A Living Sacrifice: Liturgy and Eschatology in Joseph Ratzinger Roland Millare, 2022-06-13
A Living Sacrifice focuses on the inherent relationship between eschatology and the liturgy in light of Ratzinger's insistence upon the primacy of logos over ethos. When logos is subordinated to ethos, the human person becomes subjected to a materialist ontology that leads to an ethos that is concerned above all by utility and progress, which affects one's approach to understanding the liturgy and eschatology. How a person celebrates the liturgy becomes subject to the individual whim of one person or a group of people. Eschatology is reduced to addressing the temporal needs of a society guided by a narrow conception of hope or political theology. If the human person wants to understand his authentic sacramental logos, then he must first turn to Christ, the incarnate Logos, who reveals to him that he is created for a loving relationship with God and others. The primacy of logos is the central hermeneutical key to understanding the unique vision of Ratzinger's Christocentric liturgical theology and eschatology This is coupled with a study of Ratzinger's spiritual Christology with a focus on how it influences his theology of liturgy and eschatology through the notions of participation and communion in Christ's sacrificial love Finally A Living Sacrifice examines Ratzinger's theology of hope charity and beauty as well as his understanding of active participation in relationship to the eschatological and cosmic characteristics of the sacred liturgy Music and the Mass David Haas, 2013

Scattered and Gathered Michael L. Budde, 2017-09-15 This volume takes its title from the first century Christian catechism called the Didache Even as this broken bread was scattered over the hills gathered together and became one so let Your Church be gathered together from the ends of the earth For Christians today these words remain relevant in an era of massive human movements voluntary and coerced hybrid identities and wide ranging cultural interactions How do modern Christians live as both a scattered and gathered people How do they live out the tension between ecclesial universality catholicity and particularity distinctive ways of being church in a given culture and context Do Christians today constitute a diaspora a people dispersed across borders and cultures that nonetheless maintains a sense of commonality and mission Scattered and Gathered Catholics in Diaspora explores these questions through the work of fourteen scholars in different fields and from different corners of the world Whether through reflections on Zimbabweans in Britain Levantines in North America or the remote island people of Chiloe now living in other parts of Chile they guide readers along the winding road of insights and challenges facing many of today's Christians Coming of Age in Jewish America Patricia Keer

Munro, 2016-05-01 The Jewish practice of bar mitzvah dates back to the twelfth century but this ancient cultural ritual has changed radically since then evolving with the times and adapting to local conditions For many Jewish American families a child's bar mitzvah or bat mitzvah is both a major social event and a symbolic means of asserting the family's ongoing connection to the core values of Judaism Coming of Age in Jewish America takes an inside look at bar and bat mitzvahs in the twenty first century examining how the practices have continued to morph and exploring how they serve as a sometimes shaky bridge between the values of contemporary American culture and Judaic tradition Interviewing over 200 individuals involved in bar and bat mitzvah ceremonies from family members to religious educators to rabbis Patricia Keer Munro presents a candid portrait of the conflicts that often emerge and the negotiations that ensue In the course of her study she charts how this ritual is rife with contradictions it is a private family event and a public community activity and for the child it is both an educational process and a high stakes performance Through detailed observations of Conservative Orthodox Reform and independent congregations in the San Francisco Bay Area Munro draws intriguing broad reaching conclusions about both the current state and likely future of American Judaism In the process she shows not only how American Jews have forged a unique set of bar and bat mitzvah practices but also how these rituals continue to shape a distinctive Jewish American identity Eucharist and Receptive Ecumenism Kimberly Hope Belcher, 2020-10-15 All doctrinal development and debate occurs against the background of Christian practice and worship By attending to what Christians have done in the eucharist Kimberly Belcher provides a new perspective on the history of eucharistic doctrine and Christian divisions today Stepping back from the metaphysical approaches that divide the churches she focuses on a phenomenological approach to the eucharist and a retrieval of forgotten elements in Ambrose's and Augustine's work The core of the eucharist is the act of giving thanks to the Father for the covenant and for the world This unitive core allows for significant diversity on questions about presence sacrifice ecclesiology and ministry Belcher shows that the key is humility about what we know and what we do not which gives us a willingness to receive differences in Christian teachings as gifts that will allow us to move forward in a new way

Mass Exodus Stephen Bullivant, 2019-05-30 Of those raised Catholic just 13% still attend Mass weekly and 37% say they have no religion But is this all the fault of Vatican II and its runaway reforms Or are wider social cultural and moral forces primarily to blame In 1962 Pope John XXIII opened the Second Vatican Council with the prophecy that a new day is dawning on the Church bathing her in radiant splendour Desiring to impart an ever increasing vigour to the Christian life of the faithful the Council Fathers devoted particular attention to the laity and set in motion a series of sweeping reforms The most significant of these centred on refashioning the Church's liturgy the source and summit of the Christian life in order to make it pastorally efficacious to the fullest degree Over fifty years on however the statistics speak for themselves In America only 15% of cradle Catholics say that they attend Mass on a weekly basis meanwhile 35% no longer even tick the Catholic box on surveys In Britain the signs are direr still Catholicism is not the only Christian group to have suffered serious declines since the 1960s If anything Catholics exhibit higher church attendance and better retention than most Protestant churches do If Vatican II is not the cause of Catholicism's crisis might it instead be the secret to its comparative success Mass Exodus is the first serious historical and sociological study of Catholic lapsation and disaffiliation Drawing on a wide range of theological historical and sociological sources Stephen Bullivant offers a comparative study of secularization across two famously contrasting religious cultures Britain and the USA
