

The Time of Her Life

SHE WAS BORN in 1892 in a Texas community that has disappeared, except for the cemetery where her mother and father and little brother are buried. When the great storm destroyed Galveston in 1900, she lived at Brazoria, not far inland, and remembers being a refugee in the old courthouse while the water went down. Some of her friends, who went to school on the island, were swept away. While she was still a girl, her father—a school teacher and a storekeeper—was bedridden with a terminal disease and died young. When she was seventeen, she and her older sister, Violeta, became schoolteachers, too, to help support their mother and five surviving younger brothers and sisters. She lived in boarding houses in communities with such names as Sunshine and Honey Grove and rode a pony to her one-room schools, where some of her pupils were older than and twice as big as she was. She kept discipline and taught many country youngsters all they would ever know of book learning. She married Audie Lee Gibson, a farmer, and bore a daughter, Beatrice, and taught in a small town called Carlton. Her husband accepted a job as deputy sheriff and was shot to death by robbers in 1932, a few nights before Christmas. When her daughter's marriage ended in 1945, she trekked beyond the Pecos in a 1939 Chevrolet with Beatrice and five grandchildren to help create a new life in Fort Davis, a small, isolated mountain town. She taught for twenty years there. Among her pupils were all five of her grandchildren. "An education is the most important thing you can have," she told us, "because no body can take it away from you," and the grand children would get eight college degrees among them.

She remembers veterans of the Lost Cause parading in their gray uniforms, Teddy Roosevelt and the Spanish-American War, the first automobile that came through and scared all the horses, the Wright brothers' first flight, the Mexican Revolution, World War I, the Great Depression, World War II, the A-bomb, the Korean Police Action, the Cuban Missile Crisis, the death of President Kennedy, Neil Armstrong walking on the moon, Vietnam, Watergate, and the births of thirteen great-grandchildren. Through it all, she has been sustained by her faith in God, in country, in her unshakeable

LIFE ,1970-10-16 LIFE Magazine is the treasured photographic magazine that chronicled the 20th Century It now lives on at LIFE com the largest most amazing collection of professional photography on the internet Users can browse search and view photos of today s people and events They have free access to share print and post images for personal use Eyes on Labor Carol Quirke,2012-07-16 In the twentieth century s first decades U S workers waged an epic struggle to achieve security through unions simultaneously Americans came to interpret current events through newspaper photographs Eyes on Labor brings these two revolutions together revealing how news photography brought workers into the nation s mainstream Carol Quirke focuses on images ignored by scholars but seen by millions of Americans in the news of the day Part visual analysis part labor and cultural history Quirke analyzes over one hundred photographs stereographs of the Uprising of 1877 tabloid photos of the 1919 strike wave photo essays in the nationally popular LIFE Magazine and even photos taken by a union camera club Quirke anchors her interpretations in a lively historical narrative that takes readers from Washington D C hearings to small towns in Indiana and Pennsylvania to local union halls and to New York City boardrooms Illuminating why unions employers and news publishers vied to represent workers with the camera s eye Eyes on Labor explores how Americans understood the complex and contradictory portrait of labor they produced The Decisive Network Nadya Bair,2020-07-07 Since its founding in 1947 the legendary Magnum Photos agency has been telling its own story about photographers who were witnesses to history and artists on the hunt for decisive moments Based on unprecedented archival research The Decisive Network unravels Magnum s mythologies to offer a new history of what it meant to shoot edit and sell news images after World War II Nadya Bair shows that between the 1940s and 1960s Magnum expanded the human interest story to global dimensions while bringing the aesthetic of news pictures into new markets Working with a vast range of editorial and corporate clients Magnum made photojournalism integral to postwar visual culture But its photographers could not have done this alone By unpacking the collaborative nature of photojournalism this book shows how picture editors sales agents spouses and publishers helped Magnum photographers succeed in their assignments and achieve fame Bair concludes in the late 1960s and early 1970s when changing market conditions led Magnum to consolidate its brand In that moment Magnum s photojournalists became artists and their assignments oeuvres Bridging art history media studies cultural history and the history of communication The Decisive Network transforms our understanding of the photographic profession and the global circulation of images in the predigital world American Photo ,1998-09 Popular Science ,1975-10 Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share The future is going to be better and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better Two Million Miles Andrew MacPherson,2006 In an increasingly mobile society it s common to cross the globe many times in a single month Journeys that might once have taken weeks now take hours All of this travel is a suitable metaphor for Andrew Macpherson's rise to the pinnacle of celebrity photography. He has literally traveled the world to profile the best known people of our age: Charlize Theron, Reese Witherspoon, and George Clooney to name a few. As he's done so, he's also embarked on an artistic journey to bring something fresh and inviting to each of his images. In this quest, he employs a multitude of varied techniques, playing with form, context, and color. A note of poignancy overshadows this work: Many of the original negatives were lost in a warehouse fire. It is a testament to the strength of Macpherson's work that even scanned from magazine pages, as some of these images are, the results still radiate vitality and power. Originally from London, Andrew Macpherson is now based in Los Angeles. His body of work includes covers for Rolling Stone and Vogue. He has photographed personalities as varied as Bono, Muhammed Ali, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Sharon Stone, and John Malkovich.

