The Memory Of Tiresias Intertextuality And Film:

The Memory of Tiresias Mikhail Iampolski, 1998-10-26 The concept of intertextuality has proven of inestimable value in recent attempts to understand the nature of literature and its relation to other systems of cultural meaning In The Memory of Tiresias Mikhail Iampolski presents the first sustained attempt to develop a theory of cinematic intertextuality Building on the insights of semiotics and contemporary film theory Iampolski defines cinema as a chain of transparent mimetic fragments intermixed with quotations he calls textual anomalies These challenge the normalization of meaning and seek to open reading out onto the unlimited field of cultural history which is understood in texts as a semiotically active extract already inscribed Quotations obstruct mimesis and are consequently transformed in the process of semiosis an operation that Iampolski defines as reading in an aura of enigma In a series of brilliant analyses of films by D W Griffith Sergei Eisenstein and Luis Buñuel he presents different strategies of intertextual reading in their work His book suggests the continuing centrality of semiotic analysis and is certain to interest film historians and theorists as well as readers in cultural and literary studies controversial director Offers the most up to date singularly comprehensive volume on one of the monumental figures in film studies

Transfigurations Asbjørn Grønstad, 2008 In many senses viewers have cut their teeth on the violence in American cinema from Anthony Perkins slashing Janet Leigh in the most infamous of shower scenes to the 1970s masterpieces of Martin Scorsese Sam Peckinpah and Francis Ford Coppola to our present day undertakings in imagining global annihilations through terrorism war and alien grudges Transfigurations brings our cultural obsession with film violence into a renewed dialogue with contemporary theory Grønstad argues that the use of violence in Hollywood films should be understood semiotically rather than viewed realistically Transfigurations thus alters both our methodology of reading violence in films and the meanings we assign to them depicting violence not as a self contained incident but as a convoluted network of our own cultural ideologies and beliefs

World Cinemas, Transnational Perspectives Nataša Durovicová, Kathleen E. Newman, 2009-09-10 SCMS Award Winner Best Edited Collection The standard analytical category of national cinema has increasingly been called into question by the category of the transnational This anthology examines the premises and consequences of the coexistence of these two categories and the parameters of historiographical approaches that cross the borders of nation states The three sections of World Cinemas Transnational Perspectives cover the geopolitical imaginary transnational cinematic institutions and the uneven flow of words and images

The Phenomenology of Religious Belief Michael J. Shapiro, 2021-05-06 In The Phenomenology of Religious Belief the renowned philosopher Michael J Shapiro investigates how art and in particular literature and film can impact upon both traditional interpretations and critical studies of religious beliefs and experiences In doing so he examines the work of prolific and award winning writers such as Toni Morrison Philip K Dick and Robert Coover By placing their work in conjunction with critical analyses of media by the likes of Ingmar Bergman and Pier Paolo Pasolini and combining it with the work of groundbreaking thinkers such as George Canguilhem Giorgio Agamben and Slavoj Žižek Shapiro takes a truly interdisciplinary approach to the question of how life should be lived His assessment of phenomenological subjectivity also leads him to question the nature of political theology and extend the criticism of Pauline theology

Exploring Intersemiotic Translation Models Haoxuan Zhang, 2023-06-29 This volume sets out a new paradigm in intersemiotic translation research drawing on the films of Ang Lee to problematize the notion of films as the simple binary of transmission between the verbal and non verbal The book surveys existing research as a jumping off point from which to consider the role of audiovisual dimensions going beyond the focus on the verbal as understood in Jakobsonian intersemiotic translation The volume outlines a methodology comprising a system of various models which draw on both translation studies and film studies frameworks with each model illustrated with examples from Ang Lee's Crouching Tiger Hidden Dragon Lust Caution and Life of Pi In situating the discussion within the work of a director whose own work straddles East and West and mediates between cultures and semiotic systems Zhang argues for an understanding of intersemiotic translation in which films are not simply determined by verbal source material

but through the process of intersemiotic translators mediating non verbal quality determining materials into the final film The volume looks ahead to implications for translation and film research more broadly as well as other audiovisual media This book will appeal to scholars interested in translation studies film studies media studies and cultural studies in general

Is Intellectual Property Pluralism Functional? Susy Frankel,2019 The international intellectual property IP law system allows states to develop policies that reflect their national interests Therefore although there is an international minimum standards framework in place states have widely varying IP laws and differing interpretations of these laws This book examines whether pluralism in IP law is functional when applied to copyright patents and trademarks on an international basis

The Ancient World in Silent Cinema Pantelis Michelakis,Maria Wyke,2013-08-15 In the first four decades of cinema hundreds of films were made that drew their inspiration from ancient Greece Rome Egypt and the Bible Few of these films have been studied and even fewer have received the critical attention they deserve The films in question ranging from historical and mythological epics to adaptations of ancient drama burlesques cartoons and documentaries suggest a fascination with the ancient world that competes in intensity and breadth with that of Hollywood s classical era What contribution did antiquity make to the development of early cinema How did early cinema s representations affect modern understanding of antiquity Existing prints as well as ephemera scattered in film archives and libraries around the world constitute an enormous field of research This extensively illustrated edited collection is a first systematic attempt to focus on the instrumental role of silent cinema in twentieth century conceptions of the ancient Mediterranean and Middle East

