Representing Poverty in the Anglophone Postcolonial World Verena Jain-Warden, Barbara Schmidt-Haberkamp, 2021-06-07 Originally a concern primarily of social studies and economics poverty has emerged as a significant thematic focus and analytical tool in literary and cultural studies in the last two decades The new poverty studies are dedicated to analyzing representations of poverty and the poor in literature and the visual arts in the news media and in social practices They aim at exploring the frameworks of representation that impact the affective and ethical responses of audiences to disenfranchised groups such as the poor The contributions to this volume focus on representations of poverty in the Anglophone postcolonial world exploring for example contemporary discourses on poverty in the UK filmic representations of Nairobi slums or the agency of the poor in literature from India Post-Apartheid Gothic Mélanie Joseph-Vilain, 2021-03-19 Post Apartheid Gothic White South African Writers and Space analyzes the representation of space in recent works by South African writers By combining analytical tools borrowed from Gothic studies with geocritical and postcolonial approaches M lanie Joseph Vilain assesses the literary mechanisms utilized by Damon Galgut Henrietta Rose Innes Lauren Beukes Justin Carwright and Lynn Freed to negotiate the complexities of post apartheid identities in their fiction Joseph Vilain argues that the literary representations of emblematic places real or imagined the home the farm the city or the non places of dystopia express and reveal anxieties linked to the sharing of space in post apartheid South Africa The text successively re visits the places that have been shaping South African white writing since Olive Schreiner s African Farm in other words its topoi both in the etymological sense of place and in the literary sense of recurring themes or arguments Joseph Vilain argues that these Gothicized topoi have provided writers with tools to explore the deep anxieties generated by the redefinition of South African society as the Rainbow Nation While focusing specifically on the South African avatars of the Gothic and their interaction with local forms and genres like the plaasroman the text also discusses the impact of globalization on South African literary cultural social and political identities The Economics of Empire Maureen E. Ruprecht Fadem, Michael O'Sullivan, 2020-12-30 The Economics of Empire Genealogies of Capital and the Colonial Encounter is a multidisciplinary intervention into postcolonial theory that constructs and theorizes a political economy of empire This comprehensive collection traces the financial genealogies associated with the colonial enterprise the strategies of economic precarity the pedigrees of capital and the narratives of exploitation that underlay and determined the course of modern history One of the first attempts to take this approach in postcolonial studies the book seeks to sketch the commensal relation a symbiotic phoresy between capitalism and colonialism reading them as linked structures that carried and sustained each other through and across the modern era The scholars represented here are all postcolonial critics working in a range of disciplines including Political Science Sociology History Peace and Conflict Studies Legal Studies and Literary Criticism exploring the connections between empire and capital and the historical and political implications of that structural hinge Each author engages existing postcolonial and poststructuralist theory and criticism while bridging it over to research and analytic lenses less frequently engaged by postcolonial critics In so doing they devise novel intersectional and interdisciplinary frameworks through which to produce more greatly nuanced understandings of imperialism capitalism and their inextricable relation new postcolonial critiques of empire for the twenty first century This book will be an excellent resource for students and researchers of Postcolonial Studies Literature History Sociology Economics Political Science and International Studies among others New International Voices in Ecocriticism Serpil Oppermann, 2014-12-18 With twelve original essays that characterize truly international ecocriticisms New International Voices in Ecocriticism presents a compendium of ecocritical approaches including ecocritical theory ecopoetics ecocritical analyses of literary cultural and musical texts especially those not commonly studied in mainstream ecocriticism and new critical vistas on human nonhuman relations postcolonial subjects material selves gender and queer ecologies It develops new perspectives on literature culture and the environment The essays written by contributors from the United States Canada Germany Turkey Spain China India and South Africa cover novels drama autobiography music and poetry mixing traditional and popular forms Popular culture and the production and circulation of cultural imaginaries feature prominently in this volume how people view their world and the manner in which they share their perspectives including the way these perspectives challenge each other globally and locally In this sense the book also probes borders border transgression and border permeability By offering diverse ecocritical approaches the essays affirm the significance and necessity of international perspectives in environmental humanities and thus offer unique responses to environmental problems and that in some sense affect many beginning and established scholars

