Beginning in the 1880s she began to travel to England frequently and in the 1890s bought a home there where she wrote The Secret Garden. Her oldest son Lionel died of tuberculosis in 1890 which caused a relapse of the depression she had struggled with for much of her life. She divorced Swan Burnett in 1898, married Stephen Townsend in 1900, and divorced him in 1902. A few years later she settled in Nassau County, Long Island, where she died in 1924 and is buried in Roslyn Cemetery. In 1936 a memorial sculpture by Bessie Potter Vonnob was erected in her honour in Central Park's Conservatory Garden. The statue depicts her two famous Secret Garden characters, Mary and Dickon.

Childhood in Manchester Frances Eliza Hodgson was born in 1849 at 141 York Street in the Cheetham Hill township of the Borough of Manchester, England. She was the third of five children of Edwin Hodgson, an ironmonger from Doncaster in Yorkshire, and his wife Eliza Boond, from a well-to-do Manchester family. Hodgson owned a business in Deansgate selling quality ironmongery and brass goods. The family lived comfortably, employing a maid and a nurse maid. Frances was the middle of the five Hodgson children, with two older brothers and two younger sisters. In 1852 the family moved to a more spacious home with greater access to outdoor space. Barely a year later, with his wife pregnant for a fifth time, Hodgson died of a stroke, leaving the family without income. Frances was cared for by her grandmother while her mother took over running the family business. From her grandmother, who bought her books, Frances learned to love reading, in particular her first book, The Flower Book, which had coloured illustrations and poems. Because of their reduced income, Eliza had to give up their house and moved with her children to Seedley Grove, near Pendleton, where they lived with relatives in a home that included a large enclosed garden in which Frances enjoyed playing. For a year, Frances went to a small school run by two women, where she first saw a book about fairies. When her mother moved the family to Salford, Frances mourned the lack of flowers and gardens. Their home was located in Islington Square, adjacent to an area with severe overcrowding and poverty that defied description, as described by Friedrich Engels, who lived in Manchester at the time.

Haworth's (1879). By: Frances Hodgson Burnett Frances Hodgson Burnett, 2018-04-24 Frances Eliza Hodgson Burnett 24 November 1849 29 October 1924 was a British novelist and playwright. She is best known for the three children's novels Little Lord Fauntleroy (published in 1885), A Little Princess (1905), and The Secret Garden (1911). Frances Eliza Hodgson was born in Cheetham, Manchester, England. After her father died in 1852, the family fell on straitened circumstances and in 1865 emigrated to the United States, settling in Jefferson City, Tennessee. There, Frances began writing to help earn money for the family, publishing stories in magazines from the age of 19. In 1870, her mother died, and in 1872, Frances married Swan Burnett, who became a medical doctor. The Burnetts lived for two years in Paris, where their two sons were born, before returning to the United States to live in Washington, D.C. Burnett then began to write novels, the first of which, That Lass o' Lowrie's, was published to good reviews.

From a well-to-do Manchester family, Hodgson owned a business in Deansgate selling ironmongery and brass goods. The family lived comfortably, employing a maid and a nurse maid. Frances had two older brothers and two younger sisters. In 1852 the family moved about a mile further along York Street to a more spacious home in a newly built terrace opposite St Luke's Church, with greater access to outdoor space. Barely a year later, with his wife pregnant for a fifth time, Hodgson died suddenly of a stroke, leaving the family without an income. Frances was cared for by her grandmother while her mother took over running the family business. From her grandmother, who bought her books, Frances learned to love reading, in particular her first book, The Flower Book, which had coloured illustrations and poems. Because of their reduced income, Eliza had to give up their family home and moved with her children to live with relatives in Seedley Grove, Tanners Lane, Pendleton, Salford, where they lived in a house with a large enclosed garden in which Frances enjoyed playing. For a year, Frances went to a small dame school run by two women where she first saw a book about fairies. When her mother moved the family to Islington Square, Salford, Frances mourned the lack of flowers and gardens. Their new home was located in a gated square of faded gentility adjacent to an area with severe overcrowding and poverty that defied description, according to Friedrich Engels, who lived in Manchester at the time.

