Lewis and Clark, together with a team, set off on the 14th May, 1804 to explore the Louisiana Territory. They fought against the current in a barge and two horses, they used long poles and ropes to push the barge and move them away from the banks. It took the group around one and a half years to reach the Pacific Ocean, arriving in November 1805. On their return journey only took six months, with them coming home again in March 1806.

The West Louisiana Purchase. Thomas Jefferson's land was known as the Louisiana Territory. Most Americans believed that the west was a land of opportunity.

The California Gold Rush in 1848, ending in 1855. In time, many people from all around the world came to California in an effort to find gold and 'strike it rich'.

Miners would move to place chasing gold, but camps to live in. These would then end up like after the miners left town.

Miners needed tools - a mining pan, shovel, food, shelter and every day living supplies.

Some miners worked together, able to search larger amounts of gravel for gold using a tool known as a rocker or cradle.

The Westward Expansion was initiated by the Louisiana Purchase in 1803 when the U.S. President, Thomas Jefferson, purchased a large amount of land from the French government. Known as the Louisiana Territory, the land was located west of the Mississippi River all the way to the Rocky Mountains.

Most Americans believed that this expansion to the west was their destiny, and this became known as the Manifest Destiny.

The Elementary School Journal ,1924 My Father's Keeper Jonathan G. Silin,2007-05-15 My Father's Keeper is the moving story of Jonathan Silin a gay man in midlife who learned to care for his elderly parents as a series of life threatening illnesses forced them to make the difficult transition from being independent to being reliant on their son. Their new needs and unrelenting demands brought them into intimate daily contact and radically transformed what had been a difficult and emotionally fraught relationship. My Father's Keeper chronicles the unexpected ways in which the ideas and skills Silin acquired as an early childhood educator, a specialist in life span development, and a compassionate witness to the devastation of the HIV/AIDS crisis came together with his interest in human psychology to deeply inform his thinking about the dramatic changes in his family's life and increasingly influence his role as his father's and mother's keeper. Through the months and years of his parents' decline, Silin reflects on their history as a family, recalling the pain of his father's psychological struggles through midlife and the uneasy, imperfect process of accepting his son as a gay man and accepting his son's partner into the family. My Father's Keeper is a book about beginnings and endings, loss and redemption, the ethics of intervention, and the pressing needs of two extremely vulnerable populations.

The Most Wanted Jacquelyn Mitchard, 1999-06-01

Arley Mowbray is young, smart, and lonely. Very lonely. And then she strikes up a correspondence with a prison inmate, and under the spell of his poetic, seductive letters, falls helplessly, stubbornly in love. Annie Singer is a tough, dedicated Texas lawyer hired to help Arley unite with her beloved. She does so, but against her own better judgment, and soon she's caught up in this disturbing and dangerous romance, and in her feelings for Arley, who's become the daughter she never had. When Dillon LeGrande comes after the girl he loves, Arley finds herself both aching for his touch and fearing for her life. And Annie begins to question her own choices and to wonder what price she would pay for passion.