The Politics of Ephemeral Digital Media Sara Pesce,Paolo Noto,2016-05-26 In the age of complex Tv of social networking and massive consumption of transmedia narratives a myriad short lived phenomena surround films and TV programs raising questions about the endurance of a fictional world and other mediatized discourse over a long arc of time The life of media products can change direction depending on the variability of paratextual materials and activities such as online commentaries and forums promos and trailers disposable merchandise and gadgets grassroots video production archives and gaming This book examines the tension between permanence and obsolescence in the production and experience of media byproducts analysing the affections and meanings they convey and uncovering the machineries of their persistence or disposal Paratexts which have long been considered only ancillary to a central text interfere instead with textual politics by influencing the viewers fidelity or infidelity to a product and affecting a fictional world s life expectancy Scholars in the fields of film studies media studies memory and cultural studies are here called to observe these byproducts temporalities their short form and or long temporal extension their nostalgic politics or future projections and assess their increasing influence on our use of the past and present on our temporal experience and consequently on our social and political self positioning through the media

The Gus Van Sant Touch Justin Vicari, 2012-09-20. Beloved, controversial, influential, the creator of such fascinating and award-winning films as My Own Private Idaho, Good Will Hunting, Elephant and Milk, Gus Van Sant stands among the great international directors, equally at home in Hollywood and the avant-garde. Examining his films thematically, this book finds consistency of vision in Van Sant's unique approach to cinema, which deploys postmodernist techniques such as appropriation, nonlinear narrative, and queering not in the service of the chic but to apply an all-inclusive viewpoint to ageless tales of life, love, and death. Van Sant's films are viewed through a multi-genre prism, including the work of Bruce Weber and Derek Jarman, the westerns of Sam Peckinpah, the music of the Velvet Underground and Nirvana, the fiction of Sam D'Allesandro, and especially the cut-up collage practice of intertextual authorship pioneered by William Burroughs.

Contemporary Russian Cinema Vlad Strukov, 2016-04-12. Analysing films by established directors such as Sokurov and Zeldovich, as well as lesser-known filmmakers like Balabanov and Kalatozishvili, this book explores the particular style of film presentation that has emerged in Russia since 2000, characterised by its use of highly abstract concepts and visual language.

Adapted for the Screen Hsiu-Chuang Deppman, 2010-04-30. Contemporary Chinese films are popular with audiences worldwide, but a key reason for their success has gone unnoticed: many of the films are adapted from brilliant literary works. This book is the first to put these landmark films in the context of their literary origins and explore how the best Chinese directors adapt fictional narratives and styles for film. Hsiu Chuang Deppman unites aesthetics with history in her argument that the rise of cinema in China, Hong Kong, and Taiwan in the late 1980s was partly fueled by burgeoning literary movements. Fifth Generation director Zhang Yimou's highly acclaimed films Red Sorghum, Raise the Red Lantern, and To Live are built on the experimental works of Mo Yan, Su Tong, and Yu Hua, respectively. Hong Kong new wave's Ann Hui and Stanley Kwan capitalized on the irresistible visual metaphors of Eileen Chang's postrealism. Hou Xiaoxian's new Taiwan cinema turned to fiction by Huang Chunming and Zhu Tianwen for fine-grained perspectives on class and gender relations. Delving equally into the individual approaches of directors and writers, Deppman initiates readers into the exciting possibilities emanating from the world of Chinese cinema. The seven in-depth studies include a diverse array of forms: cinematic adaptation of literature, literary adaptation of film, auto-adaptation, and non-narrative adaptation, and a variety of genres: martial arts, melodrama, romance, autobiography, documentary, drama. Complementing this formal diversity is a geographical range that far exceeds the cultural, linguistic, and physical boundaries of China. The directors represented here also work in the U.S. and Europe and reflect the growing international resources of Chinese language cinema With her sophisticated blend of stylistic and historical analyses Deppman brings much needed nuance to current conversations about the politics of gender class and race in the work of the most celebrated Chinese writers and directors Her pioneering study will appeal to all readers general and academic who have an interest in Chinese literature cinema and culture

Global Mandatory Fair Use Tanya Aplin, Lionel Bently, 2020-11-05 In a path breaking work Tanya Aplin and Lionel Bently make the case that the quotation exception in Article 10 of the Berne Convention constitutes a global mandatory fair use provision It is global they argue because of the reach of Berne qua Berne and qua TRIPS and its mandatory nature is apparent from the clear language of Article 10 and its travaux It relates to use that is not limited by type of work type of act or purpose and it is fair use because the work must be made available to the public with attribution and the use must be proportionate and consistent with fair practice By explaining the contours of global mandatory fair use and thus displacing the three step test as the dominant international copyright norm governing copyright exceptions this book creates new insights into how national exceptions should be framed and interpreted