The Secret Garden By Frances Hodgson Burnett (Children Book) "Complete Unabridged & Annotated Version" Frances Burnett, 2020-05-05 One of the most delightful and enduring classics of children's literature The Secret Garden by Victorian author Frances Hodgson Burnett has remained a firm favorite with children the world over ever since it made its first appearance Initially published as a serial story in 1910 in The American Magazine it was brought out in novel form in 1911 The plot centers round Mary Lennox a young English girl who returns to England from India having suffered the immense trauma by losing both her parents in a cholera epidemic However her memories of her parents are not pleasant as they were a selfish neglectful and pleasure seeking couple Mary is given to the care of her uncle Archibald Craven whom she has never met She travels to his home Misselthwaite Manor located in the gloomy Yorkshire and a vast change from the sunny and warm climate she was used to When she arrives she is a rude stubborn and given to stormy temper tantrums However her nature undergoes a gradual transformation when she learns of the tragedies that have befallen her strict and disciplinarian uncle whom she earlier feared and despised Once when he s away from home Mary discovers a charming walled garden which is always kept locked The mystery deepens when she hears sounds of sobbing from somewhere within her uncle s vast mansion The kindly servants ignore her queries or pretend they haven t heard spiking Mary s curiosity The Secret Garden appeals to both young and old alike It has wonderful elements of mystery spirituality charming characters and an authentic rendering of childhood emotions and experiences Commonsense truth and kindness compassion and a belief in the essential goodness of human beings lie at the heart of this unforgettable story It is the best known of Frances Hodgson Burnett s works though most of us have definitely heard of if not read her other novel Little Lord Fauntleroy The book has been adapted extensively on stage film and television and translated into all the world s major languages In 1991 a Japanese anime version was launched for television in Japan It remains a popular and beloved story of a child s journey into maturity and a must read for every child parent teacher and anyone who would enjoy this fascinating glimpse of childhood One of the most delightful and enduring classics of children s literature The Secret Garden by Victorian author Frances Hodgson Burnett has remained a firm favorite with children the world over ever since it made its first appearance Initially published as a serial story in 1910 in The American Magazine it was brought out in novel form in 1911 A Lady of Quality Frances Hodgson Burnett,2016-11-14 A Lady of Quality first published in 1896 is one of Frances Hodgson Burnett s novels for adults and treads a completely different path to her famous work The Secret Garden It tells the story of Clorinda Wildairs and is set in the 1600s Her mother dies giving birth to her and her father has no interest in his three daughters He lives a life of debauchery while his youngest daughter picks up some interesting habits in the stables When he comes across the child and sees her riding his favourite horse he takes a fancy to her For a few years she is the renowned companion of drunkards until she transforms herself to catch a husband One is particularly taken with her but her refusal has reverberations through the years I have to say I struggled with this one The heroine is too changeable She goes from being the companion of a bunch of old men to being the prize debutante to being a perfect wife There are a lot of changes in her character the reader s meant to accept just because she s stunningly beautiful and wondrous and everyone loves her as we are told on numerous occasions Frequently I felt as if I was actually reading a novel The handiwork was evident and it was jarring Two thirds in the book suddenly becomes interesting with an unexpected event that I expected to throw the heroine into turmoil It didn t and her life continued pretty much in the same vein I felt cheated by the ending and more than a little irate at the time I d wasted with Clorinda Far more interesting though was her sister Anne who is meek and mild and knows everything Clorinda does For me Anne is the actual lady of quality and not her beautiful fabulous sister This book suffered from a lack of direction and the ability of the author to immerse herself so much in the heroine at the cost of believability Not a great read by any stretch of the imagination That Lass O'Lowrie's Frances Hodgson Burnett,2008-11 Frances Hodgson Burnett 1849 1924 was an English American playwright and author She was best known for her childrenas stories in particular The Secret Garden 1911 and Little Lord Fauntleroy 1886 Her first story was published in Godeyas Ladyas Book in 1868 Her main writing talent was combining realistic detail of workingclass life with a romantic plot Her first novel was published in 1877 That Lass oa Lowrieas was a story of Lancashire life After moving to Washington D C Burnett wrote the novels Hawthorthas 1879 Louisiana 1880 A Fair Barbarian 1881 and Through One Administration 1883 as well as a play Esmeralda 1881 written with William Gillette Her later works include Sara Crewe or What Happened at Miss Minchinas 1888 later rewritten as A Little Princess 1905 and A Lady of Quality 1896 considered one of the best of her plays The Lost Prince was published in 1915 and The Head of the House of Coombe was published in Canada in 1922 During World War I Burnett put her beliefs about what happens after death into writing with her novella The White People 1917