Criminal Cities Molly Slavin, 2023-05-24 Why does crime feature at the center of so many postcolonial novels set in major cities This book interrogates the connections that can be found between narratives of crime cities and colonialism to bring to light the ramifications of this literary preoccupation as well as possibilities for cultural aesthetic and political catharsis Examining late twentieth and twenty first century novels set in London Belfast Mumbai Sydney Johannesburg Nairobi and urban areas in the Palestinian West Bank Criminal Cities considers the marks left by neocolonialism and imperialism on the structures institutions and cartographies of twenty first century cities Molly Slavin suggests that literary depictions of urban crime can offer unique capabilities for literary characters as well as readers to process and negotiate that lingering colonial violence while also providing avenues for justice and forms of reparations

Waste Matters Sarah Harrison, 2016-08-12 How do those pushed to the margins survive in contemporary cities What role do they play in today s increasingly complex urban ecosystems Faced with stark disparities in human and environmental wellbeing what form might more equitable cities take Waste Matters argues that contemporary literature and film offer an insightful and timely response to these questions through their formal and thematic revaluation of urban waste In their creation of a new urban imaginary which centres on discarded things degraded places and devalued people authors and artists such as Patrick Chamoiseau Chris Abani Dinaw Mengestu Suketu Mehta and Vik Muniz suggest opportunities for an inclusive urban politics that demands systematic analysis Waste Matters assesses the utopian promise and pragmatic limitations of their as yet under examined work in light of today s pressing urban challenges This book will be of great interest to scholars and students of English Literature Postcolonial Studies Urban Studies Environmental Humanities and Film Studies African Climate Futures Carl

Death,2025-06-10 African Climate Futures shows how climate changed futures are imagined in Africa and by Africans and how these future visions shape political debates and struggles in the present Scientific climate scenarios forecast bleak futures with increased droughts floods lethal heatwaves sea level rises declining crop yields and greater exposure to vector borne diseases Yet African climate futures could also encompass energy transitions and socio economic revolutions transformed political agency and human subjectivities and radically reparative more than human climate politics At the heart of the book is an original and interdisciplinary approach It studies official climate policy strategies and fictional texts side by side as ecopolitical imaginaries that envision low carbon climate changed futures and narrate pathways from here to there It discusses net zero strategies from Ethiopia The Gambia Nigeria South Africa and Zimbabwe and draws on postcolonial feminist and queer theory arguing that Africanfuturist climate fiction can inspire more radical reparative more than human ecopolitical imaginaries These stories can help us to understand the debts we all owe imagine what reparations might entail and explore the contours of living convivially alongside more than human others in heterotopian climate changed futures Stories can help explore how we might feel in climate changed futures and can help us to narrate a path through them This book uses Africanfuturist climate fiction to inspire new ways of challenging and enriching theoretical debates in global climate change politics including how we understand the places temporalities ecologies and politics of climate futures If we want to survive to tell new stories in liveable futures then we need to urgently and radically transform carboniferous capitalism Oxford Studies in African Politics and International Relations is a series for scholars and students working on African politics and International Relations and related disciplines Volumes concentrate on contemporary developments in African political science political economy and International Relations such as electoral politics democratization decentralization gender and political representation the political impact of natural resources the dynamics and consequences of conflict comparative political thought and the nature of the continent s engagement with the East and West Comparative and mixed methods work is particularly encouraged Case studies are welcomed but should demonstrate the broader theoretical and empirical implications of the study and its wider relevance to contemporary debates The focus of the series is on sub Saharan Africa although proposals that explain how the region engages with North Africa and other parts of the world