SELLING POINTS: Profits from this remarkable collection will be donated to the Entertainment Industry Foundation's Women's Cancer Initiatives. 78 colour, 152 duotone photos.

"Women, Workers, and Race in LIFE Magazine" Dolores Flamiano, 2017-07-05. The tension between social reform photography and photojournalism is examined through this study of the life and work of German-born Gansel Mieth (1909-1998), who made an unlikely journey from migrant farm worker to Life photographer. She was the second woman in that role, after Margaret Bourke White. Unlike her colleagues, Mieth was a working-class reformer with a deep disdain for Life's conservatism and commercialism. In fact, her work often subverted Life's typical representations of women workers and minorities. Some of her most compelling photo essays used skillful visual storytelling to offer fresh views on controversial topics: birth control, vivisection, labor unions, and Japanese American internment during the Second World War. Her dual role as reformer and photojournalist made her a desirable commodity at Life in the late 1930s and early 40s, but this role became untenable in Cold War America when her career was cut short. Today, Mieth's life and photographs stand as compelling reminders of the vital yet overlooked role of immigrant women in twentieth-century photojournalism.

Women Workers and Race in LIFE Magazine draws upon a rich array of primary sources, including Mieth's unpublished memoir, oral histories, and labor archives. The book seeks to unravel and understand the multi-layered, often contested stories of the photographer's life and work. It will be of interest to scholars of photography history, women's studies, visual culture, and media history.

Photo-Essays about Asian American Women in Life Magazine 1936 to 1965 Karen L. Ching Carter, 2021-10-12. The editors of Life Magazine, a mass-produced picture magazine, composed picture narratives that entertained, informed, and influenced mid-twentieth-century American society. Photo Essays about Asian American Women in Life Magazine 1936 to 1965: Hidden Narratives and Breaking Stereotypes is a rhetorical analysis of how Life Magazine's photo essays represented and shaped white American middle-class attitudes toward Asian American women. In the time period studied (1936 to 1965), most white Americans were exposed to Asian women primarily through film or in illustrated drawings. Hollywood, in particular, created caricatures depicting Asian women as evil dragon ladies or sex slaves, both of which implied prostitution, which affected their legal and social standing in early and mid-twentieth-century America.

The book illustrates the ways in which the Life editors utilized the photo essay as a narrative art form to counter stereotypical and racist Hollywood depictions of Asian women as prostitutes and to envision them as part of the American middle class thereby promoting a sense of national identity that included Asians as Americans This book will be of interest to scholars in the fields of women s studies cultural studies visual culture Asian American studies and history LIFE, 1965-04-09 LIFE Magazine is the treasured photographic magazine that chronicled the 20th Century It now lives on at LIFE.com the largest most amazing collection of professional photography on the internet Users can browse search and view photos of today s people and events They have free access to share print and post images for personal use Air University Review , Visual Politics and North Korea David Shim, 2013-10-15 In the realm of international relations there are seemingly few states like North Korea Whether it is the country s human rights situation its precarious everyday life or its so called foreign policy of coercion and nuclear brinkmanship no matter what this pariah nation says and does it affects the state and stability of regional and global politics But what do we know about North Korea and how do we come to know it This book argues that visual imagery plays a decisive role in this operation By discussing two exemplary areas everyday photography and satellite imagery the book takes into account the role of images in the way that particular issues related to North Korea are understood in contemporary geopolitics Images work They do something by evoking a particular perspective of what is shown in them allowing only specific ways of seeing and knowing In this sense images are deeply political Individual methodological usages in the book can provide a procedural basis from which to start or rethink further studies on visibility both in IR and beyond It also opens an innovative path for future studies on East Asia making the book attractive to a range of specialists and thus holding an appeal beyond the boundaries of a single discipline Infantry , 1977 Army , 1982 The Indexer , 1976 Archi.Pop D.
