High-Level VLSI Synthesis Raul Camposano, Wayne Wolf, 2012-12-06 The time has come for high level synthesis When research into synthesizing hardware from abstract program like descriptions started in the early 1970 s there was no automated path from the register transfer design produced by high level synthesis to a complete hardware implementation As a result it was very difficult to measure the effectiveness of high level synthesis methods it was also hard to justify to users the need to automate architecture design when low level design had to be completed manually Today s more mature CAD techniques help close the gap between an automatically synthesized design and a manufacturable design Market pressures encourage designers to make use of any and all automated tools Layout synthesis logic synthesis and specialized datapath generators make it feasible to quickly implement a register transfer design in silicon leaving designers more time to consider architectural improvements As IC design becomes more automated customers are increasing their demands today's leading edge designers using logic synthesis systems are training themselves to be tomorrow's consumers of high level synthesis systems The need for very fast turnaround a competitive fabrication market Which makes small quantity ASIC manufacturing possible and the ever growing complexity of the systems being designed all make higher level design automation inevitable
