Craft and Spirit Joseph D. Lichtenberg, 2013-09-05 In Craft and Spirit Joseph Lichtenberg writes of the craft of exploratory psychotherapy by which he means the creative skill even artistry that mobilizes the spirit of inquiry in therapist and patient and sustains it over the course of psychotherapy He expatiates on this craft as it pertains to patients of our time patients who typically bring to therapy backgrounds of insecure attachment and serious concerns about safety and retraumatization In each of ten chapters Lichtenberg formulates a different guideline for technique keyed to the broad domain of exploratory psychotherapies and are accompanied by numerous clinical illustrations These guidelines seek to foster greater therapist involvement without compromising an openness to psychological exploration They seek to sensitize therapists to the two interlacing tracks of communication that unfold in treatment those of verbal exchange and of enactive messages And they help guide therapist attention among interpenetrating domains of the patient's subjectivity the therapist's subjectivity and the intersubjective realm that emerges from their collaborative experience Fusing the humanist tradition of therapeutic inquiry with knowledge gained from recent infancy and child research Lichtenberg develops guidelines suitable to exploratory therapy with patients who communicate not only verbally but also through diverse affect states and altered cognitions Consistently illuminating on the parallels and disjunctions between caregiver child and therapist patient relationships Lichtenberg is clear about the adult to adult dimension of exploratory work in which provision is necessarily subordinate to inquiry Craft and Spirit is aimed equally at prospective patients therapists and analysts all of whom will be edified by this masterful demonstration of the ways in which a spirit of inquiry imbues the craft of psychotherapy in Lichtenberg's words with its liveliness of sustained purpose
