennial Encyclopaedia of the African Methodist Episcopal Church Richard Robert Wright, 1916 Who's who in Colored America, 1927 The Encyclopaedia of the African Methodist Episcopal Church Richard Robert Wright, 1947 Containing principally the biographies of the men and women both ministers and laymen whose labors during a hundred and sixty years helped make the AME Church what it is Also short historical sketches of Annual Conferences educational institutions General Departments Missionary Societies of the AME Church and general information about historical theological sociological legal and other matters concerning African Methodism and the Christian church in general The Sunday school chronicle [afterw.] New chronicle of Christian education National Sunday school union, 1877 The Black Church, a Community Resource Dionne J. Jones, William H. Matthews, 1977 The Encyclopedia of Caribbean Religions Patrick Taylor, Frederick I. Case, 2013-04-30 The Encyclopedia of Caribbean Religions is the definitive reference for Caribbean religious phenomena from a Caribbean perspective Generously illustrated this landmark project combines the breadth of a comparative approach to religion with the depth of understanding of Caribbean spirituality as an ever changing and varied historical phenomenon Organized alphabetically entries examine how Caribbean religious experiences have been shaped by and have responded to the processes of colonialism and the challenges of the postcolonial world Systematically organized by theme and area the encyclopedia considers religious traditions such as Vodou Rastafari Sunni Islam Sanatan Dharma Judaism and the Roman Catholic and Seventh day Adventist churches Detailed subentries present topics such as religious rituals beliefs practices specific historical developments geographical differences and gender roles within major traditions Also included are entries that address the religious dimensions of geographical territories that make up the Caribbean Representing the culmination of more than a decade of work by the associates of the Caribbean Religions Project The Encyclopedia of Caribbean Religions will foster a greater understanding of the role of religion in Caribbean life and society in the Caribbean diaspora and in wider national and transnational spaces Singing through Struggle Carolynne Hitter Brown, 2025-04-21 Singing through Struggle Music Worship and Identity in Postemancipation Black Churches offers an innovative look at the vital role music and worship played in nurturing Black citizenship and identity during the Reconstruction era In such border cities as Baltimore Washington DC and Philadelphia the church was where newly emancipated migrants and members of the free Black community merged identities priorities and experiences through a process of cultural negotiation Music as a sign of Black achievement and as a genuine expression of identity produced both bastions and battlegrounds in the fight for democracy The music of Black churchgoers singing together in sanctuaries as well as in homes schools and outdoors expressed resistance to uplift ideologies within and to white supremacy without Even while using hymns and music of the European sacred tradition members infused the songs they chose with new meanings relevant to their evolving concerns and situations Drawing on fresh archival sources Singing through Struggle sheds light on the unexplored gap in the study of African American religious music between slavery and the Great Migration demonstrating the continuous stream of Black creativity and dignity that existed in religious music making between gospel music and the spirituals This close up investigation of three Black congregations draws out previously forgotten stories of men and women who understood church music as key to shaping a collective purpose and civic identity Their stories demonstrate how faith music and ritual gave the Black community means for exploring a deeply complex and ever changing reality The Spirit of Missions ,1891 Includes the proceedings of the annual meeting of the Society Michigan Christian Advocate ,1895

Sunday School Times ,1893 Combined Minutes of the ... Annual Conferences of the Fourth Episcopal District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church African Methodist Episcopal Church. Fourth Episcopal District,1882