Conscripts of Migration Christopher Ian Foster, 2019-08-23 In Conscripts of Migration Neoliberal Globalization Nationalism and the Literature of New African Diasporas author Christopher Ian Foster analyzes increasingly urgent questions regarding crises of global immigration by redefining migration in terms of conscription and by studying contemporary literature Reporting on immigration whether liberal or conservative popular or scholarly leaves out the history in which the Global North helped create outward migration in the Global South From histories of racial capitalism the trans Atlantic slave trade and imperialism to contemporary neoliberal globalization and the resurgence of xenophobic nationalism countries in the Global North continue to devastate and destabilize the Global South Britain France Italy and the United States in different ways police the effects of their own global policies at their borders Foster provides a substantial study of a new body of contemporary African diasporic literature called migritude literature Migritude indicates the work and ideas of a disparate yet distinct group of younger African authors born after independence in the 1960s Most often migritude authors have lived both in and outside Africa and narrate the experiences of migration under the pressures of globalization They also emphasize that immigration itself and stereotypes of the immigrant are entangled with the history of colonialism Authors like Fatou Diome Shailja Patel Abdourahman Waberi Cristina Ali Farah and others confront critical issues of migrancy diaspora departure return racism identity gender sexuality and postcoloniality

Losing the Plot Leon de Kock, 2016-09-01 In Losing the Plot well known scholar and writer Leon de Kock offers a lively and wide ranging analysis of postapartheid South African writing which he contends has morphed into a far more flexible and multifaceted entity than its predecessor If postapartheid literature's founding moment was the transition to democracy writing over the ensuing years has viewed the Mandelaplan project with increasing doubt Instead authors from all quarters are seen to be reporting in different ways and from divergent points of view on what is perceived to be a pathological public sphere in which the plot the mapping and making of social betterment appears to have been lost The compulsion to detect forensically the actual causes of such loss of direction has resulted in the prominence of creative nonfiction A significant adjunct in the rise of this is the new media which sets up a wounded space within which a cult of commiseration compulsively and repeatedly plays out the facts of the day on people's screens This De Kock argues is reproduced in much postapartheid writing And although fictional forms persist in genres such as crime fiction with their tendency to overplot more serious fiction underplots yielding to the imprint of real conditions to determine the narrative construction

Reading the Fantastic Imagination Dana Percec, 2014-06-26 The purpose of Reading the Fantastic Imagination The Avatars of a Literary Genre is the observation of the very hybridity of the fantastic genre as a typical postmodern form The volume continues an older project of the editor and a large number of the contributors that of investigating the current status of several popular genres from historical fiction to romance The scrutiny continues in this third volume dedicated to the fantastic imagination and the plethora of themes moods media and formats deriving from it FanLit is surely trendy even if it is not highbrow despite its noble ancestry This apparent paradox characterizes many of the literary genres en vogue today from historical fiction to romance This very contradiction forms part of the basis for this book After the success of the previous book in the series dedicated to a borderline literary genre Romance The History of a Genre was declared by Cambridge Scholars Publishing as the Critics Choice Book of the Month in January 2013 this collection of studies about the fantastic imagination takes a further step into completing a larger research project which seeks to investigate the varieties of popular fiction Although all contributors in the series teach canonical literary texts they did not hesitate to plunge into the opposite area of fictional work and moreover continued doing so even though such a project caused the raise of a few high brows Percec 2012 232 as argued in the Endnote of Romance The History of a Genre

Urban Fantasy Stefan Ekman, 2024-08-13 The first book length historical and theoretical analysis of the urban fantasy genre

Natura Urbana Matthew Gandy, 2022-03-08 A study of urban nature that draws together different strands of urban ecology as well as insights derived from feminist posthuman and postcolonial thought

Postindustrial transitions and changing cultures of nature have produced an unprecedented degree of fascination with urban biodiversity The other nature that flourishes in marginal urban spaces at one remove from the controlled contours of metropolitan nature is not the poor relation of rural flora and fauna Indeed these islands of biodiversity underline the porosity of the distinction between urban and rural In Natura Urbana Matthew Gandy explores urban nature as a multilayered material and symbolic entity through the lens of urban ecology and the parallel study of diverse cultures of nature at a global scale Gandy examines the articulation of alternative and in some cases counterhegemonic sources of knowledge about urban nature produced by artists writers scientists as well as curious citizens including voices seldom heard in environmental discourse The book is driven by Gandy s fascination with spontaneous forms of urban nature ranging from postindustrial wastelands brimming with life to the return of such predators as wolves and leopards on the urban fringe Gandy develops a critical synthesis between different strands of urban ecology and considers whether urban political ecology broadly defined might be imaginatively extended to take fuller account of both the historiography of the ecological sciences and recent insights derived from feminist posthuman and postcolonial thought
