Quality Assurance and University Rankings in the Asia Pacific: Country and Institutional Contexts (Penerbit USM) Koo Yew Lie, Sarjit Kaur, Morshidi Sirat, 2014-11 University league tables at national regional international levels are increasingly complex influential and controversial In spite of criticisms on robustness of methodology and bias of indicators higher education institutions continue to have an appetite for them and use or misuse them in their planning policymaking and promotion activities This publication will contribute to the much needed analysis of the implications benefits and unintended consequences related to rankings and the broader issues of quality assurance in the Asia Pacific region

The Oxford Handbook of Higher Education in the Asia-Pacific Region Devesh Kapur,Lily Kong,Florence Lo,David M. Malone,2023-01-11 Since the turn of the millennium it has become clear that the Asia Pacific Region is economically the fastest growing continent in the world and is likely to remain so for some time despite the setbacks of the COVID 19 pandemic Asia Pacific s share of the world s Gross Domestic Product GDP doubled from 15 per cent to 30 per cent between 1970 and 2017 and is projected to account for half of global GDP by 2050 With South East and South Asia also growing rapidly with over half the world s population and three of the world s five largest economies Asia is soon poised to home half of the world s middle class a class that is both the driver and the product of higher education The quality of a country s system of higher education may be seen both as a gauge of its current level of national development as well as of its future economic prospects It is therefore natural that the putative Asian Century should generate interest in the region s higher education systems which on the one hand share common characteristics a fixation with credentials and engineering high technology especially among male students and business degrees while at the same time are also highly differentiated not only across countries but also within As such a better understanding of higher education achievements failings potential and structural limitations in the Asia Pacific Region is imperative This handbook presents a number of significant country case studies and documents cross cutting trends relating to among other things the trilemma faced by governments juggling competing claims of access accessible cost and quality the balance between teaching and research the links between labour markets demand and higher education supply preferred fields of study and their consequences the rise of the research university in Asia the lure of institutions of international reputation within the region new education technologies and their effects and trends in government policy within the wider region and sub regions

^A Human Rights-Based Approach to Higher Education Jane Kotzmann, 2018-04-05 This book seeks to determine if there is still a place for the human right to higher education in the current international context It compares and contrasts two general theoretical models that are used to frame higher education policy the market based approach and the human rights based approach It contributes to an understanding of the likely effectiveness of each approach to higher education provision in terms of teaching and learning This understanding should enable the development of more improved sophisticated and ultimately successful higher education policies Academic Irregularities Liz Morrish, Helen Sauntson, 2019-08-23 This volume serves as a critical examination of the discourses at play in the higher education system and the ways in which these discourses underpin the transmission of neoliberal values in 21st century universities Situated within a Critical Discourse Analysis based framework the book also draws upon other linguistic approaches including corpus linguistics and appraisal analysis to unpack the construction and development of the management style known as managerialism emergent in the 1990s US and UK higher education systems and the social dynamics and power relations embedded within the discourses at the heart of managerialism in today's universities Each chapter introduces a particular aspect of neoliberal discourse in higher education and uses these multiple linguistic approaches to analyze linguistic data in two case studies and demonstrate these principles at work This multi-layered systematic linguistic framework allows for a nuanced exploration of neoliberal institutional discourse and its implications for academic labor offering a critique of the managerial system in higher education but also a larger voice for alternative discursive narratives within the academic community This important work is a key resource for students and scholars in applied linguistics Critical Discourse Analysis sociology business and management studies education and cultural studies Higher education for public good Noluthando S. Matsiliza, 2023-03-01

This book focuses on the knowledge area of higher education governance organisational dynamics leadership and decolonisation We have observed that governance discourse has been excluded in debates that concern the public good The construct of public good seeks to support higher education that does not support a capitalist view of profit making arguably to respond to societal demands and needs such as developmental efforts through academic functions Higher Education focuses on interconnected multi disciplinary constructs intending to provide services for the public good The issue of public good is an interesting construct that puts universities on the spot since they are expected to be responsive to environmental changes and stakeholder needs through the functioning of accountable governance structures These governance structures are compelled to comply with policy demands within external and internal environmental factors This experience has exposed universities to systematic challenges that are local regional and global and which forces them to adapt while serving stakeholders and society This book will also interrogate the governance of South African public universities in the post decolonisation era and new demands from stakeholders
